

ONE TRIAL BOTTLE FREE! This Offer Almost Surpasses Belief. An External Tonic Applied to the Skin Beautifies it as by Magic. THE DISCOVERY OF THE AGE A Woman Was the Inventor.

Thousands have tried from time immemorial to discover some efficacious remedy for wrinkles and other imperfections of the complexion, but none had succeeded until the Misses Bell, the most famous Complexion Specialists, of 78 Fifth Avenue, New York City, offered the public their wonderful Complexion Tonic.

Thousands have tried from time immemorial to discover some efficacious remedy for wrinkles and other imperfections of the complexion, but none had succeeded until the Misses Bell, the most famous Complexion Specialists, of 78 Fifth Avenue, New York City, offered the public their wonderful Complexion Tonic.

THE MISSES BELL, 78 Fifth Av., New York City. The Misses Bell's Toilet Preparations are for sale in this city by KUHNS & COMPANY, The Reliable Prescription Pharmacists, Sole Agents, 15th and Douglas Streets.

IN THE DOMAIN OF WOMAN.

FASHION'S NOVELTIES.

Detachable Flounces, Ox-Head Lockets and Jewel Cases for Brides. NEW YORK, May 4.—The tailors always have an abundance of new and pretty notions on hand, and their latest proof of this is displayed by facing the lapsels of gray and fawn coats with heavy cream rennaissance or Arabian point lace. They use the cream lace or gray Russian point on the broad revers of their black cloth suits also, and the result is admirable.

NEW WEDDING ETIQUETTE.

Rules and Suggestions for Brides and Bridewomen. Until this season brides-elect never appeared at any social gathering of importance these circumstances the need for one done with silk in colors and rather florid floral patterns, or flowers in various arrangements, appearing in wreaths and bouquets. This fashion has opened a new year to many women and gives delightful fancy work for those who have the leisure and ambition to own an embroidered costume.

This same phrasing is employed when the invitation is to the church and the house after the ceremony, the sentence "and to the breakfast (or reception) at 4 o'clock" added at the end of the page on which the reply is given.

SUMMER COSTUMES FOR LITTLE GIRLS.

White Mohair Dresses.

White mohair ought to be mentioned as one of the fabrics we are bound to see a great deal of this summer. Pure cream white mohair is a dressmaker's delight, and it is one of the goods that lends itself admirably in the makeup of a perfectly plain suit. It can be either wrought out as a skirt and short coat, or worn with shirred silk and lace shirt fronts, or you can order a white mohair from your dressmaker, the waist to button up in the back and the skirt to drape over a colored silk slip.

The New Shoulder Cape.

At the weddings here, the late fall walt women in red-buttoned gowns have worn their chiffon and lace capes fastened by handsome clasps on either shoulder, and then hung back to hang as effective backgrounds for round waists and delicate hips. Some of these new capes are even made so that they can be fastened to the button inside they are lined with a delicate cloth, and then a hugely full flounce of chiffon falls in shell ruche all about the edge of the cape.

The Inevitable Chain.

A string of pearls seems now as essential to the feminine costume as handkerchiefs or gloves, and there are various ways of wearing the really cleverly imitated gems. The first fashionable method is to wrap a string of medium sized beads three times close about the neck, and then let the one long loop fall well below the waist line. Another notion is to wind a rope of seed pearls about the base of the collar, and the third and newest fancy, with an evening dress, is to wind a string twice round the neck and then let a long loop pass a double knot about the tapering waist.

Embroidered Muslins.

If the top note of character in the winter fashions was sounded by the spangled net dress, the same effect is achieved for the warm weather by the embroidered muslin. It is everywhere all over the city, absorbing fancy of women. Of course from Paris have been brought over remarkable silk and India muslins elaborate with the nervously exquisite work of patient needles guided by human figures, and these costly rarest green and cream, have been made up with lace, hung over silk and sold to wealthy women.

Costs Nothing to Try!

A Liberal Way to Prove that Gloria Tonic Cures Rheumatism. There are men and women in this section who are being racked to death by rheumatism. They have tried many pure cures and have exhausted purse, hope and patience. Do not fail to call our popular drug store and ask for a free trial package of Gloria Tonic. It has cured many prominent people. Cases of 30 and 40 years standing yielded, that had defied hospitals, drugs, electricity, leeches, and all other means. You can obtain more Gloria Tonic at $10 a package or 5 one dollar packages for $5.00. The trial package will be cheerfully handed to you free of cost, and it will surely give you relief. Do not be backward about asking for the free trial, as it is the most remarkable cure for rheumatism that ever came to the relief of suffering mankind.

