

Danger In Delay.

Only a little backache,
Tis the first symptom.
Tells you the kidneys are sick
They are crying for help.
Neglect—delay—
The ache increases,
Then 'tis serious,
Urinary troubles follow,
Retention of the urine—
Excessive discharges—
Painful passages.
Don't wait until too late,
The earlier symptoms are easily cured.
But it's a hard fight
When diabetes sets in;
When Bright's disease
Has taken hold.
Take Doan's Kidney Pills
With the first sign of kidney ills.
Relief will be prompt—cure
certain.
Don't wait till it's chronic.
There's too much danger in it.

"Keeping Tab" on the Kidneys

Watch the Urine, it should have the amber hue of health; if 'tis a dark reddish color, contains a "brick dust" like deposit, if the discharge is infrequent or excessive the kidneys are sick and need assistance. Neglect means Diabetes—Bright's Disease.

Doan's Kidney Pills

cure every form of Kidney Ills—cure all symptomatic pains and aches of sick kidneys; cure the aching back, the lame, the weak and painful one.

Lake Street. Mr. William H. Maiken, Carpenter, of 2621 Lake street, says: "During the twelve years I had attacks of kidney complaint I took lots of medicine, but received little if any benefit. I even went to Colorado Springs, thinking the mineral water and mountain air might help me. Two years made little difference in my physical condition and I returned east. Sometimes I was laid up and suffered the most excruciating pain imaginable. Now, I don't want it understood that I am radically cured, but of this I am certain, that Doan's Kidney Pills, procured at Kuhn & Co.'s drug store, corner 15th and Douglas streets, gradually relieved me of aching until it finally disappeared."	Bristol Street. Mr. R. L. Rowe, 2621 Bristol street, who has charge of the transmitters between Chicago, St. Louis and California in the Western Union Telegraph Co.'s office, says: "Before I procured Doan's Kidney Pills at Kuhn & Co.'s Drug Store, corner 15th and Douglas streets, I tried several well known proprietary medicines guaranteed to be sure cures for any form of kidney trouble, but at best they only gave me temporary relief. Finally I gave up searching for a remedy, but as my back ached and there was too frequent action of the kidney secretions, it struck me if Doan's Kidney Pills performed half what they promised they might help me over the difficulty. The treatment has apparently cured me, for up to date I have not noticed a symptom of a recurrence."
Douglas Street. Mrs. Kanade Thompson, 808 Douglas street, says: "It is nearly twenty years since I first had trouble with my back and kidneys, and in spite of all doctors and medicines could do I gradually grew worse. There are very few people in my neighborhood but who know how I suffered. Seeing Doan's Kidney Pills advertised I sent to Kuhn & Co.'s drug store for a box. After using it I found the pain in my back had passed away. I cannot use words strong enough to express my opinion of Doan's Kidney Pills after what they did for me when everything else failed."	Webster Street. Mr. W. B. Taylor of 1511 Webster street, employed at the Omaha Hard Wood Lumber Co., says: "My kidneys troubled me for a couple of years, my back ached, the kidney secretions became highly colored and sharp twinges caught me in the kidneys when stooping. Procuring Doan's Kidney Pills from Kuhn & Co.'s drug store, corner 15th and Douglas streets, I took them and they cured me. I do not hesitate in saying that Doan's Kidney Pills are a reliable remedy and I have spoken to several of my friends about them."
So. Twenty-Eighth St. Mr. J. C. Taylor, No. 112 South 28th St., motorman on the Street Railway Co., says: "My back was weak and bothered me more or less ever since a boy, but it never was so bad until the summer of 1898, when the exposure was in operation. My back got very sore and I felt the giving up spirit and every time the car jolted or started, the sharp twinges through my back were almost unbearable. I took different medicines, but received little benefit. When I saw Doan's Kidney Pills advertised I procured a box at Kuhn & Co.'s drug store. They helped me right away and two boxes cured me."	Fowler Street. Mrs. J. W. Edwards, No. 2726 Fowler St., says: "I must say that I had not much confidence in Doan's Kidney Pills before I used them, but I was so troubled with symptoms of kidney complaint and suffered so severely with my back and rheumatism that I was compelled to do something, and went to Kuhn & Co.'s Drug Store for a box. They soon convinced me of their value, and since completing the treatment I have not been troubled."

That's the Spot.

