Resolutions. Resolved, that the president of the national association be requested to send the following telegram to the American delegates to the peace conference now in session at the Hague: "The Board of Directors of the National Educational association at its meeting today unanimously passed the resolution offered by Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler of New York: 'Resolved, that the president of the national association be requested to send the following telegram to the American delegates to the peace conference now in session at the Hague: ...'"

Convention is Formally Opened. President Oran Lyon in opening the convention referred to the first meeting of the association in Philadelphia, when thirty-eight members were enrolled, and compared it with the enrollment of more than 10,000 in Washington last year. He also spoke of the progress made in other respects. The National Educational association, he pointed out, is an organization through which the educators of the country can reach big bodies of teachers. Referring to the late war, he said:

"Our history has demonstrated that we have no need of a great standing army. It has demonstrated that in every state may be found an army ready to defend our rights and defend our flag against every foe. And this army is not marshaled by military chieftains, but by educational chieftains. A nation made, not by barracks and troops, but by school houses; a nation not by recruiting officers, but by school masters; not by rifles and bayonets, but by books and newspapers and churches. That nation is strong whose citizens obey the law without being a standing army, that nation is strong whose laws are based on civil law and whose citizens obey both divine and human laws because they are right. A child obeys his teacher, who to him is the law. The child law must be centered, as the abstract is the result of a higher truth; and that higher truth is the law of the republic is a higher type of government than a monarchy. We may need an army to subjugate the Philippines; but the United States would be distinctly lowered in moral tone if it should ever become necessary to maintain permanently within the United States a great standing army to secure its rights and to defend the blessings of peace. If this is true, how great is the responsibility of the American school today. Patriotism is in the air; it is the normal condition of living under our flag. I recognize fully the right of others to disagree with me, but I confess that I so thoroughly believe in the law of the country, and in the dignifying influences that follow our flags, that I ever-to watch the onward progress of our re-conqueror republic and the triumphant march of the Anglo-Saxon race. This evening's session was as largely attended as had been the one in the afternoon. In addition to the women's orchestra the Aeolian club, under the direction of Mrs. G. B. Parsons, superintendent of music in the public schools, ended the proceedings by rendering several selections. Dr. W. T. Harris, United States commissioner of education, delivered a most appropriate and decidedly interesting address on the subject of 'An Educational Policy for our New Possessions in Hawaii.'

Education in Hawaii. Henry Townsend, inspector general of schools in Hawaii, made a thoughtful address upon the subject, 'The Educational Problem in Hawaii.' 'The environment and temper of the children of Hawaii,' said Dr. Townsend, 'are especially diversified, and they are largely the diversity of races with all that it implies. The ends of the earth meet in Hawaii and no one race is predominant in numbers. Present indications are that the generation next to be born in Hawaii will consist of white persons and Hawaiians in almost equal numbers and of a large number of mixed bloods. These latter will not be assimilated with the elements of our future population and so form one people, though it is possible that the whites and the Hawaiians will thus unite in spite of racial racial difference. The problem involves at least two classes of men in nearly every Hawaiian household by side within our narrow boundaries, without uniting. Our Hawaiian civilization should be based upon broad charity and universal good will.' At the closing session of the National Educational association, held this morning at the Hotel San Luis, San Luis was elected president for the following year and Prof. Elmer Brown of California vice president, Miss Belle A. Dutton of Cleveland, O., was re-elected secretary.

Report on the Finances. The annual meeting of the Board of Directors of the National Educational association was called to order by President Lytle at noon today, the following officers being present: First Vice President J. G. Greenwood, Kansas City; Treasurer I. C. McNeill, West Superior, Wis.; chairman of the Board of Trustees, A. M. Lane, Chicago. The treasurer's report showed total amount during the year of $28,561.10, including a cash balance of $2,251. The expenditures amounted to $26,010.92, including $10,000 transferred to the permanent fund. The available cash on hand is $2,350.18. Treasurer McNeill also reported that $5,000 and $10,000 in addition was available this year for transfer to the permanent fund. The thirteenth annual report was presented and read. It showed the assets to be $74,000, the total investments on July 1, 1899, having been $67,000. By unanimous vote the directors passed a resolution directing the president of the National Educational association to cable to the United States delegates to the peace conference at The Hague congratulations of the members of the organization.

EDUCATORS OF COLORED YOUTH. Over One Hundred Delegates Present at the Detroit Convention. DETROIT, Mich., July 11.—There were about 125 delegates present today in the convention of the American Association of Educators of Colored Youth when Rev. W. S. Braden requested that the committee on resolutions be authorized to thank the Rev. W. W. Boyd of St. Louis before the Christian Endeavor convention. Mr. Boyd's words that Rev. Mr. Braden objected to were: 'If Christ were in the south and his mother or his wife or daughter were outraged by a negro brute would he resent it?' They were spoken yesterday in Tent William. Braden said that the committee would doubtless do its work and the incident was closed, aside from the remarks of Bishop Alexander Walters of Jersey City, made later in the day. Bishop Walters said that because of that remark it did not follow that the Christian Endeavor were all of that opinion. The business will continue today by the convention. The educators will remain in session until Thursday night.