White Mohair Dresses.

White mohair ought to be mentioned as one of the fabrics we are bound to see a great deal of this summer. Pure cream white mohair is a dressmaker's delight, and it is one of the goods that lends itself admirably in the makeup of a perfectly plain suit. It can be either wrought out as a skirt and short coat, or worn with shirred silk and lace shirt fronts, or you can order a white mohair from your dressmaker, the waist to button up in the back and the skirt to drape over a colored silk slip.

The New Shoulder Cape.

At the weddings here, the late fall walt women in red-buttoned gowns have worn their chiffon and lace capes fastened by handsome clasps on either shoulder, and then hung back to hang as effective backgrounds for round waists and delicate hips. Some of these new capes are even made so that they can be fastened to the button inside they are lined with a delicate cloth, and then a hugely full flounce of chiffon falls in shell ruche all about the edge of the cape.

The Inevitable Chain.

A string of pearls seems now as essential to the feminine costume as handkerchiefs or gloves, and there are various ways of wearing the really cleverly imitated gems. The first fashionable method is to wrap a string of medium sized beads three times close about the neck, and then let the one long loop fall well below the waist line. Another notion is to wind a rope of seed pearls about the base of the collar, and the third and newest fancy, with an evening dress, is to wind a string twice round the neck and then let a long loop pass a double knot about the tapering waist.

Embroidered Muslins.

If the top note of character in the winter fashions was sounded by the spangled net dress, the same effect is achieved for the warm weather by the embroidered muslin. It is everywhere all over the city, absorbing fancy of women. Of course from Paris have been brought over remarkable silk and India muslins elaborate with the nervously exquisite work of patient needles guided by human figures, and these costly rarest green and cream, have been made up with lace, hung over silk and sold to wealthy women.

At the Church.

It is regarded as not only inconsiderate, but a distinct ill omen for a bride to keep her guests and fiancée waiting one moment over the time set for the ceremony, and brides of this spring have proudly boasted that they stepped into the church aisle exactly as the clock struck the hour.

SEVEN SANCTIFIED SISTERS.

Trouble that Led Them to Open What is Now the Best Hotel in Texas. They say that the best hotel in Texas is to be found at Belton, a town on the Santa Fe road, and it is kept by "seven sanctified sisters," as the proprietors are popularly called. Several years ago, relates the Chicago Record, a woman in that place and her husband quarreled over the best way of expounding the scriptures to a Sunday school class and were finally divorced. The family controversy was taken up by the town, which was soon distinctly divided between the adherents of the husband and the adherents of the wife.

A VISITING MILLINER.

Profitable Business Built Up by an Enterprising Woman. Miss Inez Curtiss is a young New York woman who has by her pluck and energy built up a large and lucrative business as a visiting milliner. Speaking of her work, she says: "I became an errand girl in one of the most fashionable millinery establishments of New York when I was 13 years old, and can remember perfectly with what awe I used to look up to the trimmers of the store. Why, I thought to be able to sit in the house all day and trim pretty ribbons and flowers into hats the most delightful occupation in the world, second only to riding in a carriage and wearing the hats."

customers. As it was my duty to use old materials, I had to speak directly to the patrons and learn their desires. Thus, you see, I became so well known to some of them that they knew my name and address. One day, after having a row with the head of the house because he refused to have a hat made over for the fifth season, a wealthy customer wrote to me. "That was my first outside order. Later they increased so steadily that all of my evenings were filled up, and I began to make more money at home than in the shop. It set me to thinking, and last spring, at the beginning of the busy season, I gave up my job and started out as a visiting milliner. "I never earned more than $15 a week while working in the store, and often in the busiest seasons have put in eighteen hours a day. As a visiting milliner I always receive $2, and one, often three, meals a day. My hours are from 8 until 6, and I have all the work I can do. Every day has been taken from the first of last October to the middle of next June. So you may judge of how much I have improved my position financially, not to mention the fact of the difference in my work hours. I will leave for a two months' stay in Europe about the 1st of July, and will pass my time getting styles, just as other milliners do. I have all of my time engaged for September and October, a good many engagements booked for November, and even as late as a year from next June. "Do I think other women can succeed in the work in other cities? Indeed I do. In any city large enough to work up a good paying practice, especially among families having a number of children. Why, I have patrons in and around New York where I go for a week at a time. But girls thinking of this work should remember that I received my training in the most fashionable millinery establishment in America, and under the most critical man in the trade."

TABLET FOR WINNIE DAVIS.

