BELLSTEDT'S BAND DELIGHTS ALL COMERS

Indian Races and War Dance Draw Crowds—Fine Collection of Art Afforded This Year—Inmates Will Not Visit the Exposition.

VENETIAN CARNIVAL DAY.

2:30 p. m.—Bicycle Concert band at the Auditorium. 3:30 p. m.—Bicycle races, with Indian band on the Race Course (no extra charge). 7 p. m.—Venetian carnival. Bellstedt's Concert band on the "Olympic" Indian band on the plaza of the Government building, Hawaiian double quartet, Philippine band, modern quartet on the Lagoon. 8 p. m.—Modern Woodmen of America uniformed drill team give an exhibition drill at the Fraternity building.

The attendance at the exposition is growing with each day and the visitors from out of town are far more numerous than they were. The hotels of the city are fast filling up and the indications are that people coming Omaha will be more and more numerous as the days go by.

The Missouri Press association, with fifty-two members, arrived at the grounds for a short stay. The delegation is on its way to St. Paul and stopped over to see the White City. A luncheon was given at the Philippine cafe for the visitors, which proved to be a very enjoyable affair.

BOTH BEAUTY AND BRILLIANCY.

Bellstedt's Band Characterized by the Above Qualities.

An old master has said, and well said, that one of the greatest charms of music is brilliancy. No form of music is more brilliant than that of a "harmonic band," as the Germans call it, or what is known in English as the "reed band." The whole array of brass instruments from the deepest tones of trombones and tubas up through the line of French horns and the whole list of valved horns to the highest corner compasses of each main volume of such a band, while the mellow voices of the clarinets, the plaintive oboe, the sweet flute and the merry piccolo with the jar and jingle of the drums and cymbals make up a rich variety.

Notwithstanding the day was warm and the general attendance not great, the Auditorium concert Thursday afternoon was another charming success, a very fine audience being delighted with the music, as the delicate and earnest applause at the close of each selection abundantly evidenced.

The program was a mixed one, consisting of the classic and the popular, and it was hard to tell which pleased, the applause greeting each number, and as usual it was impossible to respond to each encore and through the hours of the afternoon, Bellstedt's only relief was to make his programs shorter, thus giving his admirers the benefit of the encore. Seven or eight selections were called for yesterday, some of which were given, and as the program was given from time to time as occasion permits. The leader strives to please, feeling that he is here to assist the people to enjoy themselves as well as to educate them, at the same time elevating the standard of music and holding aloft the banner of art. The band is growing in popular favor and is but mildly expressing the truth, which is patent to every observer.

SCENES ALONG THE MIDWAY.

What the Famous Street Has to Interest Sightseers.

The Philippine village is fast becoming a completion in all its ramifications. A large native hut, with many compartments, is just about completed. The thatch of this structure was brought from the famous islands and the furniture and furnishings were also imported. The Filipinos moved into their new quarters Thursday, and are thoroughly at home. A native room is being arranged with the peculiar furniture of the island and six women, a man and some children are to live in it. It will be arranged so that people may see the natives in their native styles that obtain in Manila. One of the odd sights of the village is that of the water buffaloes being used as beasts of burden, hitched to two-wheeled carts.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

There will be an important meeting of the South Side Improvement club at Tenth and Hickory tonight at 8 o'clock.

For assaulting Miss Priddy, a North Sixteenth street saloon keeper, James Whalen was bound over to the district court in the sum of $300.

The Smith hotel case was up before Judge Baker yesterday afternoon and on the showing made the mandatory injunction was dissolved.

Mrs. G. A. Merchant reports to the police that her pocketbook was stolen from her at the exposition Wednesday. She is a visitor in the city.

Burglars entered M. Goldberg's grocery store early yesterday morning by prying open the door of a feed and hay store adjoining and crawling through a window. They secured about $100 worth of cigars.

