

CROWDS LISTEN TO MUSIC

One Special Sunday Feature at the Greater America Exposition.

REVIEW OF PAINTINGS IN GALLERY NO. 3

Classical Program for Tonight in the Auditorium—Big Day Expected Tuesday When the First Regiment Gets In.

MONDAY.

11:00 a. m.—Indian band parade on the Grand Court.
1:00 p. m.—Bellet's Concert band.
3:00 p. m.—Arrival of the First Nebraska Regiment.

TUESDAY.

11:00 a. m.—Arrival of the First Nebraska Regiment from the Philippines.
1:00 p. m.—Reception to First Nebraska Regiment.
3:00 p. m.—Four running races, Indian pony and foot races, Indian square race, with Indian band at the race course.

Music was the all attractive feature at the exposition Sunday and it drew a good many out to the grounds in the afternoon and in the evening. The sacred concert in the afternoon was another one of the enjoyable events of the Bellet's engagement. The auditorium was nearly filled when the first number was begun and the applause was so hearty that the program was just about doubled.

The first number was the overture from "Oberon" by Weber. It is an indifferent selection for a band, and proved to be the least pleasing number on the program. The Andante and Rondo Capriccioso of Mendelssohn was a beautiful number, and given almost faultlessly. There are few bands in the country that will attempt the piece, but it is a fine thing when it is given as it was Sunday.

PAINTINGS IN GALLERY NO. 3

Room is Given Over Mostly to Landscapes. The Fine Arts building was visited by large numbers Sunday and the many good pictures received a good deal of attention. The favorite picture up to the present time seems to be "The Trackless Ocean" by Sheppard. This bit of seascape in the second gallery is always surrounded by a group of admirers. Gallery No. 3 has eighty-four canvases on its walls, but no one of them is of superior excellence, although all are of more or less merit.

"The Tide Creek" by Harrison, is a really good picture that reminds one of Sidney Lanier's poem, "The Marshes of Lynnh." "Getting a Light," by Parshall, is a picture of an old man lighting his pipe in the shelter of a wooden shanty. "A Wet Night, Fifty-ninth Street," is a bit of effective work. It shows the tall buildings of New York, drenched with rain and wrapped in deep shadows, which are made to look deeper and gloomier by the faint glimmer of the night lights of the city.

TAKES A HIGH PLACE

Stands Well in the Estimation of the People. Attention is Naturally Excited When Anything is Praised by People When We Know.

A thing that stands high in the estimation of the public, and which is especially recommended by Omaha people, naturally excites our attention more than if our own people did not praise the article. Such a thing is going on right here in this city every day, people are praising Morrow's Kid-neo-ids because they cure. There is no deception, no humbug, they do positively cure, and we furnish the evidence.

Mr. H. L. Small of 1510 Ohio street, says: "I have suffered from kidney trouble for the past ten years. I had been so badly afflicted lately that I could not do any kind of work. I had a dull heavy pain across the small of my back almost constantly. The pain extended from the region of my kidneys to my shoulders. I was subject to spells of dizziness and urinary disturbances of an alarming nature. I could not sleep well on account of nervousness. Learning about Morrow's Kid-neo-ids I decided to try them. I took them according to directions and was greatly relieved in a very short time. I continued to take them and they have completely cured me of all my former troubles."

to landscape, and several of these are good. One that is bright and pleasing is a scene in a rose garden. A young woman of many charms of person is plucking bright roses. The canvas is small, but there is much to please in the work of the artist.

DRIFT OF COUNTRY CAMPAIGN

Great Interest in Republican Ward Meetings, Especially for an Off Year. SCOTT'S PLUGGERS STILL AT WORK. Con Gallagher Hangers for Office—Pete Eisasser Wants to Step into Albyn Frank's Shoes—McDonald's Manipulations.

