Authorities at Washington Make Light of the Statement of Canadians-Patience Will Bring a Settlement.

LONDON, July 24 .- Commenting upon the debate in the Canadian Parliament on Saturday regarding the Alaskan boundary question, the St. James Gazette says today:

The brisk air of the United States Canada is conducive to strong words which would never pass the lips of a European statesman until an order to mobilize was on the point of issuing. Nobody thinks of war in connection with the Canadian-American dispute. Yet since it is we who will have to fight if Canada makes a quarrel we must plead with one of our subjects to use a quieter style. If Sir Charles Tupper's words mean anything he desires the presentation of an ultimatum, which could mean war. Sir Wilfrid Laurier, though calmer, was tolerably emphatic. As things are going now we are drifting to a very serious diplomatic collision with the United States which Great Britain is earnestly

Not So Serious as Painted.

NEW YORK, July 24 .- A special to the Herald from Washington says: "There will be neither war nor arbitration over the electric plant. Alaskan boundary dispute. It will be settled by amicable agreement between the United States and Great Britain, one nation making concessions on this question in return for concessions by the other on some question at issue between the two governments."

This is the view expressed by an official having much to do with the pending nego-tiations. Referring to Sir Wilfrid Laurier's speech in the Canadian House of Commons, in which the Canadian premier declared there were only two ways by which the difficulty could be settled-arbitration or warthe official said significantly: "Sir Wilfrid Laurier is merely stating to the Canadian Parliament the recognized methods by which civilized nations settle controversies. There are three methods-first, by mutual agreement; second, by a resort to arbitration, and, third, by war. Sir Wilfrid has neglected to mention the first and most important of these methods.

"It is recognized by the administration that the boundary question is a difficult one, as are other questions pending between Canada and the United States, but it is not regarded as impossible of adjustment in some way satisfactory to the American miners and the Canadian government, as well as the United States and Great Britain. Some of the questions at issue are more or less independent and it was intimated to me that there was reason to hope a final settlement of the boundary controversy might grow out of this relation between the pending questions.

"It is felt by officials of the administration generally that while it may take time and the exercise of considerable nationes to work out a final solution of all the pending questions, such a solution will ultimately reached in a neighborly spirit and without any clash or serious straining of relations between the two nations.

Officials Not Alarmed.

WASHINGTON, July 24 .- Senator Fairbans, chairman of the American division of the High Joint Canadian commission, made a brief call upon the president today before starting for his home in Indiana. He declined to discuss the speech of Sir Wilfrid Laurier or to remark upon the situation with reference to the boundary dispute. He confirmed the report already given out that there would be no meeting of the joint commission on August 2, saying that he and Sir Wilfred Laurier had last Friday agreed upon a postponement for an indefinite period. The senator would not hazard a surmise as to when another meeting might be held.

Direct negotiations regarding the Alaskan boundary are now in progress between Secretary Hay and Mr. Tower, the British charge d'affaires here. The negotiations are directed toward the adjustment of the issue by amicable arrangement between the parties, though on somewhat different lines than those pursued during the spring and sum-The principals are not without hope that success may attend their efforts and then there is arbitration yet in reserve in case of fatlure on the present lines.

The officials here are nowise alarmed at the recent developments at Ottawa, feeling confident that Sir Wilfrid Laurier's utterwhich he mentioned the word "war" as an alternative to arbitration, was given a meaning not intended by the Canadian premter. The strong language attributed to Sir Charles Tupper is not credited the justice court today. Mrs. Parsons said she believed her son to be insane and that she would take him to the detention hospital to be tried for his sanity. Mrs. Parsons has been delievering speeches on the to the Canadian government, and it is realized that great latitude may be allowed in viewing the utterances of members of the opposition party.

Mrs. Ingersoll is so ill that she is confined to her bed. Members of the family say

It is not thought that the illness will result seriously. Colonel Ingersoll's daughters, belief of the dead agnostic, have begged to be allowed to keep the body with them as long as possible. They have repeatedly refused to discuss the final disposition of the remains and it was not until this afternoon that they permitted Clinton B. Farrell brother-in-law and secretary of Colonel Ingerst II, to complete the arrangements. When told this afternoon that services were to be held tomorrow their only remarks were