Sparks from a chimney dropping on an awning over one of the windows of the Henshaw hotel set fire to the canvas and was the cause of an alarm about 11 o'clock yesterday morning. The flames were extinguished before the arrival of the department.

A small blaze caused by the lighting of gasoline gave the fire department a run yesterday morning at 8 o'clock. The blaze occurred in the kitchen of a dwelling at 113 South Eighteenth street, occupied by Mrs. Nita M. Miner. The damage was slight.

EXCELLENT DISPLAY OF ART.

Twelve Galleries Filled with Pictures Mostly by American Artists.

Something like 900 canvases have been hung in the Fine Arts building, and still there are others which will be set on the floors, as a great many more have been taken. The collection of pictures is a credit not only to the exposition and the state, but to the west as well, for there is not such another group of paintings in the west. Twelve halls have been filled with some of the best work of later years, and not only are good foreign painters represented in the collection, but what is better, a great many of the best American artists have pictures there.

As a whole, the collection is most superior. There are a few pictures of extreme excellence, a great many of much merit and a few of mediocre worth, but there is plenty to interest art lovers as well as those who want to see a story in everything.

For the last few days visitors at the gallery have been interested in watching Mr. Key change the lighting in the large pictures of the World's Fair. They were painted originally to be hung in the electric lights, and so the work had to be highly colored and the walls of the buildings were made quite yellow. Mr. Key is now going over them and subduing the lights to fit the sunshiny room. He is also bringing the figures out more prominently.

WERE DECKED IN FIERCE ARRAY.

Indians Demonstrate One of Their Peculiar Dances.

The sun poured down rather hotly on the grand stand at the race tracks Thursday, yet a great many more people were present to witness the races and the Omaha dance. The whole program was given over to Indians, the races being on ponies, and the Indian band furnished the music.

The races were exciting and the Indians seemed to take as great a delight in them as the white people. Hard-to-Hit was first place, James Red Cloud second, Little Horse third and Kills-Alone fourth in the first race.

THOMAS AMERICAN HORSE CAME OUT AHEAD IN THE LAST RACE.

Thomas American Horse came out ahead in the last race, with Joseph Standing Bear second and Plenty Wound third. The dance that followed was one to fill a person with dread as the savages were decked out in unlimited war paint, feathers and other accoutrements that are supposed to be necessary at such a function. The braves were striped and were painted in grotesque patterns. Their weird chants and peculiar gestures were of much interest to those who are unfamiliar with the Indian and his habits.

INNES WILL NOT COME TO OMAHA.

His Price Proves Prohibitory and Management is Opposed.

President Miller received word Thursday from Innes, the bandmaster, at Atlantic City. Negotiations have been going on between the management of the exposition and Mr. Innes for some time, but all hopes of getting the favorite band here were puffed out yesterday. The letter received states the terms for which he will come, and no sooner were they made known to the executive committee than it was decided that it would be out of all question to try to get the band here. The terms demanded are prohibitory, and Dr. Miller and the members of the executive committee state that the band will not be here. Dr. Miller and Mr. Innes had an interview with Innes when they were in New York and at that time it was thought that an engagement might be made for the very last of the big show, but it now seems that the plan is not feasible. There has been a great deal of talk concerning the band this year and President Miller stated that he would like the public to know definitely that the engagement would not be forthcoming.

Nearly every business house in the city and many residences are now equipped with the new metallic circuit, long-distance transmitter system and the change is making a great deal of work for the construction force.

The members of the South Omaha Hospital association tender thanks to the sincere thanks to the local electric light company, to Messrs. Honey, Parkhurst and Levy, who furnished the program, and to all others who by their donations, money or patronage assisted in making the lawn party given Monday evening for the benefit of the association a success. Residents of South Omaha were liberal in their patronage and quite a sum was raised for a very worthy object.

SOUTH OMAHA NEWS.

Yesterday the force in the city treasurer's office commenced the work of preparing the delinquent tax list. This record must be in the hands of the county treasurer by September 15, and the property so listed will be advertised for the first week in October.

