Fusion at Ainsworth Results in a Ticket Easy for the Republicens to Defeat.

AINSWORTH, Neb., Aug. 27.-(Special Telegram.)-The fusion conventions were held here Saturday and after a good deal of wrangling and jangling between the popocrats on one side and the democrats and silverites on the other, succeeded in nominating a more pleasing ticket to republicans than the latter could possibly have selected if left to them to name. The main disturbance occurred when the populists almost unanimously nominated Frank Whittecar for sheriff, to which the democrats objected, and chose J. M. Curry for the same place. After about an hour of rustling the democrats succeeded in fooling the populists into a joint ballot and with the aid of the seven silverites present knocked out Whittecar and nominated their man Curry, much to the expressed disgust of the populist contingent, which will see them later. Finally late in

The democrats presented a series of resolutions endorsing Governor Poynter and 16 to 1, con-.33 demning imperialism, etc., which were received with profound silence and simply accepted without any demonstration whatever. The conventions created no interest in the public mind, and outside of perhaps half a dozen of curious republicans nobody was present at the sessions, save about half delegations from some of the principal precincts, while many precincts were not represented at all.