Now that the dates for the republican and democratic county conventions have been set—the first on Saturday, September 9, and the latter on Saturday, September 16—the political pot is beginning to simmer. Candidates who have been regular attendants at the republican club meetings say that they have never seen so much interest in the ward meetings in an off year as is apparent in this campaign. The meetings are all well attended, there is a general disposition to harmonize differences as far as possible and it is noticed that many republicans turn out who do not usually take much interest in politics except in a presidential year.

As the date of the fusion convention approaches there is a good deal of agitation of the question whether any of the republican candidates shall be endorsed. Some of the democratic delegations to the judicial convention are instructed to demand a straight ticket, but there is a strong sentiment in other quarters in favor of endorsing two or three republicans. Some of the democrats are demanding the nomination of Judge Powell and a large element is in favor of endorsing at least two of the republican candidates. Judge Estelle, Fawcett and Keyser are most frequently mentioned in this connection.

HEARD ABOUT TOWN.

A gentleman from Virginia occupied a rocker at one of the hotels Sunday evening and discussed political matters with other guests. He talked with a broad southern accent, and was very positive in his opinions. "I can name three combinations for the presidential nomination, either of which will be popular in my state," said the gentleman. "First, I would take Roosevelt and Fitzhugh Lee; next I would name McKinley and Joe Wheeler, and if that couldn't be done I would pick McKinley and Roosevelt. Either combination would be a winner, sir."

The visitor from the Old Dominion branched off into a discussion of the war. He had no sympathy for the men who were complaining of hardships. "I had a younger brother who went to Cuba," he said, "and when he came back I asked him how he got along. Before he had time to answer, though, I warned him not to kick about the treatment of the soldiers, or he would get thrashed. I reminded him that his father went all through the rebellion on the contrary, suffering for want of food and clothing and everything else, but never kicking. Well, sir, after that the boy never growled a bit. He said the trip down here was no picnic, but he guessed it was a snap to the side of what the Virginians enjoyed in the old time."

"I have no patience with these fellows who come home kicking about the treatment," continued the Virginia man. "The chances are you will find that many of them had better clothes, better food and more pocket money than they ever had before in their lives."

Rev. George R. Lunn, who has for the past nine months been pastor of the Bedford Place Presbyterian church, leaves this morning for the east. He will go by way of Duluth and the great lakes and arrive at Cambridge, Mass., in about three weeks, where he will take up study in the Episcopal school, and also take a post graduate in Harvard university. Rev. Lunn is a young man of many attainments. He was educated at Bellevue college and later went to Princeton university. He enlisted in the Third Nebraska regiment and was in the Cuban campaign. Mr. Lunn leaves the church in this city with the well wishes of all the members of his congregation. His farewell sermon was preached Sunday and the service was a very affecting one.

J. C. Dahlman, chairman of the democratic state committee, who is in the city in answer to an inquiry regarding the headquarters of the committee for the coming campaign that it had been settled that the location would be in Omaha. The purpose was to get rooms in one of the leading hotels, but the selection has not yet been made. He did not think any objection would come out of the fact that the popular headquarters would be located at Lincoln and the democratic at Omaha.

Personal Paragraphs. B. H. Stoner of Kearney is in the city. H. S. Manville of Fremont is in the city. C. G. Hysam of Red Oak, Ia., is visiting in the city.

H. T. Brown of Spokane, Wash., is at the Her Grand. J. L. Moore and wife of Buffalo are guests at a leading hotel.

Mrs. F. A. Thackeray of Geneva, Neb., is visiting in the city. Mrs. M. Babcock of Galesburg, Ill., is a guest at the Her Grand.

C. W. Gardner of Bloomington is at one of the prominent hotels in town. John Kenny of Blair was in the city over Sunday, seeing the exposition.

George B. Harris, second vice president of the Burlington system, is at the Millard. Mrs. L. Gunder and Mrs. J. H. Otto of Milwaukee are exposition visitors registered at the Her Grand.