Know the spot?
Right in "small" of the back,
Just above the hips,
Bad place for pain,
But it always comes there,
When the kidneys are sick,
Comes in many forms,
Sharp, quick twinges,
Slow, Exhaustive ache,
Always starts in the one spot
But it don't stop there—
The ache goes on,
Goes on up the back—
Follows the nerve centers,
You call it all backache,
Ought to call it kidneyache
Because it comes from the kidneys.
There's a lurking danger in
it all.
Never neglect backache,
Never neglect the kidneys'
cry for help.
Serious trouble is sure to follow.
Urinary difficulties set in,
Doan's Kidney Pills are for kidneys only.
Doan's Kidney Pills cure
backache,
Cure excessive urinary discharges,
Cure retention of the urine,
Cure every kidney ill.

LETTER FROM IOWA SAILOR

Council Bluffs Boy Writes of Experiences in the Orient.

DESCRIPTION OF THE BALTIMORE'S CRUISE

Jack Pains Picturesque Existence in Japan—Visit to Temples and Sulphur Springs—Hong Kong is Cleanly City.

The following letter was received in Council Bluffs by Mrs. W. A. Joseph from her brother, W. S. Chapman, a marine on the United States ship Baltimore. Chapman has been confined in the naval hospital at Yokohama, Japan, with typhoid fever since October 3, 1899, and is now on his way back to Manila. He is a former resident of Council Bluffs.

"STEAMSHIP YARUYA MARU, MOIL, Japan, Jan. 17.—We left Yokohama January 12 about noon and arrived in Kobe January 13, stayed at Kobe three nights and two days. There are about 160,000 inhabitants here, exclusive of Chinese, which number about 1,200, and also about 800 Europeans. There are two large hotels here, the Occidental and Oriental, both of which are fine large structures equipped with all the modern improvements.

"Here may be found sulphur springs and baths, both hot and cold. Tea houses are scattered all over the town and hillside, where the travelers may procure a cup of tea and rest after a ride or walk. Temples of all sorts are to be found in Japan. I visited several here, but found none worthy of mention, and saw also the inside of several of their gods, named Da-Butsue, or God of Fat. Nearly all the stores are saloons or something of the sort. In fact, there is not one Japanese store in Japan where liquor cannot be had if desired.

"Maki, where we anchored at present, is a small place of recent origin, and here is found an abundance of coal. It is at the southwestern entrance of the inland sea. The inland sea is the name given to that portion of the Pacific ocean which is contained between the main island of Japan on the north and the islands of Kinshiu and Shikoku on the south. Its length is about 240 miles and varies in width from eight to forty miles. There are some places so thickly studded with small islets that vessels passing through them go very close to the shore. It is not known how many of these islands there are, but are generally supposed to number in the thousands. Their endless shapes, picturesque groupings and fantastic reflections of sunlight and casting of shadows, as well as the signs of a peaceful farming and fishing existence, sheltered from the ravages of storms, make up a scene which would paint itself on the brain of any traveler. The steamers cannot travel very fast through the islets on account of the great difficulties of navigation, and for travelers to enjoy this scenery they must leave the eastern entrance, going west, or the western entrance, going east.

"Life on Board Ship.

"There are three blue jackets going to Manila on this steamer besides myself, and I will tell you how we live. We have one stateroom with four bunks or beds in it. Mine is No. 12, the unlucky number. We are provided all the comforts due the traveler. As to what and how we eat. Upon waking in the morning coffee and toast are served to us, while in bed, breakfast at 8:30 a. m. Then there is the Japanese and Chinese food for the midday meal, commonly called luncheon by the aristocratic Americans at 12:30 p. m., and dinner at 6:30 p. m. The meals are all served in courses. There is a table bill of fare from which you choose whatever strikes you fancy and unless a person who does nothing all day we do is what you call a "twine" it is impossible to eat everything at one sitting.

"January 20, 1900.—Again I will resume my story of Japan. We left Nagasaki today at 5 p. m., and are heading along at the rate of about twelve or thirteen knots per hour. (Kobe, Nagasaki, has extensive coal beds.

"This place is similar to all Japanese towns and contains about the same sights. In all ports and towns of Japan can be found Europeans, who are in business, but a person wanting to buy anything will do well by patronizing the Japs. Even should you refuse to pay the price of an article you will not leave his place until he has sold you something, even if he has to do it at a great loss to himself, which is, however, very rarely. There are several foreign hotels here and the city boasts of one newspaper, called the Nagasaki Press, and one club, the name of which I did not learn.

"Cleanliness in Hong Kong.

