

LAST TRIBUTE TO A SOLDIER

Body of Corporal Hansen Laid to Rest with Military Honors.

BOTH LOCAL COMPANIES IN ATTENDANCE

Remains of Three Other Fallen Volunteers Will Arrive During the Week and Burial Will Occur on Next Sunday.

The body of Francis E. Hansen, corporal in Company L, First Nebraska, was laid to rest at Prospect Hill cemetery yesterday afternoon by his friends and comrades at arms. The services were held at the armory of the Thurston Rifles and were in charge of Rev. James Wilson of Tekamah, whose son shared the same bunk with Corporal Hansen in the Philippines. The musical part of the service was supplied by the choir of the First Presbyterian church.

The members of the family present were P. M. Hansen of Admab, Neb., father of the dead volunteer; Mrs. Olga Samson and Mrs. Wilson, sisters, and Charles Pegau, cousin of Corporal Hansen. The Thurston Rifles, under charge of Captain Stockham, occupied one portion of the hall and space was also reserved for the Omaha Guards. The companies wore fatigue uniforms, campaign hats, leggings and side arms. The members assigned to special duty were the following: Veterans, Malone, Meyer and Thompson; pallbearers, Hall, Buchanan, LaFerty, Coy and Primeau; firing squad, Sergeant Cross, Barnell, Crook, O'Connell, Johnson, Roth, Auchmoody, Foster and Waterfall.

Tributes of Flowers. The casket was covered with the floral tributes of the young soldier's friends, one of the most elaborate pieces being a large anchor. Stacked arms stood about the altar and behind the clergyman's stand was draped a large American flag. Between the folds was a large portrait of Corporal Hansen in a black setting. The beautiful silk flag wrought by the ladies' auxiliary of the company served as a background for the decorations, which were of a distinctly military character.

After a brief musical number by the choir Mr. Wilson read a brief sketch of Corporal Hansen's life. Mr. Hansen was a Nebraska-born and reared, his birth taking place in Washington county in 1877. He spent his early youth at Admab, Neb., the home of his parents, and had been in Omaha a short time when he responded to the call of his country. In this city he was engaged in business with his cousin, Charles Pegau, on South Thirtieth street. The young corporal was wounded four times before he was finally forced to leave the fighting line by his superior officer. He was taken on board the hospital ship Relief, when he was finally disabled by a wound in the neck, and his death occurred two days later, April 28, 1899.

The officiating clergyman then paid a brief tribute to the fallen volunteer and offered the warm sympathy of Corporal Hansen's comrades and friends to the stricken home to which the soldier would never return.

He spoke of the young volunteer's early life and of his development into a strong, true manhood and finally of his sacrifice on the altar of his country. The record of the "Fighting First" was referred to and the different deeds were recounted by which the regiment won fame. "The last enemy to be destroyed is death," said Mr. Wilson, "and that final foe will be vanquished through the promise of Him who said, 'I am the resurrection and the life.'"

At the grave there was a brief service concluding with the call of taps by the company bugler. The casket was carried through files of uniformed men drawn up at present arms.

Burial of Other Volunteers. On next Sunday will be held the funeral services of Privates Leonard E. Sayles, W. O. Belden and M. O. Lutz. It will be necessary to secure a larger auditorium, as the army has proved barely ample when only one body was to be interred. An effort will be made to secure the use of the city hall and a request to that end has been made of the mayor. All of the three soldiers, whose bodies will arrive this week, were well known in this city and a large attendance is anticipated.

Although Private Legg's home was in Mascot, Mo., it is the wish of Mrs. M. Legg, his mother, that her son's body should be interred in the company's lot at Prospect Hill. The home of Private Belden was at Minnora, Ia., but he had many friends in Omaha and had made his residence here for several years. The family of Private Sayles lives in this city and has an extensive acquaintance.

PREPARING FOR MAUD GONNE

Committee Requests Women to Meet at Paxton Hill Gate Thursday Afternoon.

