POLICE FORCE IS CRIPPLED. Little Protection Afforded to Life and Property Now.

MANY PORTIONS OF CITY ARE GUARDED. Twenty-Five Officers Are to Cover an Area of Twenty-Four Square Miles from This Time On.

Eight uniformed policemen comprised the police force guarding the lives and property of Omaha citizens yesterday. The people of Omaha, however, can look for a little better police protection in the near future.

This is the effect of the cut of twenty-five men made in the department by the Board of Fire and Police Commissioners Monday night and a further cut of sixteen "coppers" will patrol the streets during the day. The night force will consist of eighteen men. Consequently in a very few days Omaha's twenty-four square miles of area will be watched and patrolled by no less than thirty-one uniformed policemen each twenty-four hours.

Consequently in a very few days Omaha's twenty-four square miles of area will be watched and patrolled by no less than thirty-one uniformed policemen each twenty-four hours.

The consequence of the reduction that will be of most concern to citizens will be the fact that the residence districts will be left almost unprotected. Since the Police White took hold of the department he has succeeded in so deterring his men that the residence portions of Omaha have had pretty fair police protection, the result being a decrease in the number of robberies and burglaries. This protection will be completely swept out of existence.

Suburban Districts Unprotected. Nearly all of the patrolmen will be required for the business center of the city alone. Even then the beats must be considerably lengthened. For example, where there are now only four policemen, have been located on Sixteenth street from Harney to Nicholas, now there will be but two. The protected area will be practically included within the following bounds: Sixteenth street on the west, Leavenworth street on the south and Nicholas street on the north.

Outside of these bounds two policemen will be detailed for duty. One of these will patrol Leavenworth street from Sixteenth to Twenty-ninth. The other will be detailed on Cumings, from Sixteenth street west. These two patrolmen, however, will be on duty only during the nighttime; in the daytime the two beats will be abandoned.

It is argued that the reduction will increase the necessity for emergency men, as more calls will be made upon the central station when officers are not found on the streets. It is also argued that the reduction will increase the necessity for emergency men, as more calls will be made upon the central station when officers are not found on the streets.

CITY COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS. Salaries of the Absent Employees Out of Appropriation Sheet.

A special meeting of the city council Wednesday afternoon, held for the purpose of passing the February appropriation sheet and of clearing away some business left over from the regular session of the night before, was brief and not very exciting, but was marked with some interesting matters.

When the appropriation sheet came up the council acted as it did a month ago, by striking out the salaries of Street Commissioner Beverly and Special Agent Robertson of the legal department, both of whom have been at Lincoln during the session, one as representative and the other on business. The salary of Clerk of the Police Court Clancy was also stricken out on motion of the legal department.

These items were stricken out by unanimous consent, after an understanding had been reached that they would be considered again. Mercer said he understood that Robertson had been doing a part of his regular work at night, and therefore he thought the special agent should draw some of his salary. He also understood that Robertson had been doing a part of his regular work at night, and therefore he thought the special agent should draw some of his salary.