"January 23.—Arrived at Hong Kong this morning at 7 o'clock and went ashore. This place differs greatly from any Japanese ports, both in the people and the sights, as this place, in some parts, is much cleaner than Japan cities and an European (that is, I mean, an American in uniform) is not treated so much as in Japan. Not that one of them would dare to step a person on the street and do him bodily injury, but it is their ambition to sell you something which they peddle and they will gather so thick around you that it is almost impossible to get through them sometimes, and we are like the one who strikes one of these people, as it would mean a term in jail, and the chances are you would be mobbed by about 1,000 of the devils before you could wink your eye. There are a great number of mercantile establishments here, and there can be found for sale nearly all the articles of commerce that can be had in the United States. There are two or three places of interest here, such as 'The Peak' and a summer resort called 'Hay View.' The Peak is on the top of a mountain some 12,000 or 15,000 feet above the sea and is reached by cable cars. I took a ride on one of the cars and had dinner (oriffin) at the Peak hotel. I don't want you to get the impression that this hotel is on the highest point of the mountain, because it is not. It is probably about 200 feet below. On the peak, or highest point, is situated a signal station from whence a steamer can be seen a great distance off,

NEW YORK CLUB WILL BALK

WILL NOT SIGN EIGHT-CLUB AGREEMENT

Ewing Finds Fault with Action of Philadelphia Club in Securing Services of Single When He Had a Prior Claim.

NEW YORK, March 14.—"Buck" Ewing, who will manage the New York base ball team this season, said tonight that Andrew Freedman would not sign the eight-club agreement drawn at the recent meeting of the National Athletic Union. He said that he had the preference of the players.

Ewing spoke particularly of the action of the Philadelphia club, which has secured the services of Single, who was a member of one of the western clubs. Ewing says that the management had made application for Single's services long before the Philadelphia management had learned he was for sale and yet President Young of the National league had decided in favor of the Philadelphia.

NEW ORLEANS, March 14.—Seldenback's race in the steeplechase was a disappointing one. Seldenback won the owner, trainer and jockey Stewart indignantly, pending an investigation of the race.

NEW YORK, March 14.—Hugh J. Grant, the federal temporary receiver for the Third Avenue Railroad company, today presented to Judge Lacombe of the United States circuit court a report showing the present condition of the corporation's affairs.

The report shows that the total indebtedness of the Third Avenue company is, in round numbers, $25,000,000, including the $5,000,000 outstanding mortgage bonds, but not including any of the indebtedness of the subsidiary companies.

It is shown that all of the securities owned by the Third Avenue Railroad company, of the subsidiary companies, have been pledged as collateral for loans included in the total amount. Mr. Grant figures the cost of completing the road at from $10,000,000 to $12,000,000. There are outstanding $10,000,000 of Third Avenue stock. The report says that all of the real estate of the Third Avenue Railroad company is included in the Third Avenue mortgage of $5,000,000.

The second volume of the Revised Statutes of Missouri will be ready for distribution some time this month. The first volume, containing 1,400 pages, has been out for several weeks. Eight volumes of much the larger of the two, containing 2,000 pages. Fifteen thousand copies of each volume will be printed. Eight volumes of paper and the skins of 30,000 head of sheep were used in the manufacture. These books are nearly twice as large as were the statutes of 1892 and will cost the state $300,000.

Chicago Base Ball Not Averred.

CHICAGO, March 14.—Friendly mediation on the part of the manager, Tom Loftis, of the Chicago National league team, has failed in bringing about an understanding between President Hart of the Chicago club and Governor Scott, who is manager of the league. It has been decided after a conference between Hart and Johnson that there will be no change between the clubs and they will allow the public to choose between them and as which produces the better article of ball during the season.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., March 14.—Manager Jesse D. Declares British Civil Authorities at Capetown Wink at Semi-Treasonable Acts.

