Scientific House Heating.

Modern principles applied to heating stoves produce as much heat from a 14-inch Base Burner as could formerly be got out of a furnace, at about one-fifth of the cost. We first introduced in Omaha the Regal Ventilator for hard coal, which has since been imitated by numerous stove manufacturers. We are still the agents here for the genuine article-The price is no higher than is asked for the inferior kind and we guarantee with one of these stoves a season. We back up our guarantee by offering to refund your money any time you say it won't heat 3 rooms with 2 tons of coal and pay for all the coal over 2 tons you can burn in it. Could we do more? When you take into consideration that this offer is made in good faith by a reliable and responsible house it means something and is at least worth your while to investigate. Don't take the word of the numerous fakirs who will not stop at anyting to make you believe they have something just as good; for we are sole agents for this stove in Omaha. From 8:10 to 8:25 this norning sleet was observed, and between 10:40 and 11 a genuine snow flurry, and from Atlantic, west of here, a genuine blizzard is reported. This rain, sleet and snow were accompanied by a cold wind from the north, blowing at the stiff rate of twenty-six miles an hour, with but little let-up in that velocity. Today the mercury failed to get higher than 38 degrees, the minimum being Practically no damage has been done for the reason that the crops, including corn and fruit, are now safe, and the only possible damage would be from wind. None of this is reported.

FORT DODGE, Ia., Oct. 17 .- (Special Telegram I - The earliest fall of snow in eightcan years began about 5 o'clock this mornng and is still falling. The storm was one the severest in many years. A heavy gale of wind blowing from the northwest accompanied the storm and trees and telegraph wires were blown down.

Kansas City Hit Hard.

KANSAS CITY, Oct. 17 .- The earliest winter storm in the southwest in twentyfive years and the worst early storm or record has today almost completely shut Kansas City off from wire communication with the south, the west and north. At opening of the east has alone kept the city from being totally isolated.

It has been raining for the past twentyfour hours. Shortly after midnight last night the rain turned to snow and the temperature dropped perceptibly. Steadily since then a heavy, wet snow, driven by a strong north wind, at points reaching the yelocity of a gale, has fallen.

Hundreds of telegraph and telephone poles out in the open have either been blown down he the strong wind or broken by the weight of the snow-covered wires. Railroad traffic, while more or less hampered, has not been badly interrupted, as far as can be learned.

In Katesas City, no, serious damage has resulted. Snow is reported falling at Pitts-burg, Kan., Booneville and Chillicothe, Mo., and other points in the two states. LAWRENCE, Kan., Oct. 17.-From day-

SNOW STORM STRIKES OMAHA

Squaw Winter Develops Unexpected Vigor in the Exposition City.

If it had been March 17 instead of October 17 Omahans would not have wondered so much at the storm that broke over the exposition city yesterday. As it was they could not understand why the weather bureau, so generous during the previous existence of the exposition, should make the start of its last fortnight so inauspicious. Some suggested that it was all because Chief Moore of the weather bureau had been robbed of $58 while in the city last week. but his friends said he was not a revenge-

"Guess the North Dakota folks brought their weather with them" was the most familiar remark heard about town during the day. But Colonel Lounsbury of the North Dakota commission resented this, saying: "This weather is three months shead of our game." It was considerably ahead of the game usually played hereabouts and caught the street car company with open cars and lots of the citizens with summer underwear. No one was expecting such a storm in the middle of October and the exposition visitors who had been invited here by their Omaha friends smiled and said: "Ough, I thought you said October was your balmy month. Do you call these balmy zephyrs," meanwhile brushing the veather. The Second Nebraska regiment, to hold on their hats.

The storm was reported about fifty miles partment, as they are able to enjoy the shelto the east and fifty miles to the west of ter of substantial bar acks. All of the Omaha terminal railroads did a profitable amount of passenger traffic and most of them brought in their trains surprisingly close to schedule time. The two telegraph companies, the telegraph departments of the railroad companies and of the newspapers, the

It was hard work to get a coal office in the city on the 'phone as everyone in town seemed to be ordering coal about the same time.

