Total .....$3,483,073.73 These figures, wherein they represent by the totals that the delinquent list is increasing, are somewhat deceptive, as the total in the first column includes the tax levied in 1897 and 1898, with no corresponding figures on the old table with which to make comparisons. It will be noticed that the delinquent list for each of the years back of 1894 has been steadily decreased. And even this decrease does not show the real amount of back tax paid in, as the interest which is paid in every instance is not figured in the decrease of the list. Thus for the years prior to 1885 the interest on a tax payment is larger than the tax itself, and for the years following 1885 it forms a considerable part of the full amount paid, but is not shown in this set of figures. Thus it is pos-sible for the delinquent tax list to continue to grow larger every year, while the amount paid in by the counties, including interest, is really larger than the delinquent list. A comparison of 1898 with 1897 on the tax that was delinquent at a given time in each year will show that the delinquent list increased show that the amount paid in was many thousands of dollars greater than the delinquent list. Thus if the delinquent list draws 10 per cent interest and the people are paying taxes faster than ever, but at a ratio that falls below 10 per cent, the interest item will wipe out the increase in payments and the delinquent list will grow larger. This indicates that if there was no old delinquent list and the people paid the same amount each year that is now be-

It seems that in Douglas county the amount stated should have been $268,000 larger, a set of railroad bonds never having been registered, and when they were refunded there was again a failure to register on the books of the auditor. In Otoe county a reduction of $65,000 from the figures shown as asked for, that amount having been refunded some time ago, and the clerk having failed to furnish a certificate to the auditor. > FACILITATES LAND TRANSFER Benefits of the Torrens Method Recently Put in Operation in Illinois.

LINCOLN, Neb., Dec. 14 .- To the Editor of The Bee: I enclose herewith clipping from the Cincinnati Price Current reference to land title transfers. The real estate exchanges of Omaha and other cities of Nebraska ought to take this matter up and have a law passed at the coming ses-sion of the legislature similar to the Cook county, Illinois, law, or embracing the principal features of the Torrens system, fre quently termed the Australian method. The present law requiring deeds and necessitating abstracts of title and the examination of the latter not infrequently prevents the smaller transactions in real estate, owing to the fact of the expense of transfer. If any action is taken it should be attended to at once, as the legislature meets in January, by either the real estate men or the Commercial club of Omaha.

Of course what little opposition that may manifest itself would only come from abstracters, fand title guaranty companies and attorneys whose business it is to examine W. H. VORE.

The article referred to above is as follows Real estate men in Kansas City received with much satisfaction the announcement of the decision of the supreme court of Illinois, handed down Monday, sustaining the Torrens land title act. The decision is a signal vic-tory for the real estate board of Chicago, which has flught persistently for eight years for the adoption of a less complex and less expensive method of recording and transferring land titles. It is a crushing defeat for the three abstract companies which had a monopoly of the business of preparing abstracts of titles in Cook county. It will lead to a revival of the efforts of the real estate men of Kansas City and St. Louis to have a law passed in Missouri similar to those now in force in Massachusetts and Cook county, Illinois, and which have been in operation successfully for over a century in Prussia, Bavaria and other European countries, and for a number of years in Australia, Ontario, British Columbia and Manitoba. These efforts have been suspended pending a decision of the constitutionality of the Illinois law, which applies to Cook county only.

The law is optional with property owners, who may take advantage of it or continue to pay from one-tenth to one-third the value of their holdings for abstracts of title and legal opinions upon the abstracts, and then wait for months before they can complete transfers. The system is simplicity itself. It gives to the county recorder the added dignity of registrar of titles. The owner of real estate who wishes to take advantage of the new law applies to any court of record, accompanying his application with an abstract of the title to the property brought up to the time of making the application. Expert examiners pass upon the abstract, and may take testimony the same as a master in chancery in any other chancery proceedings. They report to the court which is given power to investigate and determine all questions that may arise concerning the title or any incumbrances upon the property and by its decree finally determine and setwill show that the delinquent list increased in size about $8,000, while a computation of title is incontestable, thus wiping out all the payments made, including interest, will counter claims and forever quieting the title to the property.

The decree of the court being filed with the registrar, he is required to register the title in pursuance of its directions. The owner of the property is given a certificate which is as easily transferred on the books of the registrar as is a certificate of stock in a corporation on the books of the con-cern. This certificate is as conveniently used as security as a note or bond or other collateral. The cost of registration is $17 and the fee for a transfer is $3. The transthe same amount each year that is now being paid, the receipts would be larger than the levy.

