Priests and Friars Driven Out.

There have never been any Spanish prisers in the province of Sorsogen and all Spanish friars and priests were driven away more than a year ago; churches are now occupied and services conducted by the native clergy. The natives of southern Luzon are called Vicols. They seem a quiet and peace ful people, unlikely to give trouble if Tagal influence he removed from them and they are apparently more anxious to be let alone to grow small crops than to fight and die for the Aguinaldo ideal of liberty. This province is a hemp producer and as there have been no shipments out for six months past con siderable of this product is stored here wait-
