WHEAT DROPS A CENT AND CLOSES WEAK

Heavy Rains Throughout the West and Northwest Weaken Corn-Higher Prices for Hogs Sustain Provisions.

CHICAGO, July 27.-Improved weather for the crops caused the downfall of the grain markets today. Wheat dropped a cent and the market closed weak at 70%c for the September option. Corn lost % and oats % c. Provisions recovered from a spell of weakness and closed without material change. Cooler weather in the northwest and lower cables started wheat on a downward course at the opening and with the participation of a tic radly from the bottom near the close on buying against puts the market ruled exceedingly weak throughout. A poor cash demand and increased domestic receipts also contributed to the decline. September opened %a%c lower at 70%971c, sold sparlingly at 71c, declined to 70% 170% and closed with buyers at 70%. Chicago received 85 cars, 2 of which were graded contract. Minwith buyers at owo. Chichgo received so cars, 2 of which were graded contract. Minneapolis and Duluth got 33 cars, compared with 34 for the same day last year. Primary market receipts aggregated $72,000 bushels, against 549,000 bushels a year ago. Export cicarances from Atlantic ports were equal in wheat and flour to 410,000 bushels.

Heavy rains throughout the west, where claims of damage by drouth have been numerous, weakened corn. There was a selling rush at the outset and only one occasionally when some short would endeavor to cover did the market show any degree of steadiness. Export demand was good, but any effect this might have had was counteracted by enormous primary western market receipts. Receipts here were 610 cars. September opened %@%c lower, at 31%@32c, sold sparingly at 32c, declined to 31½c and closed at 31%c. The December option closed with a loss of 1½c.

Liquidation induced by favorable barveet. sparingly at sz., technic option closed with a at 31%c. The December option closed with a loss of 1½c.
Liquidation induced by favorable harvesting weather, liberal receipts and the decline in wheat and corn weakened. Receipts, 365 cars, of which 12 were new. September opened 4c lower at 13446195c, advanced to 19347134c, declined to 194c and closed at 1916 and closed at 193/2194c, declined to 194c and closed at 194/2193/c.

Higher prices for hors and buying by packers sustained provisions. There was a dip early in sympathy with the weakness in grains, but this was all recovered before the end of the session. September pork opened a shade higher at $5.37/s, declined to $5.65 and advanced to $8.75 at the close. September land opened a shade higher at $5.35/s, $37/s, sold at $5.37/s, declined to $5.35/s, $37/s, declined to $5.35/s, $18 severe dull, within a narrow range. Estimated receipts for Price lay: Wheat 70 cars; cern, 530 cars; oats, $70 cars; hors, $1.000 head.

NEW YORK, July 27.—The feature of the day on the cotton market was the straightening out of ventures in the August position. Before the market opened there was a confusion of ideas as to the probable notes of the output, some estimating not more than 15,000 bales, while some estimated that 50,000 bales were to be distributed. Prices opened lower, sold off under pressure from the bear side, together with some liquidation. Scalpers and the European contingent favored the short side for a time. A number of investment orders appeared and before the end of the first hour the weakness had been supplanted by marked firmness and the decline by an advance of 2 to 3 points. As the market rallied Wall street bought and the built interest regained confidence. Accompanying the hardening of the market came reliable reports that a number of the houses which issued most of the August notices had reconsidered their action and were making efforts to recover possession. Later the demand of Wall street having been satisfied prices slowly went off with August at one time evening, showing positive weakness under realizing. Speculation subsequently dwindled down to a small interchange by the talent, with the market finally steady, net unchanged to 2 points lower.

and lower on common kinds. There was a steady fall of rain all the morning and speculators were not anticipating much of a demand for the balance of the week. Hence they wanted the cattle worth the money or they did not want them at all. The feeling that stockers and feeders are too high is so prevalent that every time there is any opportunity to take off the buyers can be depended upon to take advantage of it. Among sellers the feeling was that if the rain should prove to have been general over the state, as reported, a largely increased demand might be anticipated from the country for feeding cattle of all kinds.

There were quite a good many western of all kinds.

There were quite a good many western cattle in the yards, but the most of them were feeders and the market on that kind was lower, as noted above. The few that were good enough for beef brought steady prices. One bunch of six loads of Texas sold to a packer at $3.85. Representative sales:
