CHICAGO, Aug. 25 .- Corn was the most active market on 'change today. Rumors of a squeeze in the September option alarmed shorts and advanced the price 5/2 Wheat was slow and irregular, with trading mostly professional and with sentiment favoring lower prices. September closed a shade lower and December &c lower. Oats closed a shade higher and provisions 21/20 lower to 5c higher. Flaxseed was again in big demand and advanced about 3c for cash. At the opening and for a short time after wheat was influenced by the strength of corn. Shorts were having a big scramble in that pit and their engerness to get under cover had some effect on shorts in wheat, Longs were out of the market for the time being and prices advanced for both September and December. December opened un-changed at 787sc and advanced to 740274%c. September opened a shade higher at 71% @ 715kc and advanced to 72c. The demand was small, however, and news in general favorsmall, however, and news in general favor-ing the bears a selling movement set in at the advance, which was almost entirely professional at first, but which finally brought out side longs to the market and induced a good deal of liquidation, resulting in a material decline in prices all around. The market became extremely duil and after 11 o'clock prices kept within a com-paratively narrow range, but with senti-ment favoring the selling side, and rallies were invariably followed by fresh attacks by the bears.

 Tarti Vey, marking, followed by fresh attacks by the bears.
