

AGUINALDO A FIGUREHEAD

Carrying Out Deceit of a Secret Death-Dealing Conspiracy.

WORD PICTURES OF ALLEGED PATRIOTS

Chaplain of Dewey's Flagship Details Characteristics of Numerous Figures Connected with Aguinaldo's Government Machine.

Rev. W. H. I. Reaney, the Catholic clergyman who enjoys the enviable distinction of having officiated as chaplain aboard Admiral Dewey's former flagship, the Olympia, during a portion of the heroic admiral's stay in Manila, has been in Omaha the greater part of the week. He came to Omaha in time to celebrate mass at St. Philomena cathedral last Sunday and he will conduct services there again today.

It was not Chaplain Reaney's great fortune to be with the fleet at the time that Montojo's ships were battered and sunk, but he was assigned to duty on the Olympia between that date and the capture of Manila. He is about 35 years old, but looks much younger. He belongs to the diocese of Baltimore. During his stay in the Philippines he interested himself in the attempt to secure the liberation of some of the priests held as prisoners by the Filipinos. He had ample opportunity to study the character of the people and their leaders. His observations would lead one to agree with him in his conviction that Aguinaldo, the head of the insurrection, is not exactly the self-constituted dictator that he is represented to be, but that the position he occupies is even less entitled to respect, being that of the representative of a secret, outboard, death-dealing organization of conspirators, dominated by officers of the Chinese race and having little in common with the natives of the islands. When asked for his impressions as to Aguinaldo and the people of the islands, Father Reaney manifested considerable reluctance to talk about them—a reluctance due to his position as chaplain in the navy. He directed attention to the report of the Philippine commission published Friday morning and declared that it was the function of that commission to inform the American people of the conditions of the Philippines and their leaders. He paid a high compliment to each individual member of the commission and pointed out the fitness and capability of each to fulfill the mission imposed, saying that they had given the matters discussed in their report the same study and had applied themselves diligently and intelligently to their task.

"I think, therefore," said he, "that the American people should be thoroughly satisfied with the estimate placed upon the Filipinos by this intelligent, upright and thoroughly impartial commission."

In discussing the Philippines Chaplain Reaney called them Indians. "Colonel Nubia of the Spanish volunteers," said he, "who had had many years of experience in the Philippines and had held many positions of responsibility, among them several of a judicial character, which gave him an excellent opportunity to study the people, assured me that he had never been able to fully size them up. They were a perfect enigma to him. The word Indian very fully expresses their chief characteristics, as its meaning may be interpreted in their own language—'inde' means 'no,' and 'lo' means 'yes,' so that the two form a direct contradiction.

Power Behind the Dictator.

"Yes, I met and talked with Aguinaldo. He is an undersized man—a characteristic of the islander—and is about 28 years old. Once seen, he will never be forgotten because of the peculiar lurking stare in his eyes, which seem to come from constant suspicion or fear. He is a young fanatic or enthusiast who rose to prominence in the province of Cavite because of the understanding that he did away with a Spanish officer, whose name I have forgotten now, but who was especially noted for his faithful execution of Spanish laws, the suppression of uprisings and the capture of criminals. This officer was assassinated in 1896. Aguinaldo simply stands for the Katipunan, a death-dealing secret organization of Chinese patriots absolutely controlled by the Chinese mestizos, the latter being a mixture of Filipino and Chinese. The word 'Katipunan' is pronounced Kat-ee-poo-nan, with the accent on the last syllable, and means 'meeting of friends.' Aguinaldo is of Chinese extraction. His brother-in-law, General Aparao, is a full-blooded Amoy Chinaman, and is in charge of the forces between Manila and Cavite, at a place called Paranaque. Balmaceda Aguinaldo, who is accused of having run away with $50,000 belonging to the insurgents' war fund, is Aguinaldo's brother-in-law, and he has been as reported in the press dispatches. The man who writes all the proclamations of the insurgent government is a Chinese mestizo by the name of Mabini. He is a parasite who lives and sleeps under the same roof with Aguinaldo. Mabini is a brilliant lawyer who seems to have never enjoyed the confidence of anyone in need of an attorney. He is the man who told the insurgents that they would be worthy of the name bestowed upon them by the Spanish—'monkeys'—if they were to release their prisoners. He told them that as long as they kept their prisoners the chances of receiving recognition from some government would be good, because they had something that other governments would want. Aguinaldo's Power Limited. I know Mabini personally and was in conversation with him November 1, 1898. I was endeavoring to secure the freedom of Rev. Father Garcia, a Dominican monk, who had been imprisoned because he belonged to the Dominican order, and who was a personal friend of the Rev. Father Horvath, the only American Jesuit in China. Aguinaldo had promised me Father Garcia's freedom. Thinking that he had made the promise in good faith, I called at Maloca to see the governor, and to remind him of his promise that as soon as Manila should fall he would grant the release of the imprisoned monk. I had letters from all the prominent Filipinos begging Aguinaldo to grant this boon. But I was denied an audience by the secretaries, and especially by Senors Pardo de Travera and Mabini. When I insisted that Aguinaldo had promised to release the monk as soon as Manila had fallen, both of these secretaries said that Aguinaldo had no power to release the prisoner. I was greatly surprised at this information and asked what was his power if he could not grant the boon. They reiterated their assertion that he had not the power. I then told them that any governor of any of our forty-five states in this country could pardon a prisoner. That President Lincoln had pardoned Jefferson Davis, yet they insisted that Aguinaldo had not that power. I asked them who had, and they said it was vested in eight persons who composed the so-called cabinet of Aguinaldo. The latter had one vote, Mabini four, Pardo de Travera one, Ligardi one, and four other persons none. They said they had one vote each; Aguinaldo was ready to vote for a pardon, Mabini said he was also, as did Pardo de Travera, and I had a letter from Secretary of State Ligardi favoring the monk's release, but for some reason he was never released. Mabini is a prisoner as far as I know to this day.

