DR. DENISE PASSES AWAY

Death Comes to Another Old Resident of the City.

END OF A LIFE OF GREAT USEFULNESS

One of the Leaders in the Medical Profession Goes to that Land from Which No Traveller Returns.

Dr. Jacob Conover Denise died Friday afternoon at 12:15 at his home, 1901 Dodge street, of a complication of diseases brought on by an attack of the grip. He had been unconscious since Sunday and his death was hourly expected. He was 70 years of age. The funeral will occur Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Dr. Denise was born in what was known as the "Jersey Settlement" in Montgomery county, Ohio, December 3, 1828. His early life was spent in the growing public schools. He later attended the academy at Franklin, O., and the Farmers' college at Pleasant Hill. Leaving school in 1850 he entered the packing house of Denise & Schen in Burlington, Ia. In 1851 he commenced the study of medicine in Dayton, O. The following two years were spent in the Ohio Medical college in Cincinnati. He entered the Jefferson Medical college in Philadelphia in 1854 and graduated the following year. He established himself for practice in Dayton, O., and remained there until the war broke out, when he was commissioned assistant surgeon of the Twenty-seventh Ohio volunteers. In 1863 he became surgeon with the rank of major. He resigned his commission in 1864 and during the following year was acting surgeon of the United States army and executive officer of the Tripler hospital in Columbus, O. From 1865 to 1867 he was surgeon in the Ohio Soldiers' home.

Dr. Denise came to Omaha to visit his sister, Mrs. Margaret Barklow, in 1866 and liked the state so well that he returned on May 17, 1867, to make it his home. He was appointed receiver of the United States land office at Grand Island by General Grant in 1869 and filled that position until 1872. He was absent long enough, however, to return east and wed Miss Mary C. Collier of Philadelphia October 27, 1870. At the conclusion of his term as receiver he came back to Omaha and has been here ever since, with the exception of a brief time in 1887, when he visited Europe.

Dr. Denise had been intimately associated with medical affairs in Omaha at all times. He acted as city and county physician, health officer, physician at the poor farm, and was physician at the State Deaf and Dumb institute for twenty-five years. He was appointed surgeon for the United States pension bureau in 1874 and served in that capacity continuously. He was physician at the Good Samaritan hospital since March, 1876. He was one of the founders of the Nebraska State Medical society and acted as corresponding secretary from 1868 to 1871. He was one of the originators and directors of the local Young Men's Christian association, which was organized in his rooms. He acted as president for several years. He was an elder in the First Presbyterian church for twenty-five years and one of the founders of the Presbyterian hospital, originator of the Omaha Medical college and was also lecturer on ophthalmology and dean of the college.

The deceased was not associated with any fraternal organizations. He was a member of the Army of the Tennessee. He leaves the following living representatives of his family: Mrs. Mary Collier Denise, his wife; two sons, Rev. Larimore Conover Denise, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Clay Center, Kan.; Daniel Lewis Denise of Omaha, and one daughter, Esther C. Denise, now in Summit, N. J.

Black Succeeds Holmes.
At a meeting of the Manufacturers' and Consumers' association, held yesterday, the resignation of C. E. Holmes as secretary was accepted and C. E. Black was selected as temporary secretary. No action was taken relative to the continuance of the organization, on account of the absence of President Peters, who is in California. As soon as he returns the question will be raised and decided.

IS DOING A BIG BUSINESS

Associated Charities Kept Busy Supplying Coal and Supplies to the City Poor and Needy.

Secretary Laughland of the Associated Charities is conducting a promising coal business these days, keeping three teams busy constantly. He has found it hard to supply all demands, but through the kindness of the county and Dean Fair he has been able to keep all of his charges from suffering. Scores of calls are made daily without any apparent prospect of giving less.