A. W. Clarke, the Papillon banker, and Louis Lesieur, real estate man from the same place, were in the city Sunday.

Judson Graves, editor of the Neligh Advocate and one of the most prominent republicans in Antelope county, is in the city. Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Weller, 2192 Burt street, were called to Denver Sunday evening by a telegram announcing the serious illness of their daughter, Mrs. Olive W. Davenport.

R. H. Jenness, formerly a resident of Omaha and a member of the legislature of 1895, came down from O'Neill Tuesday to spend a few days in the city. Mr. Jenness went up to north Nebraska in the fall of 1895 and is now holding the position of receiver of the land office at O'Neill.

DRIFT OF COUNTRY CAMPAIGN

Great Interest in Republican Ward Meetings, Especially for an Off Year.

SCOTT'S PLUGGERS STILL AT WORK

Con Gallagher Hangers for Office—Pete Eisasser Wants to Step into Albyn Frank's Shoes—McDonald's Manipulations.

Now that the dates for the republican and democratic county conventions have been set—the first on Saturday, September 9, and the latter on Saturday, September 16—the political pot is beginning to simmer. Candidates who have been regular attendants at the republican club meetings say that they have never seen so much interest in the ward meetings in an off year as is apparent in this campaign. The meetings are all well attended, there is a general disposition to harmonize differences as far as possible and it is noticed that many republicans turn out who do not usually take much interest in politics except in a presidential year.

As the date of the fusion convention approaches there is a good deal of agitation of the question whether any of the republican candidates shall be endorsed. Some of the democratic delegations to the judicial convention are instructed to demand a straight ticket, but there is a strong sentiment in other quarters in favor of endorsing two or three republicans. Some of the democrats are demanding the nomination of Judge Powell and a large element is in favor of endorsing at least two of the republican candidates. Judge Estelle, Fawcett and Keyser are most frequently mentioned in this connection.

HEARD ABOUT TOWN.

A gentleman from Virginia occupied a rocker at one of the hotels Sunday evening and discussed political matters with other guests. He talked with a broad southern accent, and was very positive in his opinions. "I can name three combinations for the presidential nomination, either of which will be popular in my state," said the gentleman. "First, I would take Roosevelt and Fitzhugh Lee; next I would name McKinley and Joe Wheeler, and if that couldn't be done I would pick McKinley and Roosevelt. Either combination would be a winner, sir."

The visitor from the Old Dominion branched off into a discussion of the war. He had no sympathy for the men who were complaining of hardships. "I had a younger brother who went to Cuba," he said, "and when he came back I asked him how he got along. Before he had time to answer, though, I warned him not to kick about the treatment of the soldiers, or he would get thrashed. I reminded him that his father went all through the rebellion on the contrary, suffering for want of food and clothing and everything else, but never kicking. Well, sir, after that the boy never growled a bit. He said the trip down here was no picnic, but he guessed it was a snap to the side of what the Virginians enjoyed in the old time."

"I have no patience with these fellows who come home kicking about the treatment," continued the Virginia man. "The chances are you will find that many of them had better clothes, better food and more pocket money than they ever had before in their lives."

Rev. George R. Lunn, who has for the past nine months been pastor of the Bedford Place Presbyterian church, leaves this morning for the east. He will go by way of Duluth and the great lakes and arrive at Cambridge, Mass., in about three weeks, where he will take up study in the Episcopal school, and also take a post graduate in Harvard university. Rev. Lunn is a young man of many attainments. He was educated at Bellevue college and later went to Princeton university. He enlisted in the Third Nebraska regiment and was in the Cuban campaign. Mr. Lunn leaves the church in this city with the well wishes of all the members of his congregation. His farewell sermon was preached Sunday and the service was a very affecting one.