The publication of the bonded indebtedness of the counties in The Bee this morning, with special comment on the condition in Otoe and Douglas counties, brought about Half a dozen Kansas City abstract firms have a monopoly of the business in Jackson county. The property owners of Kansas City have frequently had their attention forcibly directed to the cumbersome and ex-pensive method of registering land titles in vogue in this state by the large bills ren-dered for abstracts. This was emphasized a year ago when the abstract men combined and forced the prices up 100 per cent. It is probable that strong pressure will be brought to bear upon the next legislature to induce it to pass a law similar to the Illinois statute which has just been declared con-

NO DIRECT EVIDENCE IS FOUND. Only Circumstantial Showing Against

Tunman and Cole.
FRANKLIN, Neb., Dec. 16.—(Special Telegram.)—The body of Peter Kreichbaum was sent this morning to Burlington, Ia., in charge of his brother. Although the coroner's jury found Tunman and Cole guilty of the crime, yet there is nothing but circumstantial evidence against them. The appearance of guilt, however, is strong.

Tunman and Cole were seen December 2 between 4 and 5 p. m. by three witnesses ne mile south of this place going south in a buckboard, and having with them a shotgun and spade. They were again seen three miles south of town by one witness about o'clock. They were not again seen until Monday when a man who sold Kreichbaum some corn was making the delivery. He found Tunman and Cole in possession. Tunman said that he had bought the personal property and leased the farm for five years, and that Kreichbaum had gone to Omaha for medical treatment. On December 6 two men were at the Kreichbaum place with corn and were told the same story. On Wednesday Tunman and Cole commenced hauling in fat hogs to this market, which aroused curiosity, and the dead man's brother was notified.

Another strong point was the statement of Cole that Tunman went to the Kreichbaum farm and stayed all night December 2, and also that he knew Tunman did not pay cash for the property. Tunman for his part claimed he paid $250, while the personal property alone was easily worth $1,000. On November 29 Kreichbaum sold hogs here which brought $150, and it was supposed he had this money on his person, but t has since been found that he was paid with a check, and as yet it has not been cashed. The time for hearing has not ye been set.

Men Who Found Body of Thomas Jansen Describe the Occurrence. STOCKVILLE, Neb., Dec. 16 .- (Special.) -A jury was not obtained in the Hawkins trial until late Wednesday afternoon. When the case was finally begun Frank Green, who discovered the body, was the first witness called. He said that he had descended well on the A. Y. Mr. Crouch of Topeka, Kan., a brother-inlaw of the dead man, identified the clothing and shoes as those which were worn by Thomas Jansen.

But Mr. Smyth would have deserved greater congratulations had be managed the case better in the district court and saved the state the expense and delay of appeal and re-trial."

According to the logic employed in this quotation I am to be blamed when I win and blamed when I lose and the time never comes when I am entitled to credit. This is characteristic of the manner in which I have been treated by your Lincoln correspondent during the last year and a half. In that time he has written several articles bout my office, which in the main were false. An illustration of this appears in his last effusion, in which he states that my office has asked for a deficiency appropriation in the sum of $2,000, when, as a matter of fact, the request is for only $200, and that for printing briefs in cases which it is my duty to look after. The number and amount of those briefs depend upon the number of cases litigated and that number is not subject to my control. In the same article he charges me with employing asistants in my office in violation of the coustitution, when he knows his statement is false, if he knows anything at all about the matter. But while these things are true of your correspondent, I did not believe that you knowingly approved of his course and hence I am astonished by the editorial which I have quoted above. The supreme court in its opinion just handed down in the Bartley case says of certain instructions given by the district court that they were radically wrong, and follows that statement with this: "There was requested for the state an instruction which, if it had been given in place of the one read, the error would have been avoided." This instruction which I requested, and which the supreme court says should have been given, directed the jury to return a verdict in favor of the state. Had it been given-had my view of the law been taken, and the supreme court The new addition to the Central school says it should have been taken—the state would have won, and yet you say that I am responsible for the state's failure to win. Is not this stretching matters a little farther than even the bitterest partisanship would warrant? Or do you proceed on the theory that all methods, no matter how devoid of justice, are proper when making war upon a public official? However that may be, I thank you for the opportunity to state the facts and I am willing to leave the rest in the hands of a fair-minded public.

Report of University Regents.

