

SIoux CITY WANTS TERMINUS

Attempt is Being Made to Have Extension of M. & St. L. Road There.

OFFICIALS ARE CONSIDERING THE MATTER

Belief that Minneapolis & St. Louis Road Will Establish Terminus in Omaha, but Extension May Touch Sioux City.

Sioux City is reaching out with commendable energy in an effort to secure more railroads. The Commercial association of that city is using every endeavor to persuade the officers of the Minneapolis & St. Louis railroad, which will be extended from New Ulm, Minn., to the Missouri river, to establish the terminus of the road at Sioux City instead of Omaha, as has been the general belief ever since the idea of an extension of the Minneapolis & St. Louis was first considered.

W. P. Manley, president of the Security National bank and chairman of the railroad committee of the Sioux City Commercial association, recently returned from New York, where he had an interview with Edwin Hawley, president of the Minneapolis road. Mr. Hawley informed him that it had not been definitely decided what would be the terminus of the new line and his statement quashed the idea that the question had already been settled in favor of Omaha. It is altogether probable that this question will be taken up by the officials of the Minneapolis & St. Louis road within a coming month and an agreement reached. In speaking of his interview with President Hawley, Mr. Manley says:

"I shall be very much surprised if the road is not built to Sioux City. In my own mind I feel sure that the terminus will be made the southern terminus. I was brought to this belief by my talk with Mr. Hawley. He said that statements that the company already had decided on Omaha or any other place for the terminus were incorrect and without authority. Mr. Hawley did not say that the road would be built to Sioux City, but I inferred from what he did say, or rather what he did not say, that Sioux City was most favorably considered. He made the surprising statement that he was in Sioux City not very long ago and made a careful study of the topography of the country to the north and east, as well as informing himself as to the business of the city. He said he knew how rich the country was between Storm Lake and Sioux City, and he thought the territory the best unoccupied in Iowa."

It is not unreasonable to believe that this extension which the Minneapolis road has under agreement will touch Sioux City, but it is hardly likely that the terminus will be established there. Among local railroad men it is generally believed that the Minneapolis & St. Louis eventually expects to reach Omaha, and will not be satisfied until it establishes its western terminus there. During his visit in New York Mr. Manley also saw the secretary of George Gould, president of the Missouri Pacific. He was unable to see Mr. Gould, who was making hasty preparations for an European trip. Sioux City is desirous of getting an extension of the Missouri Pacific from Omaha, and an effort will be made to convince the officials of that road of the desirability of such an extension.

MARKED INCREASE IN BUSINESS.

Harbman Had Reason for Gratification Over Short Line Showing.

E. H. Harbman, chairman of the executive board of the Oregon Short Line, had ample cause for making the statement in Salt Lake City last week that the financial showing of the Short Line is gratifying, particularly as the season was six weeks behind when I went west in the spring. It was then uncertain how the season would turn out. Just before the Harbman's arrival in Salt Lake, Auditor Hills of the Short Line had prepared a statement of the gross earnings of the road for the month of June, 1899, and for the year ending with June 30, 1899. This report was one of the best in the history of the company, showing an extraordinary amount of business in the territory covered by the Short Line. The comparison with the business of a year ago are of especial significance. For the month of June, 1899, the gross earnings were $7,577,108.35, an amount $6,317,068.55 for the corresponding months, showing an increase of $1,260,039.80 for the year.

A comparative statement of the gross earnings of the Oregon Short Line for the past five years shows a steady and marked increase in the amount of business handled, and it is a decidedly interesting showing. It is as follows:

1899 $7,577,108.35
1898 6,726,247.29
1897 6,532,728.20
1896 6,592,138.87

Rates for Returning Soldiers.

Congressman W. L. Stark, as the representative of Governor Poynter, was a caller at railroad headquarters and had interviews with President Burt of the Union Pacific, General Manager Holdrege and General Passenger Agent H. W. L. Stark, in regard to the proposed rates for the transportation of the First Nebraska regiment home from San Francisco. The official representatives of the Burlington and Union Pacific assured Congressman Stark that everything would be done to bring about satisfactory rates and arrangements for the returning soldiers. No definite action was taken, but both roads will take the matter under careful advisement.

CUTS OFF MANY IOWA TOWNS.

Illinois Central Straightening Out the Kinks in Its Heavy Line. LEMARS, Ia., Aug. 11.—(Special.)—The business men of Marcus, Remsen, Lemars, Merrill and the smaller towns on the line of the Illinois Central between Cherokee and Sioux City are dismayed at the prospect of shortly being shunted off the main line to a spur. The Central's project of running a short line between the two last points has been a bogey for scaring bad children during the last twenty-five years, but no one dreamed it ever would materialize.

The cry of "wulf" was louder than ever this spring, but people were not disturbed until the surveyors actually passed, leaving a painful trail behind them. The surveying was finished some days ago. The new line will form the base of a triangle of which the sides are the old lines. At the apex of the triangle stands Lemars, the most important town affected by the change. It is fifteen miles from the base.

