Advances on Iron. Advances on Iron. Local hardware people talk in a most encouraging way of the conditions prevail-ing in their special department. The de-mand continues all right for this season of the year, and no one seems to find fault with the way the hardware business is running. Advices from the centers of iron manufacturing say that there are no signs of any abatement in the activity of the demand which started early in the year, and the market accordingly on hardware, is firm. The mills generally report that they are behind in their orders. Some idea of the present condition of the market may be gained by going back to the first of the year and noting the phenomenal advances that have been made. Beginning with Bessemer pig fron, we find that early in January ft was selling at $10.75 to $11.00 Pittsburg. The price now is $20.00 Valley furnaces to the Ahonding and Shenango val-leys, known as the Central West district, were idle, while today every stack is active that can be put in blast and the product is much larger than ever before in the history of these two iron-making regions. Other Jobbing Lines.

Local lumber merchants report business as all right for this time of the year. Con-siderable building is going on, which is causing some little activity among the retailers.

Boot and shoe people report a firm mar-ket and a fair volume of business doing. Fruit and produce man are doing well as a general thing, the best of their trade coming from the country.