The executive committee of the Hospital Fund association met Sunday afternoon with a large attendance of ladies interested in the success of the Maud Gonne meeting, which is to be held March 1. A letter from Senator Pettigrew was read in which he expressed regret that he would be unable to be present at the meeting in response to an invitation from the committee. A response from Senator Mason was expected, but had not been received at the time of the meeting Sunday. A letter from Miss Gonne was read in which she said she would be here on March 1 and would later give the hour of her arrival, and expressed pleasure at being able to again meet the friends she had made in Omaha at her former visit. A letter from Governor Poynter said he would be present at the meeting, together with other executive officers of the state. Mr. Smith reported that the committee, composed of himself, C. O. Lockwood and John H. Power, would have no trouble in raising the $250 which was guaranteed to Miss Gonne to secure her visit to Omaha, and

SOUTH OMAHA NEWS.

A meeting of the Board of Education is to be held tonight for the purpose of listening to reports from Attorney Nolan in respect to the submission of a High school bond proposition. At the last meeting of the board the question came up, but as few if any members were familiar with the legal questions involved, the entire matter was referred to the attorney, with instructions to report to the meeting tonight.

It is hardly probable that the board will pass a resolution tonight submitting the proposition. Quite a number of the members declare that the time is not ripe for a submission of the question. It appears to be the desire of the majority to ascertain the wishes of the public in this respect, and it is understood that the proposition will be brought out at the meeting of the Commercial club Friday night.

After ascertaining the legal requirements, those of the board who favor the proposition will prepare data to be submitted to the people. The anti-bond people are not idle and fact and figures are being prepared by them showing that there is no need now of bonding the school district. Superintendent Wolfe is working hard for the bond, but as he is a candidate for a position at the state university his supporters are inclined to think that he is not sincere in his efforts, and therefore the bond proposition will hardly receive more than a half-hearted support. The fact that the bond will be supported by his supporters are inclined to think that he is not sincere in his efforts, and therefore the bond proposition will hardly receive more than a half-hearted support.

Proposed Change in Voting Precincts. In connection with political affairs the need of adding an additional voting precinct to the First ward is being considered by those who give thoughtful consideration to the political necessities.

Last fall the registration in the First ward numbered 1,551 voters. These were divided among the three precincts as follows: First precinct, 435; Second precinct, 425; Third precinct, 435. As can be seen by the figures the First precinct is entirely too large and at recent elections quite a number were barred from voting on account of the rush at the closing hours of the polls. By dividing the First precinct at Twenty-fourth street and making a territory west of Twenty-fourth and south of Linto a fourth precinct the vote will be more evenly divided and will prevent the complaints about crowding at the polls. This action cannot be taken until the summer, but should be done during the summer so as to prepare for the fall campaign. This spring the registration is only for revision, but next fall, when a complete new registration is made, the change can be accomplished without any trouble.

Testimonial to County Jail. A testimonial to Jailer Jones of the county jail, signed by some fifteen or twenty prisoners, has been filed in answer to the letter of complaint of other prisoners that the prisoners have every proper accommodation and satisfactory food and that while the signers do not want their names published they are glad to give correct answers to any investigating commission.

On Trial for Three Years. G. Morris Zepp of Westminster, Maryland, says: "I have used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in my family for the past three years, and with marked success, especially with croup. I give relief in from ten to fifteen minutes. I believe it to be the best cough medicine on the market." After three years' trial Mr. Zepp is well qualified to speak on the merits of this remedy. It is perfectly reliable and always gives quick relief.

Directors Elect Secretary Today. A meeting of the directors of the South Omaha Live Stock exchange will be held today to dispose of routine matters. It is expected that the question of selecting a secretary will come up and possibly a choice may be made. It is the intention of the directors to have the new secretary commence work on March 1 and for this reason it is deemed best to make the selection at this time.

Bishop Warren Preached. Bishop Warren of Denver preached the sermon at the First Methodist church Sunday morning, and at the conclusion of the service the mortgage on the church property was burned, much to the delight of the large congregation. The church is now virtually out of debt. A great deal of the credit for this condition of affairs is due to Rev. J. A. Johnson, the pastor, who has worked hard for more than a year to raise the money needed to extinguish the debt.
