

WORLD'S EVANGELIZATION

Rev. W. T. Hilton Preaches Sunday Morning on Christian Missions.

GOSPEL'S WONDERFUL TRANSFORMATIONS

Sacrifices Made by the Missionaries in Giving Up Lucrative and Comfortable Positions to Endure Hardships in Heathen Lands.

In Grand Street Christian church Sunday morning Rev. W. T. Hilton, pastor, preached on the theme, "Evangelization of the World," going over thoroughly the six ground of Christian missions. He contrasted the great sums spent selfishly by Christians with the meager amounts sent to convey the truth to the heathen, and continued: "The scriptures speak of all nations, all peoples, all the ends of the earth and the uttermost parts of the earth. It was the world that God loved and not a part of it."

"Two-thirds of the population of the globe have not heard of Christ. One man in every four lives in China; one in every five in India. A million a month die in China without Christ. They want salvation. They ask the question, 'What must I do to be saved?'"

MORMONS HOLD A CONFERENCE.

Mission Established for Conversion of Those Who Deny the West.

The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints, popularly known as "Mormons," held an all-day conference at Idlewild hall Sunday at which several of the elders of the church related their personal experiences in the light of their faith.

Elder Kelly gave a brief exposition of the faith of the church. "In all times," said Mr. Kelly, "with the exception of a few hundred years in modern times the church of God has had a regularly ordained priesthood, which extended from Adam to Christ, and by Him was transmitted to the apostles. At several periods during this time the wickedness of the people had caused the priesthood to lapse and it required an act of God to restore it, and at several times Moses, Aaron, Noah, Abraham, Samuel and other prophets were ordained by the Lord and restored the priesthood to mankind. After the death of the apostles the priesthood endured for some time, but finally ceased because of the evils of the people. When, in the providence of God, it became necessary to restore the priesthood to man, John the Baptist appeared to Joseph Smith and Oliver Penderly and announced to them that by the desire of the apostles—Peter, John and James—he gave to them the keys of the kingdom and that through them the priesthood of God was re-established on earth. This occurrence of John the Baptist was March 15, 1828, and a short time thereafter Peter, John and James appeared to Joseph and Oliver and they were ordained by the celestial visitants as priests of God of the new dispensation."

Another elder told of the suffering of the Mormon church. "We were driven to the mountains and waste places," he said, "because we preached the gospel of Christ without fear or favor; but we have no anger in our hearts against any people and on the banks of that river from whence we were driven years ago we have established this mission for the salvation of those persons who persecuted us. By his works you may know a member of the church of Christ, for we have in our church the proofs given in the bible and when anyone leads a godless life he is not of us."

PROVING TRUE TO A HERITAGE.

Church Must Carry on the Mission Begun with Loyal Strife.

"There were two great classes of immigrants which left the impress of their individuality upon the life of the nation," said Rev. H. C. Herrick at the First Congregational church Sunday morning. "The earliest of these were the Puritans, who imported to New England characteristics which it still possesses. Later Scotch-Irish pioneers settled in the south, a race totally unlike the Puritans in temperament and disposition but cherishing almost identical ideals and ambitions. They were similar in their strict morality, their loyalty to their church, their hatred of tyranny and their self-sacrificing spirit. With these two classes were mingled the Dutch, the Huguenot, the cavalier and many other who were absorbed in the personality of the stronger races."

"Behind every great spiritual movement which has gone on to success in this country has been the spirit of these two great original forces. The religious life which those pioneers fostered has become an intrinsic part of the national character. Thousands of missionaries today are spreading their gospel throughout the country, telling the story in Spanish to natives of New Mexico and in Indian tongues to the people of the far northwest. The plea of the home missionary is so familiar to our ears that often we pass it unheeded, forgetting that the work he is doing under the surface will perpetuate our free institutions in time to come. His steady and shabby library tell of his poverty, but with this poverty he is making other rich. Single-handed he has taken up the fight against ignorance, evil and unbelief and some time his labor will be appreciated as the true worth of the world will have forgotten the quality of gratitude."

The sermon ended with an appeal for support for the home mission cause and annual subscriptions were taken to that end.

WORLD COMING TO AN END

Luther Warren, a Lecturer, is Positive that the Break-Up is Not Far Away.

In Washington hall Sunday night Luther Warren, lecturer, told a large audience that the world is coming to an end. He doesn't know just when this important event will take place—possibly within five years—certainly not later than twenty years from the present time.