The wind began blowing from the north on Saturday evening, and the mercury dropped several degrees. During that night a rain set in which continued until nearly Sunday noon. It was cloudy all day Sunday the wind continuing to blow from the north and during that night the rain turned into The thermometer showed 32 degrees at 7 o'clock yesterday morning, the first time this season that a freezing mark has killing frost is recorded, although, owing to the wind and clouds, there was no frost killing frost is September 21, so that of this

Cut Off Telegraph. The snow was so heavy as to cut off all elegraphic communication with Chicago, and the weather office had received no reorts from the north and northwest at 11 Of the reports received, North Platte showed a temperature of 34, with no precipitation and clearing weather; Dodge City, Kan, had 32 degrees, with a killing frost; Santa Fe had 34 degrees, a killing frost and clear weather; Cheyenne, Denver and Pueblo each had 26 degrees, with clear weather, and Sioux City reported a forty mile wind and cloudy weather.

The coldest October shown in the record of twenty-eight years in the local weather office was in 1873, when the mean temperature was 48; the lowest temperature recorded in the month during that period was 16 degrees on October 25, 1887, and the neaviest snow for the month was four and one-half inches on October 29, 1894. The wind during the morning was trong it kept the air filled with fine par ticles of snow, at times almost blinding the vision. The snow melted about as soon as t struck the ground except in the most ex osed places on the northwest side. The sidewalks became ladened with slush and the streets were wet. While traveling was isagreeable, the weather was not uncomfortably cold, although the wind was cuting when one had to face it.

The unexpected snow storm hit the army posts in the Department of the Missouri very hard. INGERSOLE'S NEW LECTURE

Chicago People Crowd Columbia Theater to Hear the Noted Agnostic.

"SUPERSTITION" SUBJECT OF DISCOURSE

Speaker Says He Does Not Belley God Had Anything to Do with the Victory at Santingo.

CHICAGO, Oct. 17,-Colonel Robert G. ngersoll last night delivered his new lecure on "Superstition" at the Columbia theater to standing room only. Despite the crowd the throng was attentive and applause punctuated the lecture from the opening paragraph to the end. Superstition, Colonel Ingersoll said, was o believe without evidence, to believe against evidence; to mistake a guess for a demonstration; to disregard the true relation between facts, between causes and effects; in fact, superstition was to believe in the supernatural.

"All superstitions occupy the same level," he said, "whether they are trivial or important: none of them has any foundation in evidence. For centuries and centuries it was believed that eclipses of the sun and moon were the precursors of pestilence and famine, or the death of kings. All strange appearances in the heavens, the northern lights, the circles about the moon, the sun dogs, filled our intelligent ancestors with terror and they fell on their knees and did their best with sacrifice and prayer to avert the threatened disaster.

"Men believed in miracles. What is a miracle? A miracle is an act performed by a master of nature without regard to the facts in nature. If a man could make a stone falling decrease in ratio as it approached the ground, that would be a miracle in chemistry; if he could make a perfect circle, that would be a miracle in cometry; if he could make twice four nine, that would be a miracle in mathematics; if an orthodox minister could prove his creed that would be a miracle in theology. Miracles are not only impossible, but they are unthinkable to any mind capable of thinking. I have never found in any religion a God of sense described. No man now in whom the torch of reason burns believes in

Air Full of Devils.

"If the Old Testament be true, the air is he said, 'You give up witchcraft and you give up the Bible.' It was not God's plan to develop the human brain so that man would comprehend between right and wrong. Where is heaven and where is hell? No one knows. The telescope has taken away the ancient heaven-the New Jerusalemand the revolving world has quenched the flames of the ancient hell. The evidences of the existence of a God and the existence of a devil are exactly the same; they are both references; each one is a 'perhaps.' They have not been seen; they have not ventured on the horizon of the senses.

"I do not thank God for the victory a Manila. I thank Dewey-the bravest admiral that ever trod a deck. I thank the brave men and officers under him; I do not thank God. I do not thank God for the destruction of Cervera's fleet. I thank the brave officers and men. I do not thank God for the capture of Santiago. I thank the heroes, I thank the regulars, white and black; I thank the men in the trenches; the volunteers, the Rough Riders, the wounded and maimed; I thank the worn and fainting; the officers, but I thank the gunners. gunners with cool-heads and warm hearts, the gunners with eyes like eagles and nerves like steel. I say, give the heroes the credit; give them our gratitude, and when the heart of man bursts into blossom gratitude is the perfume of that flower. Give the heroes the eredit; do not give it to the unknown, to a guess, to a vision of the clouds; give it to the men who planted the flag in fearless victory, to the heroes who fought, to the heroes who died for the right and for the honor of the great republic.