On the first Monday in November the property contained in his list will be offered for sale at public auction, after which time said property can be purchased at private sale.

In looking over the records it is found that taxes on certain pieces of property in this city are delinquent since 1889, the year when the first record was made. Some instances are noted where the property will not sell for as much now as the taxes amount to.

In this connection it is stated that the city council will soon have to take some action toward clearing up the record on the tax books and either buy up the property at the tax sale or secure possession in some other way in order to assist in paying the outstanding indebtedness against the districts in which the land in question is situated.

As an illustration, the block between L and M streets and Twenty-second and Twenty-third streets has a debt, which could not be wiped out even if the land should be sold. Some years ago the alley in this block was filled at a cost of over $10,000, at one or two places a fill of eighty-five feet being necessary. The original tax for this grading was $637 for a full lot, and with interest added now amounts to about $1,000, which is several hundred dollars more than the property is worth today.

For instance, lot 2, in block 120, has a grading tax amounting to $297 assessed against it. This year and for a number of years previous the owner has neglected to pay it, which would make its value $125. Lot 3, in the same block, is taxed the same amount as lot 2 for grading, but is assessed at $10, making the value $50.

An unusual effort has been made of late by Treasurer Broadwell to collect all of the back taxes possible and hundreds of notices have been sent out. This work is bearing fruit, as returns are being made every day. Many are paying up back personal taxes which clears the record.

It is estimated that at least $120,000 in general taxes remain unpaid. This is without interest. The amount to be added at least $200,000 for delinquent district and personal taxes, which make $320,000 due the city. This latter amount is only slightly in excess of the general bonded indebtedness of the city, which is $307,000. Should the courts finally declare that the Twenty-fourth street paving tax was illegal, it would reduce the burden of the city largely by increasing at least $50,000. In addition to the $307,000 of general bonds there is at the present time outstanding $210,000 in district bonds. In some instances the property in the district cannot pay the tax and this will eventually have to be assumed by the city at large.

REBELS LACK ORGANIZATION.

Latest Invasion of Santo Domingo Results in Disaster to Invaders.

NEW YORK, Aug. 17.—A dispatch to the Herald from Santo Domingo says: Another invasion from Haiti was attempted this morning, Tuesday. The government forces met the insurgents near Monte Cristi and after lively fighting the invaders were dispersed and some of them, it is reported, were captured.

This may end the trouble in that section, as the revolutionary movement apparently lacks organization and is sporadic in its nature. The revolutionists so far have carried on only a guerrilla warfare and the general population is against the government outbreaks. Reports from the interior say that everything is quiet.

During the celebrations incident to the national holiday there was a demonstration this evening in the Plaza Colon, in this city, by the younger citizens, against the government. Speeches calculated to excite the populace were made and a proclamation signed by business men and lawyers was distributed. It demanded that the present officials retire in favor of new men, but it is not known what result was accomplished by the change by force.

Several of the leaders were arrested and the trouble seems now at an end, but the incident shows that discontent exists. The people generally are hopeful that the civil troubles will soon be settled.

PEACE REIGNS ONCE AGAIN.

Closing Session of Colored Women Marked by Contrasting Conditions from Yesterday.

CHICAGO, Aug. 17.—The closing session of the convention of the National Association of Colored Women of America was held here today. In contrast to the excitement of yesterday over the election of officers peace reigned. Mrs. Elizabeth C. Carter, representing 1,000 members of the National association, in a well-aimed frame of mind and it is thought that the threat of withdrawal made by the eastern woman because she held that her territory had been slighted in the selection of officers will not be carried out.

Numerous resolutions in line with the purpose of the association were adopted. The death of Colonel Ingersoll, who, in his will, left $1,000 to the John Brown monument fund, was deplored. A banquet this evening was the closing feature of the convention.

ROOSEVELT IS FOR HOBART.