J. C. Dahlman, chairman of the democratic state committee, who is in the city in answer to an inquiry regarding the headquarters of the committee for the coming campaign that it had been settled that the location would be in Omaha. The purpose was to get rooms in one of the leading hotels, but the selection has not yet been made. He did not think any objection would come out of the fact that the popular headquarters would be located at Lincoln and the democratic at Omaha.

Personal Paragraphs. B. H. Stoner of Kearney is in the city. H. S. Manville of Fremont is in the city. C. G. Hysam of Red Oak, Ia., is visiting in the city.

H. T. Brown of Spokane, Wash., is at the Her Grand. J. L. Moore and wife of Buffalo are guests at a leading hotel.

Mrs. F. A. Thackeray of Geneva, Neb., is visiting in the city. Mrs. M. Babcock of Galesburg, Ill., is a guest at the Her Grand.

C. W. Gardner of Bloomington is at one of the prominent hotels in town. John Kenny of Blair was in the city over Sunday, seeing the exposition.

George B. Harris, second vice president of the Burlington system, is at the Millard. Mrs. L. Gunder and Mrs. J. H. Otto of Milwaukee are exposition visitors registered at the Her Grand.

A. W. Clarke, the Papillon banker, and Louis Lesieur, real estate man from the same place, were in the city Sunday.

Judson Graves, editor of the Neligh Advocate and one of the most prominent republicans in Antelope county, is in the city. Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Weller, 2192 Burt street, were called to Denver Sunday evening by a telegram announcing the serious illness of their daughter, Mrs. Olive W. Davenport.

R. H. Jenness, formerly a resident of Omaha and a member of the legislature of 1895, came down from O'Neill Tuesday to spend a few days in the city. Mr. Jenness went up to north Nebraska in the fall of 1895 and is now holding the position of receiver of the land office at O'Neill.

convention. There must be nearly a dozen candidates for every office, and as we have the convention these will be reduced down to only one for each office and we may have some relief. Let us have the agony over as soon as possible.

SOUTH OMAHA NEWS.

Those who are in a position to know what they are talking about give several reasons for the continued high price of beef. General prosperity throughout the country, easy money, and the reported shortage of cattle this season are given as reasons, along with the increased demand at this time. Large quantities of beef are now being shipped to Cuba and Porto Rico, while great quantities of canned meats are being constantly prepared for the government for the use of the army and navy. The demand for beef, it is stated, is greatly in excess of what it was two years ago, and with the reported shortage of cattle the farmer and stock raiser are receiving more for their cattle now than for several years past. In connection with this subject, the Omaha Stockman and Farmer has this to say:

"While beef is high we believe that still higher prices will prevail. There is a shortage of range cattle and this shortage cannot be made up in a day or in a year. As the population of the country is increasing something like 1,000,000 souls per year, which is a much greater ratio than can be hoped for in the supplies of beef. Cattlemen certainly have a bright future before them, and while prices may for a time be high, the present values, still no valid reason can be assigned why beef values should go much below present figures for many years to come."

The utter lack of knowledge on the part of the consumer is given as one reason for the high price of the carcass. The butcher is compelled to charge a big price in order to come out even on the balance of the carcass. For some portions of the carcass there is almost no sale, while of the choicest portions, the butcher is compelled to supply the demand. Consequently the less desirable portions are sold at such prices as will attract buyers, and for the choice portions enough more must be charged to make up the deficiency. A great many of the choicest portions are sold at such prices as will attract buyers, and for the choice portions enough more must be charged to make up the deficiency. A great many of the choicest portions are sold at such prices as will attract buyers, and for the choice portions enough more must be charged to make up the deficiency.

Pete Eisasser still seems to be pretty nearly the whole thing among fusion aspirants for Albyn Frank's job. Harry P. Deuel is being pushed to some extent by his friends, but he says he is not a candidate unless Frank is nominated by the republicans. In that case it would be a little too easy a thing to overlook and he would like to be on the ticket.

