Commerce Interstate Wants Power to Fix Rates. Edward A. Moseley, secretary of the Interstate Commerce commission, has written to the commercial committee of the city council, asking its endorsement of the bill introduced in the United States senate by Senator Cullom, which is designed to give the commission the authority intended to be conferred by congress when the law was originally enacted. The bill has been endorsed by numerous national associations and Secretary Moseley is anxious that the commercial committee shall pass resolutions calling on the Iowa delegation in congress to assist in its passage.

In his letter Secretary Moseley says in part: "A few railroad officials and some newspapers have charged that the commission, by recommending these amendments, is seeking unlimited authority to make This charge is entirely without foundation. The commission neither asks nor desires to be invested with general rate-making power. It simply asks for authority to correct rates which have been previously established by the carriers in the full exercise of their rate-making power, when such rates are found by the commission, after due notice, investigation and full hearing, to be in violation of the act, and the commission asks this because experience has demonstrated that there is practically no other way by which the public can be protected against excessive or unjustly discriminative rates.

"It has been asserted in some quarters that the powers asked for in this regard would imperil the commercial interests of the country. This statement is altogether erroneous. On the contrary, the passage of this measure would conserve the interests of producers, manufacturers and shippers generally, while protecting the rights of the carriers. The authority to correct rates, which have been found to be unlawful, is neither arbitrary nor final under the provisions of this bill. In every case the carriers must have due notice and opportunity to be heard site west of Main street and south of Broadbefore any change in rates can be ordered and all orders of this character are made tublect to review by a circuit court of the United States and by the supreme court of he United States. The sole purpose of these imendments is to furnish the means of enforcing the present provisions of the law against unreasonable rates and unjust discrimination and to that end to confer upon the commission the degree of authority respecting rates which for ten years it was supposed to have, but which the supreme rourt has declared it does not possess."

Referring to the site last selected, on First avenue, he did not think the school should be erected under any circumstanecs on inside property. The board, he was sure, was not unanimous as to the First avenue site and for his part he would like to have the voice of the majority of the people as to where they would prefer to have the school located and for that reason he urged the adoption of the resolution.

Member Moore, who was occupying the chair in the absence of President Sims, said he would like to see the action selecting the First avenue site rescinded before any further action was taken. He knew that an injunction would be taken out against that site.

Member Swaine said that he had been informed there was an injunction being constructed" against this site.

Henry then took the floor and said: "I am opposed to letting the question go before the people. It is mere child's play asking the people to decide something that I have been assured that there would be no injunction sought against the site on First

PROCEEDINGS OF THE CITY COUNCIL. Proceedings Are Tame, as Many of the Members Are Absent.

LITTLE OF INTEREST IN EITHER HOUSE

Report of Attorney General on Building Associations and Insurance Companies Will Come Up in the Senate Today.

DES MOINES, Feb. 19 .- (Special Telegram.)-Today's session of the legislature was decidedly tame. Many members of the assembly were absent from the city, having spent the Sabbath at home. It was expected that the report of the attorney general on the building and loan and insurance ompanies would be submitted to the upper body today, but it failed to arrive in time. I few moments of - the senate adjourned t was handed in. It will be read tomorrow. It is expected the document will be full of sweeping facts concerning the present method of conducting the companies in this state. There will be many recommendations regarding the changing of laws affecting organizations doing business in Iowa.

> In the upper body three new bills were introduced today. One, by Griswold, pro-poses to provide that 75 per cent of the gate receipts of penitentiaries shall go to buy books for the prison library and the remaining 25 per cent for amusements. Mullan introduced a measure to increase the pay of supreme court reporters to about $2,000 per year and to grant them additional powers regarding the combination of annual volumes of opinions. The senate indefinitely postponed the bill by Alberson providing that taxes refunded to poor persons shall draw 6 per cent and be a lien against the property of the indigent person. A similar bill has been killed when notified by the Fort Dodge police in the house.

Eight New Bills.

At the afternoon session of the legislaure eight new bills were introduced, but wo were important. One, by Temple, proposes to reduce the number of supreme judges from six to five, to create an appellant court of three judges to have jurisdiction over cases involving sums up to This is to relieve the supreme court. One, by Byers, prohibits directors of corporations from selecting officers from among themselves without the consent of three-fourths of the stockholders.

bill passed to continue one-tenth of mill tax for the State university and the bill by Theophilus for the creation of a barbers' examining board. Governor Shaw was approached concerning the Board of Control appointment this morning, but refused to be interviewed. He declared he had nothing to give out and would not have anything to give out upon it today. It is now beginning to be a matter of speculation among the members of the assembly as to whether ex-Governor Larrabee's shoes are destined to be filled at all or not. But the governor has assured his friends that he will find a good man somewhere in lowa and someone who will accept the position.
