DEWEY'S GREETING IN GOTHAM.

In the triumphal arch and colonnade which is to be erected at Madison square for the Dewey celebration New York is to have a work which, in the opinion of the National Sculpture society, will surpass anything that has before been realized for such a purpose in sculpture decoration. The scheme was carefully worked out, relates the New York Sun, and was submitted to the plan and scope committee of the celebration, at that committee's request, by a committee of the National Sculpture society, composed of John Q. A. Ward, chairman; Karl Ritter and

Charles B. Lamb, architect, and John De-Witt Warner. ebration committee is to be not above $10,000, a figure indicating not a twentieth part of what the arch with its colonnade will represent. The plan has been adopted by the celebration committee.

The arch, which is to be on the general lines of the Arch of Titus, but having in effect four piers instead of two, the long piers being pierced through the sides, as in the case of the Arc de Triomphe, will be built in Fifth avenue on the axis of Twenty-fourth street. The lines of columns forming the approach from either direction will be placed at the Fifth avenue curbs down as far as Twenty-third street and up to Twentyfifth street. The whole structure will be visible not only from up and down the avenue and the side streets, but from Broadway all the way from Union square to Thirtythird street. At one end of the colonnade subsidiary sculptural groups representing the army and the navy are to be placed and at the other end similar groups representative of the East and West Indies. These, the main sculptural adornment will be focussed or concentrated. The four piers, which will be formed by the piercing of the great piers, are to form a series of allegorical subjects: Patriotism, which will be figured as the call to arms; War, which will represent the fight; The Return, picturing the homecoming of the victors, and Peace, where the volunteer sol-diers will be shown taking up again their civil occupations. Above these groups, on either side, the finals of the columns are to portray eight of the famous naval heroes of the country, whose names were selected by Secretary Long at the Sculpture society committee's request: John Paul Jones, for the the war of the revolution; Decatur, Hull,

For the officials it is proposed to have on the rostrum a sedilla, n connection with which the coats of arms of the nation, state and city shall occupy their appropriate places over the seats of the representative officials. Also, in connection with the rostrum, it is planned to place a sculptural composition representing the greater city, with its five buroughs, a symbolical figure for each burough. As a background to the sedilla the scheme contemplates the carrying up of large gonfalons,