NEW YORK, March 14.—The first word from Rudyard Kipling since he went to South Africa will be printed in this week's issue of Harper's Weekly. Kipling cables a long account of British disloyalty, which he calls the "sin of witchcraft." The burden of his complaint is that British civil authorities in Capetown wink at semi-treasonable acts, and to quote his own words, "The government will take care it does not pay anyone to be loyal." He says: "The loyalist on the border has his house ripped on the inside by Boers or rebels, or both. The disloyal farmer is respected and turned by supplies the enemy with food, horses and information. He risks his small life, he may possibly be arrested on a charge of treason. He may then be sent down country to be tried by a sympathetic jury. He hopes, and not without reason, to have his farm restored to him, after he has undergone some absurdly inadequate punishment. "Meanwhile the loyalist's plough is lying useless on the veranda, photographs of his home show the rooms as though cyclones had met to wrestle there; his flocks and herds are gone and the baby linen is lying on the dung heap. He and his family crawl into Capetown in overpacked trains and get what consolation they can from singing 'Britons Never Shall Be Slaves' on the platform. Then do Messrs. Kruger and Steyn begin correspondence with Lord Roberts as to the atrocities committed on a virtuous population by a brutal and licentious soldiery. "The loyalists declare that properly handled open disloyalty could be reduced to a negligible quantity. 'What then,' they demand, 'is the sense of creating and promoting the article of the boot as you created and propped and supported the Transvaal until it bit you?'"

"They have a certain amount of reason on their side and it may as well be set out that to defeat, to delay, to evade and nullify the workings of a just punishment, at first and finally with an incident carelessness of security, is to proceed sedition under guise of object loyalty. To malign unscrupulously and to lie malignantly among ignorant people is a merry and profitable game while it endures. The players, however, do not see or long with their small intrigues, will not realize that for each man whose neck they save arises yet another deserving nothing less than their necks. It is a brutal way to put it, but things are not all cream and honey in Capetown just now, and I confess it gives me the cold creeps to watch these smooth talking, smiling men explain-

Ball for Charity's Sake

Imposing Function Occurs at Metropolitan Hall Under the Auspices of Jewish Women.

Surpassing the expectations of the most sanguine the grand charity ball given in Metropolitan hall Wednesday night will bear into social history as one of the notable successes scored by the Jewish people of Omaha. The large ballroom of the club-house was the scene of a most brilliant and memorable occasion. The guests of Jewish society creeds were out in numbers and the gowns worn by the women were magnificent.

The hall was prettily decorated for the occasion. Countless electric lights cast a radiance over the entire hall, and the gowned women and conventionally attired men. The floral decorations presented a contrast pleasing to the eye. Smiles and good-will were in evidence throughout the entire hall. Representatives of the social and Jewish societies were out in numbers and the gowns worn by the women were magnificent.

Last night's charity ball was given under the joint auspices of the Jewish Ladies' Aid and Sewing society, of which Mrs. J. S. Rosenberg is president, and the Final Fifth Preliminary arrangements for the ball were made by all of the members of these two societies, under the leadership of the respective presidents. It was the first social event of this nature ever undertaken by the two societies. Its success was so marked as to insure future affairs of like description. The prominence and lustre of the ball socially betoken its triumph from a financial standpoint. The net proceeds will aggregate a handsome sum, which will be used to recoup the treasury of the societies by which the ball was given. The funds will be distributed for charitable purposes and will be directed to Jewish channels.

Promptly at 8:30 the orchestra began the grand march. This was led by Rabbi and Mrs. Simon, Julius Meyer and Miss Lena Rehfeld, who directed the movements of the large number of participants through a series of graceful evolutions. Following the grand march came a program of fifteen dances and several "ceilidhs." During the intermissions the booths, presided over by handsome young women, having for sale flowers, candies, cigars and refreshing drinks, were liberally patronized. At half-past eight an elaborate supper was served.

The officers of the societies are: Rabbi Abraham Simon, president; Miss Lena Rehfeld, secretary; Mrs. Ferdinand Adler, treasurer. Mr. Julius Meyer was the master of ceremonies and was assisted by the following board committee: Julius Dreifuss, Saul Frank, Mark Heller, Ed. Morris, George Siligshin, Abram Katish. The ladies' committee, having in charge the supper, was presided over by Medea Morris Levy and Albert Heller, who were assisted by a committee of the ladies: Mrs. M. Heller, Mrs. Rosenberg and Abram Simon were at the head of the ladies' reception and booth committee and had for their assistants a number of charming young women.

Naval Officer says of Grape-Nuts Food

"It is incomparable"

"No food that I have ever used has benefited me like Grape-Nuts. I have been a sufferer for several years with stomach trouble and nervousness, used almost everything, but with little effect. Grape-Nuts food has certainly re-invigorated and strengthened me marvellously. There is nothing like it; it is incomparable. I write this without solicitation on your part, but from a sense of duty. Very truly yours, Frank J. DeVilliers, office of the Naval officer of Customs, Baltimore, Md.