"This experience demonstrated to me that Aguinaldo is merely a figurehead. He is not a man of intellect, being a dull student. His old professor told me that he took Aguinaldo six years to graduate from the average Filipino university mastered in three years. When he left school he became a teacher in his own province, and being a very desperate fighter he rose to prominence among his own people.

Some of His Alleged Compatriots.

Pardo de Travera is a mestizo with Spanish predominance pronounced in his blood. He is a practicing physician in Manila and was a professor in the university, but like a chameleon, he is able to adapt himself to any surroundings. Before the fall of Manila he had been in command of a volunteer company and opposed the taking of the city by the Americans. After its fall he joined the insurgents, and at length, seeing that they must get the worst of it in the end, he abandoned them, went over to the Americans, and played the white mouth, or snook.

I notice by the papers that Buenacamino and Paterno, two of the leaders of the revolution and members of Aguinaldo's cabinet, have gone over to the Americans. Buenacamino got his education gratis. Being an orphan he was brought up by the Dominicans in an orphan asylum to the university. He is considered a social leader among the natives, and was a member of the committee of the Philippines. He is accused of having misappropriated moneys belonging to widows and orphans while serving as executor of estates. He has a ready pen and ingratiated himself into the confidence of the insurgents through a low-down trick perpetrated upon the Spanish. Having been outlawed by them, he raised a volunteer regiment of natives and offered its services to the Spanish against the Americans in the defense of Manila in June or July of 1898. The Spaniards received him with open arms in spite of his very unsavory reputation. He immediately asked them to give him money with which to fit out his regiment. Having obtained it, he visited a Spanish club and gambled away every cent of it, after which he ordered his Indian regiment to make its escape to the insurgent lines.

Paterno and His Men.

The most prominent literature of the Philippine islands is Paterno, the other leader, who has just come over to the Americans. He served seven years at Salamanca university, Spain, during which time he developed talent for philosophy, theology and literature. He was honored by Spain in the enjoyment of a high position and handsome salary, but eventually he lost his place and returned to the Philippines, where he made his position as advisor to the malcontents more prominent. He came to us as a rebel against the Spaniards, their only status being that of bandits and outlaws.