One case has attracted the attention of the secretary which moved him more than any of the pitiful sights he witnesses daily. Mrs. Johnson, Sixteenth and Pierce streets, has been suffering from paralysis, which totally disabled her. She has two children and is unable to pay her rent. Tuesday a constable came along and forcibly ejected her from the house, leaving her furniture out in the street. A neighbor offered to pay the rent, but this would not do. Then the neighbor, out of kindness of his heart, took the unfortunate family in and kept the members two days until he could arrange for their care. Secretary Laughland saw that the people were made comfortable and will look after them until they are able to take care of themselves at least.

The association can make use of a lot of clothing and other supplies at this time if they are sent in. The secretary says that money for coal will also be highly acceptable as the necessity for funds is constant.

Certain funds back of the association are not available until all sources have been exhausted, so that there is pressing need of assistance from outside.

BROUGHT TO A SUDDEN STOP

Anson Steals a Horse and in Trying to Escape is Thrown from a Buggy and Severely Injured.

James Anson was taken to the station about noon Friday in an unconscious condition, the result of an accident at Twenty-fourth and Lake streets. He was suffering from concussion of the brain, although Dr. Spalding was unable to tell how serious it would prove. Anson's effects showed that he had been working for the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul road. He had a permit to ride from Perry, Ia., to Council Bluffs, so it is supposed that his home is in some Iowa town. Should Anson recover from his injuries he will doubtless be surprised at his detention, as there has been a charge of horse stealing placed to his credit. He took Dr. Paul Grossmann's horse and buggy from the corner of Seventeenth street and St. Mary's avenue and started north at a rapid rate. He was driving hard when the buggy upset at Twenty-fourth and Lake streets. The buggy and harness were demolished and Anson landed on his head on the paved street. He was picked up unconscious and taken to the police station. He had evidently been drinking heavily and it is believed that he took the horse while intoxicated, as he has not the appearance of a thief.

MRS. BEAUMONT BRINGS SUIT

Holds the Exposition Liable for a Tumble that She Took Last Summer.

Another relic of the exposition has bobbed up in the United States court in the form of a damage suit for $25,000, brought by Mrs. E. Beaumont, the Iowa woman who fell in the Auditorium and broke her thigh, just before the close of the exposition. The injury occurred on the afternoon of October 18, when the plaintiff went into the building to hear one of the Innes concerts. She alleges that the aisles were broken by steps and that the light was so insufficient that it was impossible to see them. Consequently she fell and broke her right thigh bone, inflicting a permanent injury. A suit has been brought by Jeremiah Miller, administrator of the estate of Frank Clugage, deceased, of Union county, Ohio, to hold W. W. Marsh responsible on $3,300 in stock which he is alleged to have held in the Wyoming Stage company. This company was organized under the laws of Kansas July 2, 1878, and its charter expired in 1898. It is alleged that the corporation became indebted to Clugage to the amount of $49,705.47, for which a promissory note was given with interest at 8 per cent. Some installments were paid on the note, but the bulk of the amount was never paid. Suit was brought in the Kansas courts by J. W. Robinson, the first administrator of the estate, and a judgment was secured for $37,561 and interest. The execution was not satisfied and then Robinson resigned as administrator and Miller had the case reopened.

He asserts that Mr. Marsh was a director in the company and owned thirty-three shares of the stock, for which amount he is therefore responsible.

ONE HUNDRED MEN AT WORK

Chairman Rosewater of Board of Public Works Resumes Street Cleaning—Takes Advantage of Weather.

The warm weather has permitted a continuance of the street work and yesterday Chairman Rosewater of the Board of Public Works set ten gangs, containing a total of 100 men, at work. This force will be continued and even increased in order that full advantage may be taken of the climatic conditions to get the streets in a sanitary condition. A number of gangs are engaged upon the down town streets and Chairman Rosewater declares that by Saturday evening this section of the city will be in good condition. Other gangs have been set to work on Sixth, Leavenworth, Cumby and North Twenty-fourth streets. The work will be kept up as long as the appropriation for the purpose allows.
