FAVOR A NEW HIGH SCHOOL.

People of Council Bluffs Vote Their Convictions on the Subject.

PROJECT CARRIES BY OVER TWO TO ONE

Many Women March Up to the Polls and Cast Their Ballots—Republicans in a Majority on the New Board.

At the school election yesterday the people of Council Bluffs demonstrated in a most decisive manner that they were in favor of having a new high school building and the proposition to issue bonds in the amount of $25,000 to erect one was carried by a majority of 1,000 votes.

The vote on the members of the Board of Education, were elected by safe majorities over the democratic nominees, Dr. Donald Macrae and E. P. Searle. The two propositions to issue bonds in the sum of $2,000 for the erection of a school building in Cut-Off and to levy a tax of $10,000 for the school house fund to be used in payment of interest on the bonded indebtedness both carried by overwhelming majorities.

The vote on the members of the Board of Education was as follows: Hess (rep.), 1,376; Swaine (rep.), 1,221; Macrae (dem.), 1,681; Searle (dem.), 1,923.

The vote on the new high school was: For, 2,147; against, 1,021. The vote on the Cut-Off school was: For, 2,194; against, 816. The vote on the tax levy was: For, 2,064; against, 888.

The figures show that 978 women voted, of whom 828 cast their ballots for the High school proposition and 150 against. In the Fourth precinct 102 women voted against the new high school. The men's vote on the High school proposition was 1,219 in favor of it and 871 against.

The number of women who went to the polls and voted in favor of the new high school, and the results show that the vote of the men would have carried the proposition by a safe majority without their aid.

The High school voters were much in evidence in all the precincts and did woman service in aid of the High school proposition by getting the women out and seeing to it that they made no mistakes in marking their ballots correctly.

The vote cast here was the largest throughout the city, with the interest shown in the High school proposition, a light one. The vote in the First precinct for school board directors was considerable of a surprise. The precinct was expected to roll up a good big majority for the democratic candidates, but the figures tell a very different story.

Hess, republican, secured two more votes than Macrae, democrat, and Swaine, republican. Comparatively little "scratching" was done in any of the precincts.

Republicans in Control. The election of Hess and Swaine will place the board in the hands of the republicans again. The board will be composed as follows: Sims, Henry, Hess, Swaine, republicans; Moore, Cooper, Stewart, democrats. The retiring members are Thomas, democrat, and Spruit, republican.

Jacob Sims, it is understood, will be the president of the board when it reorganizes. The vote by precincts follows: First precinct—Hess, 270; Swaine, 255; Macrae, 268; Searle, 256; for High school, 442; against High school, 275; for Cut-Off school, 446; against Cut-Off school, 269; for tax levy, 457; against tax levy, 239; woman vote for High school, 191; woman vote against High school, 12.

Second precinct—Hess, 398; Swaine, 291; Macrae, 173; Searle, 148; for High school, 475; against High school, 150; for Cut-Off school, 469; against Cut-Off school, 147; for tax levy, 465; against tax levy, 127; woman vote for High school, 177; woman vote against High school, 12.

Third precinct—Hess, 415; Swaine, 387; Macrae, 290; Searle, 259; for High school, 516; against High school, 276; for Cut-Off school, 649; against Cut-Off school, 275; for tax levy, 666; against tax levy, 236; woman vote for High school, 295; woman vote against High school, 14.

Fourth precinct—Hess, 279; Swaine, 281; Macrae, 255; Searle, 296; for High school, 301; against High school, 216; for Cut-Off school, 379; against Cut-Off school, 129; for tax levy, 322; against tax levy, 152; woman vote for High school, 146; woman vote against High school, 92.

Fifth precinct—Hess, 194; Swaine, 167; Macrae, 165; Searle, 104; for High school, 155; against High school, 107; for Cut-Off school, 179; against Cut-Off school, 15; for tax levy, 144; against tax levy, 33; woman vote for High school, 49; woman vote against High school, 7.

The trial of John Lawrence and B. B. Tracy on charges of breaking into a school house in Lewis township on the night that they raided E. M. Lorenz's hen coops and carried off over 100 chickens and turkeys was brought to an abrupt and considering the hard fight the defendants have put up an unlooked-for termination yesterday morning.

As soon as court convened the attorney for the defendants informed Judge Thornell that his clients wished to enter a plea of guilty and throw themselves on the mercy of the court. This decision was reached in view of the fact of the jury in the case in which they were tried for stealing Lorenz's fowls having brought in a verdict of guilty. The attorney further announced that his clients waived all rights to a motion for a new trial or appeal and that they were anxious to have the agony over as soon as possible and their sentences imposed.

Judge Thornell at once imposed sentence, giving each of the defendants six months in the penitentiary at Fort Madison on the first charge and six months on the second, making a total of two years. Lawrence had evidently expected a heavier sentence, as he thanked the court for this leniency. Tracy did not seem to be on his feet back to the county jail told Lawrence that he did not see that he had anything to thank the judge for.

MAY MAKE REPAIRS AT JAIL. Alderman Christensen Examines the Building and Will Report to Council.

If the expense does not prove too great it is likely that the needed improvements at the city jail may be made. Alderman Christensen, chairman of the committee on police and health, made an examination of the building yesterday with a view to ascertaining what is most needed to put it in a fit condition. He will have estimates made of the cost of the proposed improvements and report at the next meeting of the city council.

A feature of the second floor of the jail, where prisoners are confined and where the tramps are provided with shelter at night, is in a deplorable condition. Its construction is such that it is practically impossible to keep it clean.

Some time ago Chief Bliby called the attention of the city council to the bad condition of the building and suggested that part of it at least be remodeled. Among other things he recommended that the wooden partitions on the second floor be removed and replaced with sheet or lattice steel; that the wooden beds be replaced with iron beds in the room reserved for female prisoners and that the wooden bunks in the large room reserved for lodgers be replaced with iron beds that could be folded up during the day; the wooden floor taken up and replaced with one of tile or cement, so as to permit of being properly flushed. He further recommended that the second floor be so divided as to provide one department for transient lodgers and bunks, one for minors, one for women and one that could be used as an emergency ward in the case of sick or injured persons requiring attention at the jail.

Chief Bliby suggested that a steam or hot water plant be put in that would be able to heat the patrol house as well as the jail. Alderman Christensen, after examining the building, expressed himself as being in favor of remodeling the jail, but to what extent the needed improvements would be carried out, he said, depended in all probability on the cost.