MOVING FOR THEIR SALARIES

Unpaid Exposition Employees Retain Counsel to Recover Compensation for October. Another meeting of the late employees of the exposition who are moving to secure pay for the last month of their service was held Friday evening at Labor Temple. Major Dennis was chosen to preside, W. I. Horton was made secretary and John O. Yaiser, treasurer. The committee of twelve appointed at a previous meeting held at the grounds during the afternoon reported that it invited John O. Yaiser to be present and that he was waiting in an adjoining room. He was invited and led to a discussion of the conditions and legal status of the employees. His position assets he was authorized to act as attorney for those present at the meeting in an endeavor to secure their pay. Arrangements were made for enlisting the cooperation of other unpaid employees and for the assignment of all claims to one person for the purposes of the proposed suit. Henry Rustin, superintendent of buildings and grounds and the electrical lighting department of the exposition, stated to the meeting that he had been advised October 21 by the secretary of the executive committee of the exposition that on October 21 he had been made trustee for the management and had been authorized to receive from the Chicago Wrecking company the $17,500 due from it when the plant should be turned over to be reserved by him, with some $10,000 in dispute, for the payment of the debt. Rustin stated, however, that he had never seen any of the money. A committee was appointed to solicit the cooperation of other employees.

Geo. Nolan, Rockland, O., says: "My wife had pined forty years. Dr. Witt's Witch Hazel Salve cured her. It is the best salve in America." It heals everything and cures all skin diseases.

CONVULSIONS.

Judge John Brown of Santa Rosa, Cal., has a record of 125 marriages led by him. A marriage license has just been issued in Chicago for the use of Mrs. Dzekowski and Kazmiera Krzywanowska. The supreme court of Massachusetts has decided that a wife can sue her husband for the alienation of her husband's affections. To a widower and 60 years old the Rev. Benjamin S. Everett, pastor of the New Geneva (N. J.) Presbyterian church, is about to become a bridegroom. He is the youngest of his previous ventures. He is to make a pretty goodly fortune. The ceremony will be performed by the aged pastor's three sons, each of them a clergyman. A London dispatch says that the long deferred marriage of Dr. Wolf Hopper and Nella Bergen positively occurred on October 21 at Marlow's Road Registry office. Kennerly took place early in the morning and in this way the couple escaped notice. A copy of the entry in the registry is given below. Married this day, William De Wolf Hopper, age 41, of the city of New York, bachelor, and the divorced husband of Nella Bergen, age 38, of the city of New York, widow. The ceremony was performed by the divorced wife of James Bertram, the chief of police of Brooklyn, N. Y.

White Father Reaney avoided any direct

HANDS OF TIME PUSHED BACK

Findings of Grave-diggers Add Centuries to the Age of the Earth.

TOMBS OF THE GODS REVEAL SECRETS

Men Lived 6,000 Years Before Christ—An Antique Nursing Bottle and a Plank Hoary with Age.

How long has man been on earth? The answer to this question is being modified by every turn of the explorer's spade. It was formerly considered certain that the world had been actually seen by the explorer, but more than 6,000 years ago the globe had been built up into it before it became fit for human life. But during the past few years some of the most orthodox believers in this theory have been engaged upon excavations in Assyria and Egypt, and what they have actually seen has forced them to set the date of human habitation of the earth back several thousand years. The expedition sent out by the University of Pennsylvania, which has been at work at Nasser, has, through Prof. Hilprecht, its Assyriologist, set the date of 6,000 or 7,000 B. C. on which he based his conclusions. These dates are now coming to be confirmed by the discovery of the tombs of the gods in Egypt, which have been found by the American expedition.

Now comes M. E. Amelineau to reinforce these dates by similarly startling discoveries in prehistoric Egypt. It should not be forgotten that the evidences from which the early history of Egypt has been deduced are very fragmentary, and for a long time it has been a matter of debate as to whether the Pharaohs mentioned by Manetho, had ever existed. The discovery of his tomb has set that doubt at rest. But M. Amelineau has added oil to the flame of sensational discoveries by finding what he claims to be the tombs of Osiris, Isis and other Egyptian deities. These were supposed to have been mere imaginary personifications of nature. The full report of the discoveries has not yet been published, but this revolutionary investigator has prepared the way by issuing the first volume of his work, "The Tombs of the Gods in Egypt," which is now on sale at $1.00.

Amelineau has added oil to the flame of sensational discoveries by finding what he claims to be the tombs of Osiris, Isis and other Egyptian deities. These were supposed to have been mere imaginary personifications of nature. The full report of the discoveries has not yet been published, but this revolutionary investigator has prepared the way by issuing the first volume of his work, "The Tombs of the Gods in Egypt," which is now on sale at $1.00.

