Under Early Predictions and Helps-Corn and Oats Continue to Rise.

CHICAGO, Nov. 21.-Wheat was weak early today on a poor export demand and expectations of a large increase in the vistble, but railled on a marked improvement in the foreign inquiry and an increase in the world's visible under early predictions, closing %4% higher. Corn, actuated by rains, closed %2% better. Outs closed a shade to 4c higher and provisions at a small gain. Statistics at the opening in wheat were not of a pronounced character. Initial prices were unchanged from yesterday's close, December at 66%667c and May at 51@711%c. Export inquiry was poor, the world's visible was expected to increase liberally and a local trader recently returned from abroad announced opinions de-cidedly bearish. This was sufficient for the letting out of some long wheat and December sold down to 66% 46%% and May to 70%. The strength of corn has a steadying tendency and at the decline the market fluctuated narrowly on the operations of

was strong throughout the session,

Corn was strong throughout the session, a condition directly attributable to the rains in the corn-growing sections. Country roads suffered and the movement from farms was of a consequence interrupted. Coming at a time when rural offerings were expected to be a little freer the weather became a very important factor. Shorts bought all they could lay their hands on at a reasonable figure. The opening, December at 32%c and May at 33%33%c, was a gain of a shade for May and %c for December and, though the price eased fractionally with wheat at the opening, sentiment was bullish and the recovery rapid. December advanced to 32%632%c and May to 33%c, at which both options closed, a gain of %6%c for December and of %c for May. New York reported 50 loads taken for export. Receipts here were 360 cars. Clearances were 216,000 bu.

Oats were firm and trading fairly active, though business was largely the changing from December to May contracts, or from corn to oats, to take advantage of the spread. The cash demand was small, only 75,000 bu, being taken here for shipment.

Local receipts were 284 cars. December ranged from 23c to 23½c, closing a shade higher at 23¼c; May sold from 24½c to 24½c and closed ¼db½c better at 24½c.

Provisions were firm, influenced chiefly by the strength of corn, holding in spite of considerable selling of December products. Hogs were a shade higher. Liverpool unchanged for American products and shipments small. On a somewhat brisk market January pork ranged from $4.7½ to $9.55, closing 5c higher at $9.52½. January ribs ranged from $1.95 to $1.24\tilde{3}.15 and closed 2½c over yesterday at $5.12½c. January ribs ranged from $4.95 to $4.97\tilde{2}.00, closing a shade higher at $4.95\tilde{6}.30, closing a shade higher at $4.95\tilde{6}.47\tilde{2}.00, closing a shade higher at $4.95\tilde{6}.49\tilde{7}.25.

Estimated receipts tomorrow: Wheat, 67 cars; corn, 265 cars; oats, 112 cars; hogs, 35,000 head.

No Speculative Furore and Securities Continue in Waiting Attitude. NEW YORK, Nov. 21.—The character of the securities market today continued much the same as yesterday, that is, in an attitude of waiting. There was no signs of speculative furore and no large organized buying was in evidence. Such a market has a natural tendency to gravitate downward. Selling pressure was not severe, however, holders of stocks being content apparently to retain their holdings and wait for the money situation to work itself out. The roay-colored views of the influence to be wrought by the redemption of government bonds, have apparently been modified. demption of government bonds, have apparently been modified.

The offerings of bonds at the New York subtreasury were somewhat larger again than yesterday, but there were no signs of the great blocks of bonds accumulated by great banking interests, of which rumors were heard and visions were seen last week. Some of the speculators who were demonstration for an advance have week. Some of the speculators who were demonstrating for an advance have been giving out assertions that blocks of $10,-000,000 and even of $18,000,000 in government bonds were to be presented to the subtreasury and the proceeds used to flood the money market and force the rate down to a point of ease.

There was no stringency in the market today, but the money rate stiffened suggestively to 14 per cent in the late dealings, as if to intimate that the supply of funds for speculative commitments is still restricted to a narrow compass. New York restricted to a narrow compass. New York exchange at Chicago and some other important outside centers weakened during the day, the Chicago rate falling to par. Something was heard also of money stringency to come from London, though today's quotations failed to forecast any such event. Money and discounts dealing today's quotations failed to forecast any such event. Money and discounts declined in London and in Berlin and the sterling market here was soft. Money was stiffly held, however, in Paris above the Bank of France's discount rate and this week's action by that institution is anticipated with interest.