Second Memorial to be Unveiled in Richmond. Besides the artistic monument to be erected in the cemetery in Richmond by which the women of the south propose to commemorate the virtues of the "daughter of the confederacy," a second beautiful tablet in memory of Miss Winnie Davis is to be placed on one of the walls of St. Paul's Protestant Episcopal church in Richmond, Va., and is the gift of Ambrose A. Maginnis, a prominent and wealthy citizen of New Orleans, who has always been a warm friend of the Davis family. The modeling of the tablet in plaster has just been completed by George J. Zolnay in his New York studio. The tablet, which is five feet long and three feet wide, is set to be cast in bronze by the Henry Bonnard company. The vestrymen of St. Paul's church and Mrs. Davis, acting for Mr. Maginnis, have formally accepted the work. Mrs. Davis considers the portrait of her daughter a faithful likeness and is highly pleased with the sculptor's artistic conception.

How Bachelor Girls Live.

In two apartments, each six rooms and bath, seven or eight girls, by some planning and ingenuity, may be comfortably housed and fed, says Harper's Bazar. The front and back parlors in each apartment, shared by two girls, become sitting rooms, as their occupants prefer. In many New York apartments the other four rooms would be the dining room, a bedroom off, another small bedroom for a maid beyond, and a kitchen at the back of the house. With this arrangement one girl could occupy the bedroom off, the dining room, another the smaller room. If there should be no maid or if the maid should sleep at home, even with house-keeping it is possible to make the dining room between meals into a sitting room for these two girls. In the second apartment, where there is no cooking, the dining room may be made to lose its identity completely and the kitchen be transformed into a store room, bedroom or study, as the case may require.

Frills of Fashion.

A gold turtle thickly studded with precious gems forms a pretty brooch. Very small gold buttons adorn the bodices of net, lace and crepe de chine gowns. See that your hair matches your costume if you want the very latest touch of fashion. A pretty lace pin represents lilies of the valley with enamel leaves in their natural color. A dress of glass powder boxes with yachting and fishing scenes enameled on the silver cover are popular. A new net-appeal silk shows a shadowy ground of pinkish mother-of-pearl, with streaks of shaded fowers and shaded green foliage and a narrow line of stem-gem satin crossing the lustrous surface. Large hats which are something between the old-fashioned pill-box hats and the poke-hats are the coming style for midsummer wear and the novelty in trimming is covering the inside of the brim with flowers.

Feminine Personals.

Mrs. Booker T. Washington is her husband's most efficient helper in the management of the Tuskegee institute. She is a graduate of Pisk University. Miss Caroline Hazard, the new president of the Wellesley college, will wear in open air exercise and takes a long walk every day, whatever the weather may be. Miss Braddon is still, at the age of 62, as industrious as ever, and a new story by her will be published in a fortnight, which she wrote in 1862, but two years have gone by without a novel from her. The Crown Princess Marie of Roumania, who was princess Marie of Edinburgh, has a queer habit of collecting seeds of flowers, which she probably inherits from her grandmother, the late empress of Russia, who had a collection valued at $35,000.

Mrs. William Rockefeller has received a

Scarborough, 209. Malmalson, carnations and 100 of the gold nugget variety. They came from Paris and cost $5,000, which is at the average rate of $10 a piece.

Mrs. George Livingston Baker, the wealthy socialist of Staten Island, has finally won her fight to have the working time of the employees of the New York and Staten Island Electric Light company, which she owned, to be reduced to eight hours a day from ten and a half.

London has been discussing the question who are the best dressed of the four that are placed at the head of the list, two are Americans. They are Mrs. Sloane and Lady Naylor-Leyland, who was Miss Jennie Chamberlain of Cleveland, Lady Warwick and the duchess of Portland share first honors with them. Miss Goeltz, another American, is said to be one of the best dressed unmarried women.

Girls who attend some of the women's colleges in England are waiting because they don't have enough to eat and they don't like to eat. They are adding their voices to the lament, because their daughters are driven by hunger to buy food outside the college, "the bills for bread and butter are so high."

Remarkable Rescue.

Mrs. Michael Curtiss, Plainfield, Ill., makes the statement that she caught cold, which settled on her lungs; she was treated for a month by her family physician, but grew worse. He told her she was a hopeless victim of consumption and that no medicine could cure her. Her daughter suggested Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption; she bought a bottle and to her delight found relief in the first dose. She returned to her normal health and regained her appetite. She has since used and after taking six bottles found herself sound and well; now does her own housework and is as well as she ever was. Free trial bottles of this Great Discovery are sent to all parts of the world. Only 50 cents and $1.00; every bottle guaranteed.

THE CROWN PRINCESS OF ROUMANIA'S FAVORITE GOWN.