Amelineau has added oil to the flame of sensational discoveries by finding what he claims to be the tombs of Osiris, Isis and other Egyptian deities. These were supposed to have been mere imaginary personifications of nature. The full report of the discoveries has not yet been published, but this revolutionary investigator has prepared the way by issuing the first volume of his work, "The Tombs of the Gods in Egypt," which is now on sale at $1.00.

Amelineau has added oil to the flame of sensational discoveries by finding what he claims to be the tombs of Osiris, Isis and other Egyptian deities. These were supposed to have been mere imaginary personifications of nature. The full report of the discoveries has not yet been published, but this revolutionary investigator has prepared the way by issuing the first volume of his work, "The Tombs of the Gods in Egypt," which is now on sale at $1.00.

Amelineau has added oil to the flame of sensational discoveries by finding what he claims to be the tombs of Osiris, Isis and other Egyptian deities. These were supposed to have been mere imaginary personifications of nature. The full report of the discoveries has not yet been published, but this revolutionary investigator has prepared the way by issuing the first volume of his work, "The Tombs of the Gods in Egypt," which is now on sale at $1.00.

Amelineau has added oil to the flame of sensational discoveries by finding what he claims to be the tombs of Osiris, Isis and other Egyptian deities. These were supposed to have been mere imaginary personifications of nature. The full report of the discoveries has not yet been published, but this revolutionary investigator has prepared the way by issuing the first volume of his work, "The Tombs of the Gods in Egypt," which is now on sale at $1.00.

Amelineau has added oil to the flame of sensational discoveries by finding what he claims to be the tombs of Osiris, Isis and other Egyptian deities. These were supposed to have been mere imaginary personifications of nature. The full report of the discoveries has not yet been published, but this revolutionary investigator has prepared the way by issuing the first volume of his work, "The Tombs of the Gods in Egypt," which is now on sale at $1.00.

Amelineau has added oil to the flame of sensational discoveries by finding what he claims to be the tombs of Osiris, Isis and other Egyptian deities. These were supposed to have been mere imaginary personifications of nature. The full report of the discoveries has not yet been published, but this revolutionary investigator has prepared the way by issuing the first volume of his work, "The Tombs of the Gods in Egypt," which is now on sale at $1.00.

Amelineau has added oil to the flame of sensational discoveries by finding what he claims to be the tombs of Osiris, Isis and other Egyptian deities. These were supposed to have been mere imaginary personifications of nature. The full report of the discoveries has not yet been published, but this revolutionary investigator has prepared the way by issuing the first volume of his work, "The Tombs of the Gods in Egypt," which is now on sale at $1.00.

Amelineau has added oil to the flame of sensational discoveries by finding what he claims to be the tombs of Osiris, Isis and other Egyptian deities. These were supposed to have been mere imaginary personifications of nature. The full report of the discoveries has not yet been published, but this revolutionary investigator has prepared the way by issuing the first volume of his work, "The Tombs of the Gods in Egypt," which is now on sale at $1.00.

Amelineau has added oil to the flame of sensational discoveries by finding what he claims to be the tombs of Osiris, Isis and other Egyptian deities. These were supposed to have been mere imaginary personifications of nature. The full report of the discoveries has not yet been published, but this revolutionary investigator has prepared the way by issuing the first volume of his work, "The Tombs of the Gods in Egypt," which is now on sale at $1.00.

Amelineau has added oil to the flame of sensational discoveries by finding what he claims to be the tombs of Osiris, Isis and other Egyptian deities. These were supposed to have been mere imaginary personifications of nature. The full report of the discoveries has not yet been published, but this revolutionary investigator has prepared the way by issuing the first volume of his work, "The Tombs of the Gods in Egypt," which is now on sale at $1.00.

Amelineau has added oil to the flame of sensational discoveries by finding what he claims to be the tombs of Osiris, Isis and other Egyptian deities. These were supposed to have been mere imaginary personifications of nature. The full report of the discoveries has not yet been published, but this revolutionary investigator has prepared the way by issuing the first volume of his work, "The Tombs of the Gods in Egypt," which is now on sale at $1.00.

Amelineau has added oil to the flame of sensational discoveries by finding what he claims to be the tombs of Osiris, Isis and other Egyptian deities. These were supposed to have been mere imaginary personifications of nature. The full report of the discoveries has not yet been published, but this revolutionary investigator has prepared the way by issuing the first volume of his work, "The Tombs of the Gods in Egypt," which is now on sale at $1.00.