CUBAN HANDS OUTSTRETCHED

Six Thousand Applicants for Gratuity in Camp at Bayamo.

MERCHANTS SEEK FOR USURIOUS PROFIT

Major Issues an Order Fixing Reasonable Prices for Food—Native Troops Express Gratitude to General Brooke.

HAVANA, July 11.—The influx of Cubans in Bayamo, province of Sancti Spiritus, in anticipation of payment for the surrender of their arms, continues and the merchants of that place have attempted to profit beyond reason by this situation. They raised prices beyond reason, upon which point the mayor argued with them, pointing out the injustice of their attitude. The merchants, however, refused to modify their prices and the mayor therefore issued an order regulating prices and providing a heavy fine for violation of the ordinance. Food is now cheaper, but the price of liquor is high. There are about 6,000 men in and about the city, but there have been no disturbances. All those who had arms in their possession have delivered them to the mayor and obtained receipts, so as to enable them to obtain payment when paying off begins. The newspapers here have received dispatches from Sancti Spiritus expressing their thanks to Governor General Brooke for his efforts in behalf of the Cubans and for his orders to pay them as promptly as possible, which will prevent a great deal of suffering. The Spanish consul at Cienfuegos, Senor Alvarez Fernandez, has expressed his regret that he has not been able to express his sympathy for the Cubans and to remove all bitterness of feeling which may exist in the minds of Spaniards there.

Registry for Spaniards. At today's meeting of the members of the advisory cabinet Senor Capote, secretary of the government, presented to Governor Brooke's approval his draft of the proposed decree for the creation of a registry to be used by Spaniards residing in the island who wish to retain their nationality as provided in the treaty of Paris, which directs that those who do not within a year file a declaration of retention of nationality. The decree of this intention shall be considered to have accepted the statutes of the Cubans. General Wilson, military governor of the consolidated provinces of Matanzas and Santa Clara, has informed Senor Capote that he is unable to ratify the concessions for public works in Matanzas, particularly the concessions for telephone and railway lines, on the ground that to do so would be in violation of the Foraker resolution. Already two cases have arisen on the decision of General Brooke on the question of return to the rightful owners of properties long included in the government. A house at Regia valued at $3,000 and an estate in Havana valued at $6,000 have been restored to the original proprietors. Senor Pablo Desveraine, secretary of finance, recently notified the mayors of Matanzas and Santa Clara of the amounts specified as to be paid in connection with the Treasury department and the amount due from Matanzas, $26,429, was paid yesterday.

The Matanzas deputation provincial has put in an application for the payment of salary alleged to be due from the Spanish government prior to January 23, 1898, from the United States government between that date and the time when the department was suppressed. General Brooke has refused to act in the matter at present. All such claims will be held in abeyance until they have been investigated. According to a dispatch from Tunas, the United States troops there recently killed a Spanish bandit and an ex-guerrilla named Francisco Lopez, who was attempting to escape after resisting capture. Andrew Fuller, Julian Baker and Edwin Campbell, American will claim in the quarter master's department at Cienfuegos, who were implicated in the recent affray there between the Americans and Cubans, have been ordered to return to the United States by the first transport.

SALE OF LIQUOR IN THE ARMY. Well Known Temperance Workers Call on McKinley to Protect Attorney General's Decision. WASHINGTON, July 11.—A delegation composed of Joshua L. Bayley of Philadelphia, president of the National Temperance society; Hiram Price, Washington; Rev. L. R. Foot of Brooklyn; James B. Dixon of St. Paul; and Dr. H. J. Phillips, Indianapolis, representing the National Temperance society and other kindred organizations called on the president this afternoon to ask his consideration of some points that he desired to present in connection with the interpretation given by the attorney general to the seventeenth section of the recent act of congress entitled "An act for the increase of the efficiency of the army of the United States and for other purposes."

The delegation wished to record its dissent from the opinion of the attorney general in interpreting the act referred to and presented a legal opinion on the section, prepared by Colonel Eli Baxter of Indianapolis. Mr. Bayley also read a paper signed by many well known representatives of the National Temperance society, which embraced the points on which they dissented from the opinion given. It maintains that congress desired totally to abolish the sale of liquor in the army. The interpretation of the former general (which was to the effect that the act was prohibitive only as to the sale of liquor in the cantines by officers and men), the paper declares, was a matter of amusement to the people of the whole country interested in the subject, and no class of persons. It is asserted, was more surprised than the members of congress present during the enactment of the legislation. The delegation represented that if the statute is what its author and the vast number interested as well as opposed thought it was then the interpretation given by the attorney general is a perversion of the law. The members of the delegation after their call reported the president as saying the opinion of the attorney general was without any previous knowledge on his part, that he did not know an opinion had been asked for by the secretary of war, neither did he know such an opinion had been given until several days afterward and that he would look into the matter personally, and if the opinion of the attorney general was found to be correct it would stand, but he added that all men were fallible, and if the attorney general had made a mistake he had no doubt he would correct it.