The regents of the State university made public their report on the legislative budget this evening. The estimate of expenses for the biennium to be met by the state is as follows: Salaries, $214,375; necessary expenditures, $97,125; building and improvements for state farm, $35,000; annex to gymnasium building, $30,000; new boilers, boiler house and heating apparatus, $20,000; total, $396,500. The amount appropriated by the last legislature was: Salaries, $197,000; necessary expenses, $55,500; new wing, $30,-

It is explained that the increase in the salary fund is made because of the large inent when the body was unearthed in the old crease in attendance, calling for a larger force of instructors. The expenditure item body of Jansen, whom he knew during his is to cover the running expenses, increased life. From the postmortem examination he in amount because of the expansion of the believed that death resulted from several institution. It also includes $6,000 for new blows with a heavy blunt instrument, which steam tunnels, $5,000 for books, $1,000 of which goes to start a law library; $3,000 for maintaining the art school, which has heretofore only been housed by the university; $1,000 for co-operating with the general government in the botanical survey and $1,000 for printing reports of same. The other extras that go to make up the total clothed, including an overcoat, which was are said to be necessary to meet the growing lemands of the university.

The $35,000 for the state farm improvements includes the expense of a new building to be the home of the farm school, nev heating apparatus and steam power, green house and necessary apparatus. The annex and the main present building are to be thrown together with a movable partition, so that there can be separate gymnasiums for boys and girls and also a chapel. By moving the partitions it is planned that this building can be thrown into one room and thus form an auditorium that will accommodate as many people as can now get in the largest opera house here, thus making room for the commencement and charter day exercises The upper floor of the new annex is designed to be utilized for office rooms. In the event of securing the annex it is proposed to turn the present chapel into quarters for the law school and the gallery to se changed into a second story that will make eight lecture rooms. The regents have figured up that the new buildings and increase in capacity asked for by the different departments amount to $276,000, illustrating the great demand made for room. It is estimated that to complete the Mechanic Arts building $60,000 will be needed, but this der and is not included in the budget. The regents have a revenue plan to pre ent to the legislature to take the place of the appropriations for the new buildings They will ask for the introduction of a bill calling for a 5-16 mill levy on the grand assessment roll to be used as a permanent building and improvement fund, this levy to be in force for five years.

The regents approve the proposal to reenact the free high school law and in case it is adopted they will recommend the dropping of the preparatory school, with the exception of the departments of trigonometry and some of the languages.

Chancellor Canfield of the Ohio university has been invited to deliver the charter day address and has accepted conditionally.

Peter Jansen was in the city today and,
while depying that he was making an active fight for the senatorship, admitted that he would like to be the man selected. He said woll like to be the man selected. He said he deemed it a great honor to be mentioned for such a position. In this connection it is remarked that Jansen is leading the fight being waged by the members who are opposed to going into a caucus on the senatorial question. "I believe," said Mr. Jansen, "that every man should be allowed to go in and vote his own sentiments as his name is called. I believe the people of the state want their representatives to come out, and say who they are for without being bound and gaged by a caucus."

The delegates were occupied today in discussing the Philadelphia agreement, which has just expired. By it all visiting clubs received 12½ cents for each person who entered the grounds during the last six years, and Colonel John I. Rogers is anxious that this agreement should be continued. He argues that the Philadelphia club has paid out more money to visiting clubs on this basis than any other club and produced statistics to back up his assertion.

BALTIMORE, Dec. 16.—News of the great base ball deal, by which the Orioles will wear the uniform of the Brooklyn Bridegrooms next year, was not a surprise to enthusiasts in this city, rumors of some such deal having been current for several weeks. The sporting element had hoped against hope that the magnates would not find it necessary to transfer the strength of the Baltimore team. Many expressions of regret were heard that Baltimore must again be content with a second-rate ball club, and although "Billie" Barnie, who is slated to manage the "scrub" team, is popular in Baltimore, it is thought that it will be hard to induce the dycd-in-the-wool patrons of the game to pay their money to see second-rate ball.

YANKTON, S. D., Dec. 16 .- (Special.)-Bishop Hare is working for a new divorce law for the state; one that will prohibit the granting of a decree except for biblical causes and great personal abuse. If this law shall be so modified it will result in the highest price of the day and adding another to his string of great pacers. Shadeland Norwood, with a record of 2:134, was purchased by W. Long of Pittsburg for $900 and Royal Rene brought a like amount. The prices were excellent and bidding brisk. wiping out the divorce industry. Ninetynine out of every 100 divorces granted in this state are for desertion, and in 75 per cent of these cases there is little doubt but there is collusion on the part of the parties to the divorce. The morality of the state, especially in the larger towns, has been, therefore, affected. If the legislature will enact a stringent divorce law it will receive the endorsement of the people.