The decision of Judge Dickinson that he will not be a candidate for the republican nomination for supreme judge is received with general expressions of regret in local republican circles. The retirement of Judge Dickinson has incidentally revived suggestions that Judge Keyser would be an excellent man.

One of the peculiar features of the republican county campaign is the very active part that is assumed by Sheriff McDonald in endeavoring to manipulate the situation in a way that will be to his own advantage. McDonald is ostensibly a supporter of Frank, but he has developed to a certainty that his activity contemplates more directly some additional preferment for himself. McDonald has now served two terms as sheriff, during which he is said to have held over $20,000 for a rainy day. While he has been apparently working solely in Frank's interest, he is getting things fixed for a spring into the ring himself when the proper time comes.

Some time ago McDonald announced that he was not a candidate for anything and that he was particularly out of it as an aspirant for a third term as sheriff. But at the same time he spent his entire time fixing up political friends and his office has been a headquarters for politicians of all brands. It was hinted that McDonald was fully aware that Frank could not possibly be re-nominated and that he was pushing the former hope in the expectation that he would be elected sheriff. McDonald's prospects. Some of his friends began to feel the pulse of the politicians to ascertain how he would be regarded as a candidate for mayor next spring. The responses were not encouraging. The workers declared that McDonald had been enough for the present, and now it is pretty clearly understood that he has reverted to the idea of another term as sheriff.

It is not a part of his plan to be an open candidate, hence his efforts are directed toward creating a situation in which he can pose as accepting the nomination under protest. For several weeks he has been engaged in boosting the weak candidates with a view to creating a deadlock in the convention. If this can be accomplished his friends are ready to accept the nomination as a compromise and he can then coyly agree to sacrifice his inclinations out of regard for the interests of the party.

Another very significant feature of the situation is the extravagant efforts that are being made by the democrats to boost Albyn Frank's candidacy for clerk of the district court. Nine democrats out of ten are plugging for Frank as enthusiastically as intelligent republicans are demanding a clean candidate. Not the least active in this respect are the friends of prospective nominees on the fusion ticket, who recognize the fact that Frank will be a good thing if he ever gets on the ticket. The campaign with the republicans in the opinion that he would surely be defeated and the motive of their anxiety in his behalf is obvious.

SPEECH THAT HIT THE MARK

An Early Convention Brings Relief to the Man Pestored by Friendly Candidates.

The speech that made the hit at the recent meeting of the republican county central committee was that by C. W. Johnson, the general elevator man at the city hall, who was acting as committeeman from the Sixth ward. Mr. Johnson got up to express his views as between an earlier or a later convention.

Beck's Resignation Comes Tonight. It is expected that at tonight's meeting of the Board of Education Prof. J. A. Beck will tender his resignation as principal of the High school. If the resignation is accepted, which it undoubtedly will be, the High school will be left without a principal or assistant principal and the board will be called upon to fill both of these places. Members of the teachers' committee still favor a man for the position of principal and the chances are that some well known educator will be chosen for the place. Miss Hattie Moore has been proposed for assistant principal and the board will be called upon to fill both of these places. Members of the teachers' committee still favor a man for the position of principal and the chances are that some well known educator will be chosen for the place. Miss Hattie Moore has been proposed for assistant principal and the board will be called upon to fill both of these places.

Attempted Burglary at Express Office. Burglars broke into the Pacific Express office at the Union Depot some time Sunday morning and attempted to open the safe. After drilling in the safe for half an inch a layer of chilled steel was struck and the attempt was given up. The combination of the safe was not damaged in any way, the only damage being the small hole drilled in the outer casing of the safe. The burglar was effected by breaking in one of the windows.

Maize City Gossp. Miss Curran, Thirtieth and R streets, is seriously ill. William Evers of Chicago is here, the guest of Zack Cuddington. F. Ohlendorf, Twenty-second and L streets, reports the birth of a daughter. Mrs. Johanna Melcher of Atlantic, Ia., is the guest of her son, C. A. Melcher. Harry M. Christie returned yesterday from a two weeks' tour of the great lakes.