Cause of Santiago Victory.

"I do not believe that any God gave us the victory at Santiago, and I will tell you why. Spain at one time owned half the gold of the world. At that time the nations were in the darkness of superstition, and Spain had her creed. Some nations began to think; been shown. This is also the mark at which Spain continued to believe. Some of the nations began to interest themselves in science; Spain told her beads and prayed to the Virgin. Her prayers were never answered. Some of the nations entered the dawn of a new day, but Spain loved the blessed mater. Other nations grew great; Spain grew small. Day by day her power waned, but her faith increased. One by one her colonies were lost, but she kept her creed. She gave her gold to superstition her brain to priests, but she counted her beads. Only a few days ago, blessed by her priests, she waged war against the great republic. Bishops blessed her armies and sprinkled holy water on her ships. But her armies were defeated, her ships beached and burned. The guns had been sprinkled with holy water and the gunners banged away and left it to the Holy Ghost to give proper direction. She sued for peace, but she still has her creed; her superstition is not lost, "Superstition ever has been, ever will be, the enemy of liberty. It is the enemy of science. Superstition created all the gods and all the angels and all the devils.

"All things have been believed except the things that appeal to the senses of living man. The foundation of superstition is ignorance. It is the mother of all misery. The imagination never can paint the agonies that have been endured by reason of supersti-the party which reached Washington from Omaha on the Baltimore & Ohio last evening. Every one on the trip was so royally entertained that little time was se cured for reading the newspapers. This accounts for the fact that General Greeley knew nothing of the wreck of the steamer Mohegan until a few hours before the train reached Washington. The news came as a great shock. General Greeley had a daughter in Europe who was to have returned on one of the steamers of the Atlantic Transport company. On reaching Washington, General Greeley hastened to his home to prepare a cablegram of inquiry. He was delighted when he found a dispatch awaiting him, announcing that his daughter had not waited for the Mohegan but had sailed upon another steamer of the line and is due to arrive in New York tomorrow.

The strength of the Spanish garrison in Havana is estimated at volunteers and regulars. This strength ould have been increased materially by calling provincial troops to Havana. The exact number of arms in Havana is not known but the armament on hand in depots, artillery parks and stores of all divisions of the army in the Island of Cuba is: Mauser rifles and carbines, 131,015; Remington rifles, 137,974; arms of private guerrillas, 14,000; total 282,989. Out of this number only 20. 000 are believed to be new. Of cartridge here are 5,000,000. Great ingenuity has been displayed in the construction of sunken masked batteries Closely underlying much of the soil in the vicinity of Havana is coral rock. Easily excavated trenches are cut into it and from short distances nothing is seen to indicate the existence or extent of defensive works. REFUTES MORE OF SEAMAN'S TALK

for Last Fifteen Years.

EXCESS FOR PAST MONTH IS 33 PER CENT

mports for the Last Nine Months, on the Contrary, Show a Big Decrease-A Striking Record.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17 .- Exports for the first nine months of this year show a healthy increase and a large decrease in imports is recorded. According to the Bureau of Statistics the exports for September indicate that this year will show the largest export record in the history of the government. For the nine months ending September 30 the exports for 1898 were $869. 127,868 against $746,238,242 for the corresponding time last year and the imports fell from $588,754,903 in 1897 to $475,172,777 in

No September, with the single exception of last year, has shown such large exports and no nine months period of the calendar year has come within $100,000,000 of the record made in the first nine months of this year. Exports for September were $90,495,638, while no preceding September, except that of 1897, ever exceeded $86,000, 000, the average for the last fifteen years being $68,000,000. Since 1884 the average for the nine months has been $604,000,000. Thus the September exportations and those for the entire nine months were in each case more than 33 per cent in excess of the average for the corresponding periods during the last fifteen years.

Exportations of breadstuffs in September of this year while materially less than for last year, are 30 per cent greater than for September, 1896, and double those of 1895. Provision exports for September were larger than those of last year and the quarter exceeded by more than $20,000,000 the average of the corresponding period during the preceding three years.

Imports for the year present an equally striking record, the total for the nine months being less than for the corresponding period since 1885. They were more than $100,000,000 below the average for the corresponding period during the last decade and excepting 1893 and 1897 show the small-est importations in many years.