The duliness of the stock market was unrelieved event by professional areas and the support of the stock market was appropriately account of the stock market was appropriately account of the stock market was appropriately account the stock market was appropriately account of the stock market was appropriately account the stock market was a The duliness of the stock market was unrelieved except by professional speculiarition in isolated cases. Manhattan was supported and retrieved part of yesterday's loss. Sugar, on the other hand, weakened on denials of recent stories of a settlement in the trade war, and Leather took a downward plunge on liquidation by tired holders. The organized buying in Baltimore & Ohio preferred and Southern Pacific was discontinued.

was discontinued. The following are the principal stocks that showed advances: North American, Smelting, Glucose, Lead, Metropolitan Elevated, Rubber, Cleveland, Cincinnati, Chicago & St. Louis, Canada Southern, Chesapeake & Ohio, the Chicago, Indianapolis and Louisville stocks, the Chicago Terminal and Louisville stocks, the Chicago Terminal stocks, Rio Grande Western preferred and Great Northern preferred. Laclede Gas was notably weak, with an extreme decline of 4% and a rally of 1%.

Profit-taking was in evidence among speculative bond issues and the tone of the market was reactionary. Total sales, par value, $1,510,000. United States old 4s, registered, declined 4, while the new 4s advanced 4 in the bid price.

The Commercial Advertiser's London financial cablegram says: The markets here were quiet and dull today. There was no news affecting them. Dear money was no news affecting them. Dear money was still talked of, some hinting at a higher bank rate. Consols were persistently offered 5-16 down to 116%.

One explanation of this was Japanese selling on account of recent Japanese substitution of the control of the contr scription to the treasury bills. Americans were neglected and dull. Baltimore & Ohio

Wool Market.

BOSTON, Nov. 21.—WOOL—The future of the wool market is uncertain as regards where the boom prices are going to end. Holders are uncertain as to whether they shall hold or sell. The week's business shows that over 15,000,000 pounds changed hands, against 12,000,000 pounds last week and 15,000,000 pounds two weeks ago. It has been several years since the market has been so strong. Territory wool continues in the lead with 55657c for fine medium and fine scoured, while fine strictly staple calls for 65c. Medium wools are feeling the effect of the advanced prices and are being taken freely. The Australian market is active with prices light and tending upward. SHEEP-Today's market on fat sheep was inclined to be a little slow and prices were 102615c lower. The demand, however, was fair at the decline, though it was rather late before everything had changed hands, owing to difference of opinion as to values between buyers and sellers. The situation in the sheep market may be briefly explained in this way: For some time back fat sheep have been selling at this point right up to Chicago's prices and today's decline and the weak feeling noted yesterday was due to efforts on part of buyers to get prices down here, where they would be in line with other markets.

There were a few feeders in today and the demand seemed to be fair, prices not being materially changed.

more than half a dozen railroad presidents who said freight rates were adhered to strictly. "I'm a heretic, I know," said Mr. Stickney, by way of introduction to his arguments that congress should keep its hands off the business affairs of the country, that powers of the Interstate Commerce commission should not be extended, and that carrying charges must vary, as 40 prices for commedities in the trade world, on conditions. On taking the oath Mr. Stickney etipulated that he was giving opinions merely. He asserted that, contrary to the reports made by the commerce commission, automatic couplers and other appliances had increased accidents. The question of issuing free passes was taken up. The witness coincided with the view that this practice should be abolished. "We find it to our interests, however," said he, "to extend favors to certain classes of men who may ask for them."

"Isn't it an evil to morals that judges get passes and private citizens none?" came the question. "Well, I don't like to pass on morals," was the answer. "What would you think of the abolishment of the pass system and ticket scalping?"

"My attitude on such questions," was the unhesitating response, "is" that congress is not created to run the business of this country. The best thing congress can do is to repeal some of the laws it has made. The ticket brokerage problem should be left to the railroads and the public." "Is not the bulk of business done by the scalpers given them by the railroads?" "I presume it is," was the ready reply.

Congressman Lorimer then asked an opinion of the imprisonment feature of the anti-scalping bill several times presented to congrees. "A most outrageous piece of barbarism." was Mr. Stickney's comment. He then showed that if the interstate commerce law as to publishing tariff schedules were complied with there would have to be 4,500,000 rates formulated on the three classifications of freight matter. "I don't think pooling would have any effect on holding rates stable," said he. "In the first place, I do not believe a pool could be formed, and, in the second place, unless steady; good to choice, $5,40@6.90; poor to it embraced everything it would be productive of results which we wish to prevent." "Do you favor publicity of railread affairs?" was asked. "An examination of books by government experts, as with banks?" "I am opposed to every principle of government paternalism, except in police authority. I would object to government
