This statement was made by Vice Chairman of the Democratic National Committee William J. Stone when he was asked about reports from Washington that he was preparing to forsake Bryan and take up Rear Admiral Schley as a candidate for the democratic presidential nomination.

Mr. Stone further said: "I have never heard Schley's name mentioned as a possible candidate for president, except in news paper gossip. I never thought this was serious and do not think the last report to any more serious than the others. I have never thought of Schley as anything but a brave naval officer. This talk about my being for him is rot. I am for Bryan."

Speaking of the democratic conferences re ported as being held at Saratoga, Mr. Stone "I don't believe the conferences amount to anything. This talk about them is all nonsense."

Said to Be the Aggregate of Policies on Life of Prince of Wales. A big insurance man in New York told a Chicago Record correspondent that the was asked if he had brought the information prince of Wales was the heaviest risk of any patron of the insurance business, and that pany is made up of the fighting feudists for work done without competitive bidding. his death would cost English, German, "Yes, there it is," he said, pointing to five French and American companies not less

"No other person carries 20 per cent of that insurance," he said, "but comparatively little of it is for the benefit of his family; perhaps not more than $1,000,000. years ago large policies were taken out by his creditors as security for money loaned If he should ever pay his debts they would of course revert to him, and might be car ried for the benefit of his family, but his by two men on Front street at midday and premiums, like the premiums on all of the royal families of Europe, are very highmuch higher than those paid by private in dividuals for the same amount of insur-

Over there any man can secure a policy on the life of a neighbor, provided he can persuade the neighbor to submit to a medical examination or find a company which has recently had him examined. Thus when the Prince of Wales undergoes an examination for insurance lots of speculators apply to the same company for policies on his life, or get certified copies of the report of the medical examiner and use them with other companies. It is pure speculation. They pay a high premium, a margin, so to speak or, to put it in another way, they book wager with the insurance companies that the prince will die before the total of their premiums exceeds the amount of the Therefore many persons would be financially benefited if Albert Edward should drop of auddenly one of these fine days. The prince is perfectly aware of this fact. He knows very well that advantages have been taken of his situation, but I do not suppose i
