The democratic leaders assert that they will cheerfully abide by the decision of the court of appeals. But should the decision be in their favor they will insist on the orcupancy of the state buildings, "peaceably possible, but forcibly if necessary," as It was expressed today.

Castleman and Collier Confer.

The conference between Adjutant Gen erals Castleman and Collier lasted a greater part of the afternoon, and a tack agreement was made to allow matters to remain in statu the state officers or of the state militia serving under Governor Taylor.

The legislature adjourned sine die late this afternoon, after one of the most remarkable sessions in the history of the state. In spite of the fact that there was the usual disorder attendant on the closing day of the ession, especial progress was accomplished. including the passage of Senator Triplett's resolution appropriating $100,000 to enable Governor Beckham to "reorganize, extend the organization and recover the munition of war in the state." The debate on the bill in the house naturally took on a strong partisan tinge, but it finally went through umid wild cheering by a vote of 53 to 13, most of the republicans refusing to vote. It was explained by the democratic lenders on The floor that the fund will not be used until after the decision of the court of appeals. The bill is considered as a "war fund" by the democrats.