A son has been born to Mr. and Mrs. B. Sawyer, Thirtieth and L streets. Robert Parks came up from St. Joseph, Mo., yesterday to spend Sunday with friends. August Hartman and wife, Thirty-first and Eggers streets, announce the birth of a daughter.

Deputy Treasurer A. M. Gallagher will be married to Miss Nora Hannon at Louisville, Ky., on Tuesday. About $1,000 worth of damage was done to the Omaha Packing company's plant by Saturday night's fire. Charley Scarr wants it distinctly understood that when he goes home at night he is loaded for footpads. Miss Stella Campbell has returned from Illinois, where she has been visiting her sister, Mrs. Adda Hayden.

E. C. Price, general manager of Swift's plant here, has been called east by the serious illness of his mother. Frank English of Chicago has returned home after having spent a week here, the guests of the Misses Donahue. Some of the young men of this city are flying on wings of Barry O'Connell a dapper when he returns with the First Nebraska.

The Q street viaduct is covered with about three inches of dirt on account of the haul trucks that are used in the work of Armstrong's. Dr. W. P. Murray of Fremont will preside at the quarterly Methodist conference held at the First Methodist church this evening. Burglars entered the residence of N. D. Mann, Twenty-second and K streets, Sunday morning, and carried away $20 in money and what else was in the house.

Mrs. Eva Boyer, sister of Mrs. Ed Johnston, died at her home in Chicago yesterday. The remains will be interred in Prospect Hill cemetery, Omaha. Miss Grace Maxwell has returned to her duties at the central telephone office after having operated Armour's telephone exchange for a couple of weeks. All the clothing stores in the city were closed yesterday on account of a bill passed by the city council to give Sunday closing a trial.

The Salvation Army will discontinue holding its meetings at the corner of Twenty-fourth and N streets, on account of the complaints filed with the police by business men. James Carr, a laborer, is in jail charged with the larceny of some jewelry and a small amount of money from Mrs. Opperman, Twenty-fifth and P streets. After Carr's arrest the jewelry was found concealed under the jewelry.

Best Out of an Increase in His Pension. An Allyn war veteran and prominent editor writes, "Seeing the advertisement of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy I am reminded that as a soldier in Mexico I contracted Mexican diarrhoea and this remedy has kept me from getting an increase in my pension, for on every renewal a dose of it restores me. It is an unequalled quick cure for diarrhoea and is pleasant and safe to take."

Delegates to National Association. At the last meeting of the Local Letter Carriers' union four delegates were chosen to attend the convention of the National Letter Carriers' Association to be held at Scranton, Pa., September 4-9. The names of those selected are Jack Lally, James Clark, D. W. Tillotson and George Kieffer. The meeting will be held at the Pennsylvania Hotel. The day the delegates will be convened there will be a parade in which letter carriers from New York, Philadelphia and St. Louis will march. The parade will be reviewed by President McKinley and the postmaster general, Charles Emory Smith, both of whom will deliver addresses at the convention.

The efforts of the delegates will be centered in bringing influence to bear upon congressmen to have passed at the next session of the house of congress a bill providing for an increase of salaries for letter carriers of the fourth grade. The salary asked for will be $1,200.

Terrorize His Wife. Fred Friend, living at 1417 South Seventeenth street, broke up a good deal of his Sick Women Advised to Seek Advice of Mrs. Pinkham. "I had inflammation and falling of the womb, and inflammation of ovaries, and was in great pain. I took medicine prescribed by a physician, but it did me no good. At last I heard of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and after using it faithfully I am thankful to say I am a well woman. I would advise all suffering women to seek advice of Mrs. Pinkham."—Mrs. G. H. CHAFFELL, GRANT PARK, ILL.

