

GOSSIP FROM THE GRIDIRON

Last Rites of the Foot Ball Season Are Performed by the Prophets.

ALL-AMERICAN TEAM HAS BEEN CHOSEN

Eleven Men Against Whom None Others Can Pre-empt the Grid-Iron-Captain and Manager Properly Disciplined.

Now that the big intercollegiate foot ball season has closed there is much interest, as usual, in the makeup of what has been termed an "all-American" team.

At the end, one man will be accepted by pretty nearly all critics without hesitancy. By this is meant Palmer, Princeton's left end.

At the tackle two men showed forth more prominently than all others, two captains—Hillebrand of Princeton and Chamberlain of Yale.

The best guard of the year was Hare of Pennsy. His great runs from the guards-back, together with his fairly good punting, placed him in a class almost by himself.

Overfield of Pennsy, the fastest center of last year, seems to be again the crack at this position, even if he was not so good.

Jafray of Harvard was the surprise of the season, and in giving second place, only because he was unable to play through the two championship games.

Daly was easily the star quarter on account of general all-around work. He excelled in catching kicks and making punts.

At fullback there will be a diversity of opinion. On account of his long punting, noticeable for a couple of seasons, Hirschberger of Chicago might be chosen by many.

Barney, the Des Moines strong man, was one of the members of the Lattrobe foot ball team of Pittsburg. He will be in Omaha again in the course of a few weeks.

Do you feel generally miserable, or suffer with a thousand and one indescribable bad feelings, both mental and physical, among them low spirits, nervousness, weariness, listlessness, weakness, dizziness, feelings of fullness or bloating after eating, or sense of heart short breath on exertion, slow circulation of blood, cold feet, pain and oppression in chest and back, pain around the loins, aching and weariness of the lower limbs, drowsiness after meals, but nervous wakefulness at night, languor in the morn-

O'Dea are of the latter class, Reid of Harvard of the former. The placing of Reid's kicks, together with his superior line bucking, will put him ahead of Hirschberger, who cannot rank better than second.

Harvard will lose more valuable players than any other eleven next year. Cochrane, Donald, Jafray, Haughton, Dibblee and Warren will be among the missing.

Head Coach Forbes of the Harvard eleven took occasion during the last week to criticize statements made in The Bee a week ago to the effect that in past years blue blood, rather than merit, frequently decided the makeup of the Harvard foot ball eleven.

As a Harvard man and as the present coach of the Crimison football team, Mr. Forbes could certainly do nothing else, but the past history of Harvard foot ball is calculated to make his rebuttal rather weak if one takes the trouble to investigate.

The action that was taken by the Athletic council of the University of Nebraska during the last week regarding the game that was played by the university eleven with the Denver Athletic club will be applauded by those who have the interests of our amateur sport at heart.