Under No Circumstances Will the Governor of New York Accept Vice Presidential Nomination.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Aug. 17.—The News says: Recently a statement was published that Roosevelt would be McKinley's running mate next fall. The governor was shown this statement. According to his usual custom, he asked not to be quoted directly in the matter, but he made it so emphatic in his talk with close friends that no one who had any reason for doubting that he is induced to take the nomination for the vice presidency under any conditions. In fact, he said that he and all his friends were for Vice President Hobart and that he would probably be nominated, but that if for any reason Hobart were not re-nominated he (Roosevelt) could not be induced to take the nomination.

TO CONSIDER DISCRIMINATIONS.

CHICAGO, Aug. 17.—A delegation of business men from Kansas City were in conference with the officials of some of the western railroads today regarding what they call the discriminations practiced against their city by the roads. They were in conference all day for the purpose of securing the aid of the officers of the Rock Island, Burlington and Santa Fe roads. The Kansas City delegation contended that through lines discriminate against their markets. The arbitrary rates vary from 1 cent to 5 cents per 100 tons, and are for bulk shipments and it is claimed it is cheaper for the farmers and shippers from small towns to ship direct to Chicago and St. Louis than to Kansas City because of this differential. The railroad men promised to come to a decision within a week and to notify the members of the delegation of their action.

ATTORNEY GENERAL GIVES HULLING.

ATTORNEY GENERAL GIVES HULLING. General Jeff Day, at St. Louis, gave out a statement to the press in which he says he will advise all corporations which refer the matter to a board of directors to execute the state the affidavit required of them by the Rector act-trust law. He says that if they decline to furnish the affidavit there is no law to punish them that can be enforced. He bases his opinion upon this fact. The affidavit is a verbal copy of the affidavit prescribed by the legislature in a similar anti-trust law of the state of Missouri. The question was carried up to the supreme court in that state, which body declared after a hearing in the case of the State of Missouri against Simmons Hardware company, that the affidavit is unconstitutional, holding that the requiring of a corporation to file an affidavit of that character is virtually compelling a man to testify against himself, which he is exempted from doing by the organic law of the state.

ILL-FORTUNE PURSUED THEM

After Enduring Untold Hardships Dusted Diamond Gold-Seeking Party Returns.

SEATTLE, Wash., Aug. 17.—W. H. Rose-camp of Chicago, who was a member of the Dusty Diamond party of Chicago, has returned from Alaska with an interesting tale of the country and its fortunes.

The party was composed of fifty men, members of the Chicago fire department and manufacturers of that city. They sailed from Seattle in May, 1897, intending to go to Dawson City. Through ill luck they reached St. Michaels late and were stranded there until it became too late to make a trip up country. Then they headed for the Fish River country, in the Golovin bay district, from which good reports were coming.

There they have remained ever since. The expedition outfit cost an even $50,000, $1,000 being put into the proposition by every member of the party. After sixteen months of enduring hardships and privations they have been enabled to draw out $400 to the man. The party is now broken up and dispersed. Thirty-nine of the men worked steadily through June and July last, settling on some claims owned by the party on Ophir creek, a small tributary to the Neukuk river in the Golovin bay district. For this two months' work they got only $4,000, which was divided pro rata among the fifty men. The rest of the party found from eighteen inches to four feet below the surface.

There was an immense amount of water in the creek and a great deal of dam had to be built in order to make it possible to sluice at all. Throughout the long winter months the party suffered from cutting lumber and preparing for the sluice. Winter was passed without great hardship, owing to the abundant fuel and the large amount of supplies on hand. Finally coming to the conclusion that the Dusty Diamond expedition was not worth the money, the men decided to liquidate and wind up the affairs of the company. They sold the steamer, which cost them $5,000, for $1,500 to the Alaska Exploring company. They sold a lot of their goods and during the open season made some money with the steamer. Twelve of the party returned to Seattle by the Alliance, Captain Sieger, who headed the expedition and who was once a captain in the Chicago fire department, left the country some time ago with a number of others.