Amelineau has added oil to the flame of sensational discoveries by finding what he claims to be the tombs of Osiris, Isis and other Egyptian deities. These were supposed to have been mere imaginary personifications of nature. The full report of the discoveries has not yet been published, but this revolutionary investigator has prepared the way by issuing the first volume of his work, "The Tombs of the Gods in Egypt," which is now on sale at $1.00.

Amelineau has added oil to the flame of sensational discoveries by finding what he claims to be the tombs of Osiris, Isis and other Egyptian deities. These were supposed to have been mere imaginary personifications of nature. The full report of the discoveries has not yet been published, but this revolutionary investigator has prepared the way by issuing the first volume of his work, "The Tombs of the Gods in Egypt," which is now on sale at $1.00.

Amelineau has added oil to the flame of sensational discoveries by finding what he claims to be the tombs of Osiris, Isis and other Egyptian deities. These were supposed to have been mere imaginary personifications of nature. The full report of the discoveries has not yet been published, but this revolutionary investigator has prepared the way by issuing the first volume of his work, "The Tombs of the Gods in Egypt," which is now on sale at $1.00.

Amelineau has added oil to the flame of sensational discoveries by finding what he claims to be the tombs of Osiris, Isis and other Egyptian deities. These were supposed to have been mere imaginary personifications of nature. The full report of the discoveries has not yet been published, but this revolutionary investigator has prepared the way by issuing the first volume of his work, "The Tombs of the Gods in Egypt," which is now on sale at $1.00.

Amelineau has added oil to the flame of sensational discoveries by finding what he claims to be the tombs of Osiris, Isis and other Egyptian deities. These were supposed to have been mere imaginary personifications of nature. The full report of the discoveries has not yet been published, but this revolutionary investigator has prepared the way by issuing the first volume of his work, "The Tombs of the Gods in Egypt," which is now on sale at $1.00.

Amelineau has added oil to the flame of sensational discoveries by finding what he claims to be the tombs of Osiris, Isis and other Egyptian deities. These were supposed to have been mere imaginary personifications of nature. The full report of the discoveries has not yet been published, but this revolutionary investigator has prepared the way by issuing the first volume of his work, "The Tombs of the Gods in Egypt," which is now on sale at $1.00.

Amelineau has added oil to the flame of sensational discoveries by finding what he claims to be the tombs of Osiris, Isis and other Egyptian deities. These were supposed to have been mere imaginary personifications of nature. The full report of the discoveries has not yet been published, but this revolutionary investigator has prepared the way by issuing the first volume of his work, "The Tombs of the Gods in Egypt," which is now on sale at $1.00.

Amelineau has added oil to the flame of sensational discoveries by finding what he claims to be the tombs of Osiris, Isis and other Egyptian deities. These were supposed to have been mere imaginary personifications of nature. The full report of the discoveries has not yet been published, but this revolutionary investigator has prepared the way by issuing the first volume of his work, "The Tombs of the Gods in Egypt," which is now on sale at $1.00.

Amelineau has added oil to the flame of sensational discoveries by finding what he claims to be the tombs of Osiris, Isis and other Egyptian deities. These were supposed to have been mere imaginary personifications of nature. The full report of the discoveries has not yet been published, but this revolutionary investigator has prepared the way by issuing the first volume of his work, "The Tombs of the Gods in Egypt," which is now on sale at $1.00.

Amelineau has added oil to the flame of sensational discoveries by finding what he claims to be the tombs of Osiris, Isis and other Egyptian deities. These were supposed to have been mere imaginary personifications of nature. The full report of the discoveries has not yet been published, but this revolutionary investigator has prepared the way by issuing the first volume of his work, "The Tombs of the Gods in Egypt," which is now on sale at $1.00.

Amelineau has added oil to the flame of sensational discoveries by finding what he claims to be the tombs of Osiris, Isis and other Egyptian deities. These were supposed to have been mere imaginary personifications of nature. The full report of the discoveries has not yet been published, but this revolutionary investigator has prepared the way by issuing the first volume of his work, "The Tombs of the Gods in Egypt," which is now on sale at $1.00.

HANDS OF TIME PUSHED BACK

Findings of Grave-diggers Add Centuries to the Age of the Earth.

