E. R. Tyson of Nebraska City read an extract from a photographic journal dealing with the same question and endorsing the statements made by Mr. Townsend. An interesting discussion followed, which was participated in by Messrs. Stoneman, Leschinsky and Miller. The following committee on resolutions was appointed, with instructions to report today: E. R. Tyson, Nebraska City; W. J. Wright, Cambridge; Fred J. Bell, Burwell. The remainder of the morning session was given to Prof. A. H. These rooms were thrown open to public inspection in the afternoon and a number availed themselves of the privilege of examining the high grade work on display. The exhibits are all of merit and show wonderful advancement in photographic art during the last few years. Prizes on the exhibits will

The most important discovery thus far reported is confirmed by recent advices received from the party of scientists headed by representatives of the Carnegie Museum, Pittsburg, who state that there is no doubting the identity of the skeleton remains of two giant brontosaurus. The party is still engaged in taking the bones out of the rocks and consider the find a most important one. As an indication of the tremendous size of these extinct animals it is stated that the femur or thigh bone in one measures seven feet long and the other six feet in length.

"The referees present at this meeting do not entertain the opinion expressed by the judge on the subject. I hope we will not be called upon to father the opinions expressed by our invited guest. I notice that Judge Kohlsaat did not suggest any substitute for the bankruptcy law. Are we to go back to the old system of preferential payments, to turn property over to wives, relatives and banks?

Several other addresses were made declaring that it would be a grievous mistake to repeal the measure. The speakers favored the act as a permanent institution and claimed it ought not be difficult to secure the desired amendments.

GRAND LARCENY CHARGED

Jeff Bates, a Colored Man, Said to Have Stolen Over Four Hundred Dollars.

Jeff Bates, a colored man, is being held at the police station upon the charge of giand larceny. He was arrested on complaint of G. W. Blain, who charges him with having stolen a sack containing $430. The complainant says that he was engaged in hauling coal in a wheelbarrow from a car to a shed Wednesday at Fifteenth and Webster streets. Becoming heated in the operation, he removed his hat and placed a sack containing his money under it, where he could watch it as he worked. About 10:30 o'clock, he says he saw Jeff Bates, an old colored man, who had been hanging around for a job, grab the sack containing the money and make away with it.

The sack contained $410 in gold, and the remainder was in ailver currency. When Bates was found he had $19 in sliver on his person, but no trace of the gold was obtained.

Birdie Terrell and Susie Stamm are under arrest at the police station. John Bohn is the cause of their detention. He says he was relieved of $55 Wednesday evening about 5 o'clock while he was drinking some beer with the women in the wine room at Schlitz's No. 3 on North Sixteenth street. He tells the police that he had five $10 gold pieces and some silver when he went in there, but later when he had parted company with the girls his pockets were empty.

Still More Counterfeiting. The Secret Service has just unearthed another band of counterfeiters, and secured a large quantity of bogus bills, which are so releverly executed that the average person would never suspect them of being spurious. Things of great value are always selected for imitation, notably Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which has many imitators, but no equals for disorders like indigestion, dyspepsia, constipation, nervousness and general debility. It is stated that all the claims for damages on account of injuries sustained by the explosion of a quarter-ton of powder at Allen Bros.' fire have been settled out of court and that the formal confessions of judgment will be filed at once. The amount paid Mrs. Ruane on account of the death of her husband is $1.750, and the men who were merely injured have been satisfied with smaller amounts.