"For several years my health was miserable. I suffered the most dreadful pains, and was almost on the verge of insanity. I consulted one of the best physicians in New York, and he pronounced my disease a fibroid tumor, advising an operation without delay, saying that it was my only chance for life. Other doctors prescribed strong and violent medicine, and one said my only salvation was galvanic batteries, which I tried, but nothing relieved me. One day a friend called and begged me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I began its use and took several bottles. From the very first bottle there was a wonderful change for the better. The tumor has disappeared and my old spirits have returned. I heartily recommend your medicine to all suffering women."—Mrs. VAN CLEFT, 416 SAUNDERS AVENUE, JERSEY CITY HEIGHTS, N. J.

When the children's best clothes come from the wash with the colors faded and streaked, and with worn spots showing in places where there should be no wear, then you may know that your laundress is using something besides Ivory Soap. You can save trouble and expense by furnishing her with Ivory Soap, and insisting that she use it and nothing else. The price of one ruined garment will buy Ivory Soap sufficient for months.

household furniture Sunday night and terrorized his wife and the neighbors by making loud threats. An officer was summoned, but the man made his escape out of the back way.

Kodol Dyspepsia Cure cures dyspepsia because its ingredients are such that it can help doing so. "The public can rely upon it as a master remedy for all disorders arising from imperfect digestion."—M. Thomas, M. D., in American Journal of Health, N. Y.

Quaint Features of Life. The Star of Hope is a paper published and edited by the convicts in Sing Sing prison. Among the advertisements in a recent issue was the following: "Lost, a good character. The owner will give all of his earthly possessions for its return and no questions asked. Address: Conitron, Clinton Prison."

A man with a poor memory lives in McPherson, Kan. After buying a safe for the storing of his valuables he penciled the combination on the plastered wall near the safe. A few days later he had the walls whitewashed, and of course, the pencil figures were obliterated. He had to have the safe blown open, and his wife blew him up for his stupidity.

Oxford Me., has a Custard Pie association, which meets annually in a hemlock grove on the margin of Swan pond and borrows itself with custard pie. It grew out of a custard pie-eating contest between two residents of the town on the annual fast day thirty-nine years ago. The match was adjudged to be a tie, the association was formed, and everybody in it now strives to beat everybody else eating custard pie. Secretary John D. Long is an honored member.

Yann, the hero of Pierre Loti's most famous book, has just died at Palmopol, France. Yann, whose real name was Guis laume Fleury, never forgave the author for the conclusion of his book, in which he made Yann die by drowning. "That will bring me bad luck," he often said. Sure enough, Yann died by drowning at Port-enven, near his native place. He leaves in misery his two old parents, who have lost all their sons by drowning.

In New Zealand a man who drinks too

ARE YOU GOING TO GET $10.00 AUGUST 31st?

You know J. S. Kirk & Co. give away $10 cash August 31, to the woman securing the greatest number of White Russian Soap Wrappers. Send them of bring them to 366 South 12th street, Omaha.

The wrappers will also count in the grand contest closing December 20.

Something New in Omaha—The latest society fad—posters mounted upon colored mats—terrible creations—yet just the thing now—200 new imported posters just received—no two alike—will be sold at 60c each—these are the productions of celebrated French, Italian and German artists—there has never been a time when such a display of the genuine poster was seen as now at our store.

A. HOSPE, We celebrate our 25th business anniversary Oct. 23rd, 1899. Music and Art. 1513 Douglas.

Going to the Exposition?—The best shoes made for doing the exposition and for street wear are our seal brown tans at $3.00—A tan shoe for a man for $3 modeled after the popular $3 black shoe were sold so long and that gives such universal satisfaction—prevents corns—always easy and comfortable—A splendid, good-looking, long-wearing shoe for $3.00—All the new toes—Styles just as good as in the $5 shoes—A shoe as good as most $5 shoes, but one you can get here for $3.

Drexel Shoe Co., Omaha's Up-to-date Shoe House, 1619 FARNAM STREET.