TOMBS OF THE GODS REVEAL SECRETS

Men Lived 6,000 Years Before Christ—An Antique Nursing Bottle and a Plank Hoary with Age.

How long has man been on earth? The answer to this question is being modified by every turn of the explorer's spade. It was formerly considered certain that the world had been actually seen by the explorer, but more than 6,000 years ago the globe had been built up into it before it became fit for human life. But during the past few years some of the most orthodox believers in this theory have been engaged upon excavations in Assyria and Egypt, and what they have actually seen has forced them to set the date of human habitation of the earth back several thousand years. The expedition sent out by the University of Pennsylvania, which has been at work at Nasser, has, through Prof. Hilprecht, its Assyriologist, set the date of 6,000 or 7,000 B. C. on which he based his conclusions. These dates are now coming to be confirmed by the discovery of the tombs of the gods in Egypt, which have been found by the American expedition.

Now comes M. E. Amelineau to reinforce these dates by similarly startling discoveries in prehistoric Egypt. It should not be forgotten that the evidences from which the early history of Egypt has been deduced are very fragmentary, and for a long time it has been a matter of debate as to whether the Pharaohs mentioned by Manetho, had ever existed. The discovery of his tomb has set that doubt at rest. But M. Amelineau has added oil to the flame of sensational discoveries by finding what he claims to be the tombs of Osiris, Isis and other Egyptian deities. These were supposed to have been mere imaginary personifications of nature. The full report of the discoveries has not yet been published, but this revolutionary investigator has prepared the way by issuing the first volume of his work, "The Tombs of the Gods in Egypt," which is now on sale at $1.00.

Amelineau has added oil to the flame of sensational discoveries by finding what he claims to be the tombs of Osiris, Isis and other Egyptian deities. These were supposed to have been mere imaginary personifications of nature. The full report of the discoveries has not yet been published, but this revolutionary investigator has prepared the way by issuing the first volume of his work, "The Tombs of the Gods in Egypt," which is now on sale at $1.00.

Amelineau has added oil to the flame of sensational discoveries by finding what he claims to be the tombs of Osiris, Isis and other Egyptian deities. These were supposed to have been mere imaginary personifications of nature. The full report of the discoveries has not yet been published, but this revolutionary investigator has prepared the way by issuing the first volume of his work, "The Tombs of the Gods in Egypt," which is now on sale at $1.00.

Amelineau has added oil to the flame of sensational discoveries by finding what he claims to be the tombs of Osiris, Isis and other Egyptian deities. These were supposed to have been mere imaginary personifications of nature. The full report of the discoveries has not yet been published, but this revolutionary investigator has prepared the way by issuing the first volume of his work, "The Tombs of the Gods in Egypt," which is now on sale at $1.00.

Amelineau has added oil to the flame of sensational discoveries by finding what he claims to be the tombs of Osiris, Isis and other Egyptian deities. These were supposed to have been mere imaginary personifications of nature. The full report of the discoveries has not yet been published, but this revolutionary investigator has prepared the way by issuing the first volume of his work, "The Tombs of the Gods in Egypt," which is now on sale at $1.00.

Amelineau has added oil to the flame of sensational discoveries by finding what he claims to be the tombs of Osiris, Isis and other Egyptian deities. These were supposed to have been mere imaginary personifications of nature. The full report of the discoveries has not yet been published, but this revolutionary investigator has prepared the way by issuing the first volume of his work, "The Tombs of the Gods in Egypt," which is now on sale at $1.00.

Amelineau has added oil to the flame of sensational discoveries by finding what he claims to be the tombs of Osiris, Isis and other Egyptian deities. These were supposed to have been mere imaginary personifications of nature. The full report of the discoveries has not yet been published, but this revolutionary investigator has prepared the way by issuing the first volume of his work, "The Tombs of the Gods in Egypt," which is now on sale at $1.00.

Amelineau has added oil to the flame of sensational discoveries by finding what he claims to be the tombs of Osiris, Isis and other Egyptian deities. These were supposed to have been mere imaginary personifications of nature. The full report of the discoveries has not yet been published, but this revolutionary investigator has prepared the way by issuing the first volume of his work, "The Tombs of the Gods in Egypt," which is now on sale at $1.00.

