FUNERAL OF MRS. HANSCOM

Remains of One of Omaha's Pionee Women Followed to the Grave by Sorrowing Friends.

The funeral services for Mrs. A. J. Hanssom were held at 2 o'clock yesterday afterpoon at the family residence at 2004 Douglas street. The halls and parlors of the home were filled with friends of the family who had called to pay their last respects to one they had known for years, for a large per cent of those present were those whose names have been connected with the history of Omaha for years back. These, with the one in the casket before them, had been present at every step made in advance by the city until the period of life had been reached when each wondered who would be the next to go, breaking the circle of the hardy ploneers.

The casket was in the parlor, almost supported by a bier of flowers. These were sen loose and in boquets, with a liberal num-ber of designs. All the rooms were rich with their perfume. It required two carriages to convey the floral tributes to the The services were conducted by Dean Campbell Fair of Trinity cathedral and the Episcopal service for the dead was read by him, assisted by the Trinity choir, which, in addition to the regular music of the service, sang "Jesus Lover of My Soul." The dean read a selection of scripture, and spoke a few comforting words for the members of the bereaved family. At the close of the service the remains were taken to Prospect Hill cemetery to be interred in the family lot there. The following were the pall bearers: B. B. Wood, H. W. Yates, J. H. Millard, Dr. George L. Miller, W. H. McCord, J. C. Cowin, M. Barlow and C. E.

Two gold and a silver medal have been awarded to the Val. Blats Brewing company on its products by the Transmississippi and International Exposition at Omaha, which has recently been brought to a successful conclusion. The gold medals were awarded to the Val. Blats export beer and to the Val. Blatz Malt-Vivine for quality, in competition with the world, and the silver medal was awarded on the general display of products made by the company at the exposition. The managers of the brewing company are much elated over the awards, as they have a right to be, for their products were not only brought into direct compe-as they have a right to be, for their products were not only brought into direct competition with the leading brewing companies of this but with those of many of the countries of the old world.

The medals are circular in form, the center figure, in relief, being that of Commerce, with facteries, railreads, mines and other suggestions of the industries of the country in the background. On the reverse is a wreath of faurel and in the center the nature of the award is engraved. The gold and silver medals are alike in design and are about two inches in diameter.

NOTES FROM THE CITY HALL

School Board Members Talk of What

Changes They Want Made in the Charter.

President Jordan of the Board of Education has appointed Bandhauer, Sears and Thomas upon the special committee which is to consider amendments to the school laws of the state for submission to the coming session of the legislature. The remainder of the committee is made up of President

Jordan, Superintendent of Schools Pearse and Secretary Gillan. The time for the first meeting of the committee has not been set

One of the most important matters that the committee will discuss and which will be of interest to the taxpayers will be a proposition to reduce the interest that outstanding warrants draw. The rate at present is 7 per cent and this becomes a considerable source of expense to the school district during the course of the year. For example, there are outstanding at present about $100,000 worth of school warrants upon which interest is accumulating at the rate

It is the intention to reduce the interest to 8 per cent at least, and possibly to 5 per cent. Some of the members of the board are of the opinion that the latter rate is too low and that consequently there will be no demand for the paper. Others, however, think otherwise and find themselves supported in this opinion by School Treasurer Edwards and Deputy Fead, who do not believe that any difficulty will be found in floating warrants at 5 per cent. If the 2 per cent reduction is made the saving to the school district will run into four figures

Several members of the board, Bandhauer being one of the most prominent in the number, are desirous of seeing some changes exist on the statute books today, but they are not very rigorously enforced and, in fact, strict enforcement of the law and the com-