Marcus, in Cherokee county, and Remsen in Plymouth, will be the hardest hit. The Central is their only road. They are busy little towns of about 2,000 population. Their sole dependence is the shipping industry. The daily grain and stock shipments from these two points is very heavy. The bulk of this business will now be cut off. Lemars with between 5,000 and 6,000 depending on farming and milling industries, has two roads, but the loss of the main Central will be a severe blow. Merrill will have two northern outlets left and suffers the loss of the good shipping points by the impending change.

All of these towns were directly founded by the Illinois Central and they feel keenly the proposed desertion. While acknowledging the desirability of the sacrifice, they wince at being the victims. The town of Kingsley, 1,200, will likewise be unfavorably affected by the short line, as it lies just four miles south of the survey. The new line will shorten the distance between Cherokee and Sioux City by about fifteen miles.

The Central is straightening out other kinks on its way and will come near to having a perfect air line between Sioux City and Chicago when all is finished. In railroad circles this is well known to be but a small detail in new far-reaching plans of the Illinois Central.

New Depot at Friend.

FRIEND, Neb., Aug. 11.—(Special.)—The new depot in course of construction by the B. & M. in this city will be the finest of its class between Lincoln and Kearney. The building is 97 1/2 x 36 feet, with the foundation of grout. The building will be of pressed brick, with metal roof and will be strictly fireproof. The floors will be of brick and tile, with brick platforms and approaches. The ground outside will be planted with flower and lawn plats. The brick work was commenced today.

Dr. G. W. Watson is engaged in removing the three wood buildings south of the Merchants' and Farmers' bank, preparatory to erecting a fine business block, which will begin September 1.

The new city well at the pumping station has proved a success and the city is placed beyond the possibility of failure in a supply of water by reason of breakdowns or otherwise.

DENVER, Aug. 11.—The State Railroad Commissioners' association finished its work and adjourned at 1:30 o'clock this afternoon. The following officers were re-elected: President, W. D. Evans, South Carolina, first vice president; W. W. Ainsworth, Minnesota, second vice president; E. C. Moseley, District of Columbia, secretary; S. Decker, District of Columbia, assistant secretary.

Recommend Change in Law.

CHICAGO, Aug. 11.—A special to the Record from Denver says: Shortly before midnight the National Association of Railroad Commissioners adopted a resolution recommending the next congress to revise the interstate commerce law upon the suggestion made by the Interstate Commerce Commission in its last report. The resolution, which was prepared by the committee on legislation, was adopted without discussion. Immediately upon the adoption, Commissioner Osborne of Michigan vigorously protested against the action on the ground that the matter had not been properly discussed. Spirited discussion followed, but it effected no change.

Can Get Along Without Operators.

BOSTON, Aug. 11.—General Manager Chamberlain of the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad, into whose hands the controversy between the road and its telegraph operators has been placed, said today that he does not anticipate a strike, but that if one should take place the road simply would return to the original principles of telegraphing, whereby running time and assembling places were established and observed by fixed rules.

DECLINE TO BE ANNEXED

Property Owners in West Omaha Precinct Protest Against Being Made Residents of Douglas.

Some time ago the Board of County Commissioners passed a resolution by which a strip about half a mile long in the southern part of West Omaha precinct was transferred to Douglas. Since then protests have been filed both on behalf of the twenty-six voters who live in the strip and by the residents of the northern half of Douglas, who declare that they do not want to embark in a colonial policy. The West Omaha people contend that they have paid taxes on account of quite a number of improvements that have been made in West Omaha and that if they are transferred into Douglas they will now be compelled to help pay for the same improvements in the other precinct. Both petitions are now in the hands of the board and it is expected that the matter will be called up for consideration at the regular meeting Saturday.

IN TROUBLE AND IN COURT

Hans Albert, the Musician, is Welcomed by Anthony Weber, anirate Husband.

It was another case of Svengali that created discord in the home life of Anthony Weber. Weber complained to the police that Hans Albert, the musician, was alienating the affections of his wife by the musical art. This was the excuse he pleaded for having attempted to trow the musician on the grass plot in front of his home while the woman in the east and the neighborhood looked on.

Both men were brought to the station and locked up on the charge of disturbing the peace by fighting. Weber explained the trouble by the statement that he returned home Thursday night and found Albert there after repeated injunctions to stay away. He said he couldn't resist the temptation to give the musician a drubbing, and did so.

Sergeant Whalen, who made the arrest, said he saw a crowd in front of Weber's home, 1903 Leavenworth street, and on making an investigation found several men sitting on Weber and as many more on Albert. There had been a fight, the onlookers explained, and the neighbors had merely interfered to keep the men from doing more.

Weber said that he objected to Hans Albert giving his wife music lessons free. He had ordered the musician from the house under penalty of pitching into him if he returned, but the threats did not avail and he felt compelled to take heroic measures. Weber told Albert that he ought to be content with having had two wives and not try to take his for a third. Both men were scratched considerably and Albert's clothing was badly torn.

Story of a Slave.

After using two bottles of Electric Bitters she is wonderfully improved and able to do her own work."