Here are some of the phenomena, according to Mr. Warren that will attend the exit of this gray old earth:

"England's power will engulf all nations. There will be a great international call to arms. In this, and events immediately following, Russia and the United States will play an important part. One of the consequences of the mobilization will be the driving of the Turks out of Europe, and the former inhabitants of the Ottoman empire will settle at old Jerusalem, which will become their capital. Here all the armies of the earth will congregate. Nations will be broken up and formed on new lines. And then, when the armies are gathered there, Jesus, as King of Kings, will come with heaven's army; the earth will reel; the mountains will fall; the wicked will be withered by a great light and the righteous will claim their reward."

The star shower of November, 1883, was given special significance in the lecture as being the last of a series of signs set forth in the bible that the end of the world is near at hand. The lecturer quoted scripture to prove that before the generation that witnessed that spectacle is entirely extinct the millennium will come. He admitted that others had predicted the end of the world, but declared that any other latter-day prophet had made use of his particular proof.

JENNIE MCCLAIN'S TROUBLES

Swallows Poison, and After Being Rescued from Death, Has a Quarrel with Harry Martin.

Jennie McClain, the domestic who was tried Friday for disturbing the peace of Harry Martin, has apparently made up her mind that she will not be forgiven by the police force of Omaha, and on Sunday succeeded in getting into custody twice. After she was discharged from custody Saturday she disappeared from the police and told the matron that she was going home. Instead of that she remained in Omaha until Sunday, when she resolved to make her exit from Omaha and the material world simultaneously. She went to Bell's drug store on Farnam street, where she purchased a small quantity of powdered oxalic acid. As she left the store she was seen by Detective Drummy, and because of her queer action that officer followed her and caught her arm as she was swallowing the poison. She was taken to the police station, where Dr. Ralph counteracted the effects of the poison. She then went to sleep for a few hours, after which she was discharged upon a promise to make no other attempt upon her life.

But the police were not through with Jennie for the day. When she left the station she went to Seventeenth and Douglas streets, where she met Harry Martin. They talked together and the conversation terminated in a quarrel, during which Martin seized the woman and handled her so roughly as to tear the buttons from her cloak and to tear her furs from her neck. Her screams attracted the attention of passersby and one of them came to her aid, catching Martin and taking him to a house until a policeman could be summoned. Both the woman and the man were arrested and taken to the station, where a charge of disturbing the peace was placed against them.

SOUTH OMAHA NEWS.

Rev. J. A. Johnson, pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal church, has this to say on the political situation in his paper, the South Omaha Methodist:

"Various states are being made up preparatory to the primary election on the 14th and 15th of March for the nomination of officers to be elected at our city election. It is time for Christian voters and all good people to be wide awake, whatever your political affiliations may be. It is your duty to attend the primary election and vote only for that delegate who is pledged for the nomination of men of good, clean records and whose character is a sufficient bond that if they are elected we will have an honest administration of the city's affairs and a decent enforcement of law and order."

Temperance Meeting. Gospel temperance meetings are now being held at Blum's hall, Twenty-sixth and N streets. Rev. C. P. St. John is in charge and he will speak at all meetings. Correction in Franchise Ordinance.

Two errors were made in connection with the account of the telephone franchise drafted by Chairman Christie of the Commercial club committee on telegraphs and telephones. Mr. Christie proposes to demand a royalty of $300 per annum, instead of $600 as stated, and will call for a deposit of $100 with the city treasurer instead of a deposit of $300. These errors were made through the committee changing the figures in the franchise ordinance after the draft had been given to the press.

There are two kinds of CLOTHING. Shoddy, unsightly and high-priced represents the first. Workmanship, grace and inexpensiveness, the other. Which do you prefer? If the first, don't take up your time looking through our clothing department—'tisn't here. If the latter, you may look here for your wants. There is style in every garment, workmanship in every stitch—your money's worth or your money back. This store comes to the front, with more clothing to show you, more styles to show you, more patterns to show you, and better prices to make you than any other house within your reach.

THE SAME THING. We may say regarding our ladies' cloak and suit department. In a few days we'll be ready to invite you to the grandest collection of women's tailor-made clothing you have as yet seen in any western house. You can get an inkling of what's to be the style now by visiting our ladies' cloak and suit room. We wouldn't keep a thing back from you even if you're only looking. Remodeling and enlarging this already growing department, keeps us mixed up a little, but you're welcome to be one of the many who will visit us for cloak and suit pointers.
