

LOUD HISSES FOR POYNTER

Members of the First Nebraska Stirred Up by Governor's Veto.

OPPROBRIUM HEAPED ON THE SOLDIERS

Letter from a Member of the Regiment Described the Indignation When News of the Veto Reached Manila.

LINCOLN, June 15.—(Special.)—An expression of the feelings of the boys of the First regiment toward Governor Poynter has at last reached the United States.

When news reached the regiment of Governor Poynter's backhanded slap at the fighting men of his state their indignation was something it was unpleasant for him to witness.

"To aggravate the just sentiment of the regiment the papers have taken the matter up in an unfeeling exposed our open wound to the scorn of all on the island.

The resolution of thanks was vetoed March 30 and the above is the first communication from Manila written and published since the news of the governor's action was received in the islands.

The asking for information. The following is a copy of a letter sent to attorneys general in nearly all of the states in the union by A. E. Sheldon of the secretary of state's office.

Dear Sir:—An answer to the subpoenaed inquiries was not given by the attorney general but in placing the facts of great present interest before the public.

1. Is there a state anti-trust law or laws on your statute books?

2. Date of its enactment?

3. How many prosecutions have been brought under the statute? If so, when, by whom, and how many?

4. Have any convictions been obtained?

5. Have any combinations or trust organizations been dissolved as a result of the law?

6. What, in your judgment, have been the reasons for the effectiveness or non-effectiveness of the law?

7. What suggestions have you to make regarding the form of statute and means of its enforcement in restraint of trusts and combinations in trade?

8. Any other questions relating to the history of the subject in your state will be gratefully received.

Supreme Court Special Session.

The supreme court held a special session this afternoon to admit to the bar of Nebraska the twelve young men who successfully passed the examination for admission to the supreme court commission yesterday.

All but two of the applicants passed the examination, but one of these men, H. L. Standeven of Omaha, was not admitted because he is not of age.

Those who were admitted today were G. S. Loring, O. S. Erwin, O. D. Fisher, E. M. Garnett, P. H. Fuller, J. A. Beck, A. S. Kaabe, Joseph Carr, Fred Eastman, S. S. Cox, W. A. Johns and H. L. Standeven.

The examination, which was somewhat harder than heretofore, but in moving their admission to the bar in the supreme court this afternoon Roscoe Pound, one of the examiners, stated that the average of the men was higher than that of any other set of applicants examined for several years.

The examination consisted of about 150 questions under the following heads: Real property, equity, torts, evidence, constitutional law, pleadings, corporations, contracts, domestic relations, criminal law.

When the decision of the examiners was announced one of the young men who failed to pass fainter and had to be carried from the room by his friends. Joseph Carr of Sterling is a colored man.

The Lancaster county republican central committee is considering the legality of two acts passed by the legislature in 1897 limiting the number of justices of the peace for cities of the second class to two and the other one providing for three.

Both were signed by Governor Poynter on the same day and the question arises whether the committee should allow the candidates to be nominated or to restrict the number to two.

County Attorney Munger has given the following opinion on the subject:

LINCOLN, Neb., June 15.—Hon. V. H. Stone, Chairman, Republican Central Committee:

Dear Sir:—In reply to your question as to which of the two acts passed by the legislature, house rolls 392 and 413, will govern in the event of a conflict of the peace and constable in the city of Lincoln and at the coming election it is my opinion that house roll No. 413 is the act whose provisions should govern.

Both acts were approved at the same hour and minute. The construction that gives effect to the provision for two justices for Lincoln and one for Omaha is the one which I believe to be the correct one.

There is some question as to the Omaha act being constitutional, but in either case I think that but two justices and constables are to be elected in the city of Lincoln.

THOMAS C. MUNGER, County Attorney.

Acting on the opinion of the county attorney it is quite probable that only two nominations for justice will be made at the republican county convention tomorrow afternoon.

If three men are elected and the bill providing for that number of justices of the peace is declared unconstitutional, the three men would have some difficulty in deciding which one of them should step out of office.