Amelineau has added oil to the flame of sensational discoveries by finding what he claims to be the tombs of Osiris, Isis and other Egyptian deities. These were supposed to have been mere imaginary personifications of nature. The full report of the discoveries has not yet been published, but this revolutionary investigator has prepared the way by issuing the first volume of his work, "The Tombs of the Gods in Egypt," which is now on sale at $1.00.

Amelineau has added oil to the flame of sensational discoveries by finding what he claims to be the tombs of Osiris, Isis and other Egyptian deities. These were supposed to have been mere imaginary personifications of nature. The full report of the discoveries has not yet been published, but this revolutionary investigator has prepared the way by issuing the first volume of his work, "The Tombs of the Gods in Egypt," which is now on sale at $1.00.

Amelineau has added oil to the flame of sensational discoveries by finding what he claims to be the tombs of Osiris, Isis and other Egyptian deities. These were supposed to have been mere imaginary personifications of nature. The full report of the discoveries has not yet been published, but this revolutionary investigator has prepared the way by issuing the first volume of his work, "The Tombs of the Gods in Egypt," which is now on sale at $1.00.

Amelineau has added oil to the flame of sensational discoveries by finding what he claims to be the tombs of Osiris, Isis and other Egyptian deities. These were supposed to have been mere imaginary personifications of nature. The full report of the discoveries has not yet been published, but this revolutionary investigator has prepared the way by issuing the first volume of his work, "The Tombs of the Gods in Egypt," which is now on sale at $1.00.

Amelineau has added oil to the flame of sensational discoveries by finding what he claims to be the tombs of Osiris, Isis and other Egyptian deities. These were supposed to have been mere imaginary personifications of nature. The full report of the discoveries has not yet been published, but this revolutionary investigator has prepared the way by issuing the first volume of his work, "The Tombs of the Gods in Egypt," which is now on sale at $1.00.

Amelineau has added oil to the flame of sensational discoveries by finding what he claims to be the tombs of Osiris, Isis and other Egyptian deities. These were supposed to have been mere imaginary personifications of nature. The full report of the discoveries has not yet been published, but this revolutionary investigator has prepared the way by issuing the first volume of his work, "The Tombs of the Gods in Egypt," which is now on sale at $1.00.

Amelineau has added oil to the flame of sensational discoveries by finding what he claims to be the tombs of Osiris, Isis and other Egyptian deities. These were supposed to have been mere imaginary personifications of nature. The full report of the discoveries has not yet been published, but this revolutionary investigator has prepared the way by issuing the first volume of his work, "The Tombs of the Gods in Egypt," which is now on sale at $1.00.

Amelineau has added oil to the flame of sensational discoveries by finding what he claims to be the tombs of Osiris, Isis and other Egyptian deities. These were supposed to have been mere imaginary personifications of nature. The full report of the discoveries has not yet been published, but this revolutionary investigator has prepared the way by issuing the first volume of his work, "The Tombs of the Gods in Egypt," which is now on sale at $1.00.

Amelineau has added oil to the flame of sensational discoveries by finding what he claims to be the tombs of Osiris, Isis and other Egyptian deities. These were supposed to have been mere imaginary personifications of nature. The full report of the discoveries has not yet been published, but this revolutionary investigator has prepared the way by issuing the first volume of his work, "The Tombs of the Gods in Egypt," which is now on sale at $1.00.

Amelineau has added oil to the flame of sensational discoveries by finding what he claims to be the tombs of Osiris, Isis and other Egyptian deities. These were supposed to have been mere imaginary personifications of nature. The full report of the discoveries has not yet been published, but this revolutionary investigator has prepared the way by issuing the first volume of his work, "The Tombs of the Gods in Egypt," which is now on sale at $1.00.

Amelineau has added oil to the flame of sensational discoveries by finding what he claims to be the tombs of Osiris, Isis and other Egyptian deities. These were supposed to have been mere imaginary personifications of nature. The full report of the discoveries has not yet been published, but this revolutionary investigator has prepared the way by issuing the first volume of his work, "The Tombs of the Gods in Egypt," which is now on sale at $1.00.

Amelineau has added oil to the flame of sensational discoveries by finding what he claims to be the tombs of Osiris, Isis and other Egyptian deities. These were supposed to have been mere imaginary personifications of nature. The full report of the discoveries has not yet been published, but this revolutionary investigator has prepared the way by issuing the first volume of his work, "The Tombs of the Gods in Egypt," which is now on sale at $1.00.

