COLUMBIA'S MAST IS BROKEN !! New Cup Defender Returns from Trial a Total Wreck Above

Decks.

NEWPORT, R. I., Aug. 2 .- An accident NEWPORT, R. I., Aug. 2.—An accident to the Columbia marred what promised to be a thorough test to the relative speed of that boat and the Defender in a fine top-sall breeze and late this afternoon the new boat was towed to its builder's works at Bristol, a total wreck above decks. Its new steel maturant was bent downle just about steel mainmast was bent double just about half way between the deck and the mast-head and all that remained of its magnififread and all that remained of its magnificent spread of canvas and specially made rigging was pfied up in a heap about the stump of the mast, a tangled mass of wire shrouds, metal turnbuckles, wires and ropes. All that remained intact was the steel boom and gaff and the bowsprit and even the gaff was damaged slightly at the jaws.

The damage occurred a half hour after the new and old defenders started on the beat out to the flag boat, off the north end of Block island, when the two had covered about half the distance. The Columbia was leading at the time and was steadily drawing away from its rival. The two boats were holding along on a port tack and into the Point Judith channel, the new boat having the weather position and fairly tearing through the water, when there was a sound of breaking spars and in an instant the topmast went crashing down to leeward, carrying with it the fine new clubtopsail and small jibtopsail, The steel mainmast at once buckled in the middle and down came the upper end of the spar and the huge mainsail dropped into the water.

Fortunately all hands escaped injury. The discipline was excellent, not a man leaving his place until Captain Barr gave orders to clear away the wreckage and get the can-The damage occurred a half hour after his place until Captain Barr gave orders to clear away the wreckage and get the canvas aboard and then the crew went to work with a will, clearing up the tangle, the Columbia drifting with the waves. The Associated Press tug boat took the Columbia in tow and proceeded with it to Bristol. On examination of the wreckage it was found that the port spreader had broken upward by the strain of the topmast shroud, causing the topmast to break off. The sudden breaking of the mast was too much for the steel topmost and it instantly collapsed.

much for the steel topmost and it instancy collapsed.

The expense of rerigging the Columbia will be heavy and, although most of the wire shrouds and stays can be used again, they will have to undergo a severe test for strength, for the wrenching they received today may cause them to be worthless. The hull of the boat was not damaged to any extent, the only damage perceptible being a dent in one of the plates on the starboard side just abaft the mast. The damaged plate can easily be bent into shape and, being so far above the water line, cannot interfere seriously with the speed of the boat.

EACH YACHT WINS TWO RACES

Decisive Contest Between Glenenire and Constance is at Hand.

DORVAL, Que., Aug. 2.—Today was another Glencairn day, the Canadian boat winning its second and the fourth race for the Seawanhaka cup. During the race there were all kinds of breezes from east to west and from north to south, and it was difficult to say at times which boat had the advantage as to wind. Undoubtedly, however, Duggan's able seamanship told well today. The wind was rather light as the whistle sounded for the start at 10.55. The Con-stance succeeded in crossing the line two lengths ahead of the Glencairn at 10.55.25 stance succeeded in crossing the line two lengths whead of the Glencairn at 19:55:25. Glencairn smartly crept into the windward position, ram up a reaching jib, took the Constance's wind away and left it standing. The Constance's sail soon began to fill upagain, and it ram under the Glencairn's stern, but the Glencairn by dever seaminship got ahead and kept it right up to the first buoy, this log being quickly sailed. Glencairn rounded the buoy one minute and fifty-six seconds ahead of the Constance, gaining 125 from the steart.

The course to the second buoy was a beat to the windward, but the wind from the southwest was light, and the Glencairn steadily drew away from Constance, the Constance making poor headway in the lulis which occurred between the short puffs of wind. Glencairn rounded the second buoy of the first round two minutes and thinty-eight seconds ahead of the American boat and had its spinnaker set in no time. The Constance lost forty-two seconds on this leg, but the rapidity with which it set out its spinnaker to port was favorably commented upon.

formed in the west, and thunder and light-ning were almost constant. Both boats had to reef, in anticipation of a storm, and most of the small pleasure boats ran for shelter, but the storm did not turn out as bad as was feared. By the time the boats were running for the first buoy on the sec-ond round the wind had gone half way round the compass, and it was a reach sail to starboard. The rain came down and it was difficult to see the boats. It was soon apparent, however, that the formed in the west, and thunder and if

It was soon apparent, however, that the Constance was gaining on its rival and when it rounded the first buoy it had reduced the gap between it and the Glencairn by twenty-six seconds. The wind, however, kept dropping little by little, and the Glencairn gained 1:22 on the second leg, and was 5:33 ahead of the Constance. Instead of running before the wind, both boats now tacked to the starting buoy. The storm was increasing, but it could be seen that the Constance was again gaining and in completing the last leg it reduced the lead of Glencairn twenty-four seconds. The Canadian boat did not have such a favorable leg for the last, but placed an additional nineteen seconds between it and the Constance, finishing at 4:15:15, winning the race by five minutes thirty-nine seconds. Racing at Cowes.

COWES. Isle of Wight, Aug. 2.—This was the second day's racing in the regatta of the Royal Yacht squadron and brilliant weather prevailed. The prize competed for was £100 and the course sailed over was the Queen's cup course. A grand start was made in a light east-southeast wind. The yachts crossed the line in the following order: Meteor, Britannia, Bona, Satanita and Rainbow. Britannia drew ahead, but on returning from the westward Meteor led, with Bona second and Britannia close up.

Meteor won. It finished at 5:40:00.

As the yachts passed Cowes Meteor was eleven minutes ahead of Britannia. At this point Britannia gave up the race.

The remarkable victory of the Meteor over the Bona proves that it is the best racing yacht in England. English yachtsmen are beginning to feel grave doubts as to the chances of the Shamrock.
