SOME RECORDS ARE BROKEN DURING JUNE

People of the City Begin the Annual Exodus Going to the Cool Resorts for the Summer.

As in former years, June has kept up its reputation for being the month of roses and weddings. The beautiful flowers for which June is noted have been unusually numerous, while the weddings have out-

The ceremony Kountze and Miss Alice Andreesen, both of this city, were joined in matrimony. There was no wedding reception, but the members of the two families were the guests of Mr. Andreesen, the father of the bride, at supper, after which Mr. and Mrs. Kountze left on an extended eastern trip. At the cathedral and within the ribbons were: Mr. Herman Kountze, Mrs. Charles T. Kountze, Mr. Augustus Kountze of New York, Mrs. Meredith Nicholson of Denver, and Mrs. W. F. While there is no danger of the city being depopulated during the summer months, a large number of the people have departed and more are constantly feaving for cooler resorts to spend the summer During the coming week the 300 or more of the teachers in the public schools of the city will flit away to remain until September. A great many of them are going west, but still more are seeking rest and quiet in the east and around the lakes of Minnesota.

So far as coming events are concerned there is a notable lack of such functions upon the card and what is more the number is not likely to be large until the cooler months of autumn roll around.

In Honor of Miss Andreesen.

A more brilliant affair than the Kountze Andreesen wedding, which occurred in the middle of the last week, it would be hard indeed to imagine; a statement which is equally true of the elaborate and perfectly appointed lawn party given by the brother and sister of the groom in honor of his bride on the Monday evening prior to the wedding ceremony. The many events in connection with the nuptials of two of the most prominent members of Omaha society have given opportunity for the dear girls to display their ravishingly dainty summer tollettes and appear at their very best, of which same opportunities they have most certainly availed themselves to the fullest

A more perfect evening for the lawn party given by Mr. Herman Kountze and Miss Kountze in honor of the bride of the week, Miss Andreesen, last Monday evening, could not well be imagined, "Forest Hill" being at its best, the shrubbery and tropical plants with which this delightful home abounds, being in their full summer beauty, and the lawns simply perfect. In the east of the mansion quite hidden from the outer world and protected by a high canvas fence, was erected a large dancing platform, over which was stretched canvas that made a perfect floor. On all four sides of this were strung incandescent lights, which illuminated the scene most brilliantly. An orchestra, stationed at one end, played throughout the evening, though the platform was at times only half full, so attractive were the walks and nooks near at hand, the teas on the veranda nearby and the marquee in which refreshments were served. Cards were arranged for indoors. The tollettes at this brilliant function were exquisitely dainty and marvelously fashioned. Miss Kountze, the lovely hostess, wore white Persian lawn over a white silk slip. with low-cut corsage, elaborately trimmed

> Weddings and Engagements. The wedding of Mrs. Saille Lowe Bell and Mr. William H. Crary will occur next Wednesday at noon at Unity church. Mr. John P. Williams, formerly of this city, was married recently at St. Peter's church, Miss Foley of Memphis is the guest of Miss Margaret Reed and Mrs. Charles Dug-Toledo, O., to Miss Mary Agatha Koster.

The engagement is announced of Miss Gertrude Ruigers Ringwalt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert R. Ringwalt, and Mr. William Sanford Robinson. The marriage will take place on July 5 at St. Mathias' church. News has been received from Lincoln of the marriage of Mr. Henry Allen Reese, numerous, while the weddings have out-numbered those of any corresponding month in many years.

palmist expatiated at some length on questions that were personal. "You are quite right as regards my earlier struggles," said Mr. Wood. "It seems almost incredible that the palm should reveal so much."

"Take for instance this line of head," the palmist continued: "note how it is broken and interrupted. These are stories of your earlier struggles, and they are splendidly well told. See this thumb. It is rooted as firmly as an oak tree, and those who best know you know your firmness of disposition after the mind has been once made up. This great space between the finger of the 'sun' and the finger of 'Mercury' likewise suggests a remarkably independent spirit and the pliableness of the hand tells only too well your business ability."