Amelineau has added oil to the flame of sensational discoveries by finding what he claims to be the tombs of Osiris, Isis and other Egyptian deities. These were supposed to have been mere imaginary personifications of nature. The full report of the discoveries has not yet been published, but this revolutionary investigator has prepared the way by issuing the first volume of his work, "The Tombs of the Gods in Egypt," which is now on sale at $1.00.

Amelineau has added oil to the flame of sensational discoveries by finding what he claims to be the tombs of Osiris, Isis and other Egyptian deities. These were supposed to have been mere imaginary personifications of nature. The full report of the discoveries has not yet been published, but this revolutionary investigator has prepared the way by issuing the first volume of his work, "The Tombs of the Gods in Egypt," which is now on sale at $1.00.

Amelineau has added oil to the flame of sensational discoveries by finding what he claims to be the tombs of Osiris, Isis and other Egyptian deities. These were supposed to have been mere imaginary personifications of nature. The full report of the discoveries has not yet been published, but this revolutionary investigator has prepared the way by issuing the first volume of his work, "The Tombs of the Gods in Egypt," which is now on sale at $1.00.

Amelineau has added oil to the flame of sensational discoveries by finding what he claims to be the tombs of Osiris, Isis and other Egyptian deities. These were supposed to have been mere imaginary personifications of nature. The full report of the discoveries has not yet been published, but this revolutionary investigator has prepared the way by issuing the first volume of his work, "The Tombs of the Gods in Egypt," which is now on sale at $1.00.

Amelineau has added oil to the flame of sensational discoveries by finding what he claims to be the tombs of Osiris, Isis and other Egyptian deities. These were supposed to have been mere imaginary personifications of nature. The full report of the discoveries has not yet been published, but this revolutionary investigator has prepared the way by issuing the first volume of his work, "The Tombs of the Gods in Egypt," which is now on sale at $1.00.

Special November Sale

ALL THE HIGH GRADE FURNITURE, CARPETS, RUGS AND DRAPPERIES EXHIBITED BY US AT THE GREATER AMERICA EXPOSITION GO IN THIS SPECIAL NOVEMBER SALE AT RIDICULOUSLY LOW PRICES.

Domestic Rug Sale

Irresistible values. These rugs were selected especially for our large display of fine goods at the Greater America Exposition.

9x12 ALEXANDER RUGS—woven in one piece, "no seam"—regular value $40—reduced to $32 1/2.

9x12 IMPERIAL, SMYRNA RUGS—These goods not damaged a particle beyond having the fringe slightly soiled. They would be cheap at $40.00—reduced to $28.00.

ALL THE FINEST GENUINE FRENCH WILTON RUGS—displayed in our exhibit sold everywhere at $5—special, here $5 1/2.

THE FINE WILTON CARPET used in our Liberal Arts exhibit—These are extra heavy goods, were bought especially for this exhibit, all desirable patterns, saved ready to lay down.

25 ROLLS MATTING used on walls of Philippine Restaurant, good heavy white China Matting—regular $5.00 grade—reduced at this sale to 20c.

25 ROLLS MATTING used on walls of Philippine Restaurant, good heavy white China Matting—regular $5.00 grade—reduced at this sale to 20c.

ADVANCE PRICES ON DESKS

Over Ninety Per Cent of Manufacturers in United States Hold a Meeting and Rearrange List.

CHICAGO, Oct. 28.—Prices on desks were advanced 10 per cent today at a meeting of desk manufacturers. Over 90 per cent of the manufacturers of the United States were present and considered a rearrangement of prices to correspond with the increased cost of materials and labor.

The new scale will go into effect at once and a new price list will be issued by the association on November 5. Carl Leopold of Burlington, Ia., was chairman and L. N. Holger of Grand Rapids, Mich., secretary.

Found Their Food

In the jars and vases of these old tombs Amelineau has found various cereals, like wheat and rye, proving the agricultural tastes of the nineteenth century excavator.

Amelineau has found various cereals, like wheat and rye, proving the agricultural tastes of the nineteenth century excavator. He also found evidence that the date-palm was even then appreciated for the food products. Nor were these prehistoric people vegetarians, for if they were why should there be the bones of oxen and the horns of the gazelle in their tombs?

Amelineau has found various