Rules Re-Enacted from Those Adopted by City Committee-Just What They Contemplate and Provide For.

"When you find republicans rushing with grievances to the Bryanite fusion organ you can rest assured that they are not the kind of republicans who can be counted on to vote the republican ticket at the election." This was said by a prominent member of the republican county committee with reference to the roar in the World-Herald over the alleged dissatisfaction among republicans with the call for the republican primaries to elect delegates to the state convention. "It is a tempest in a teapot," he continued, "raised by fellows who still-smart under their rebuff at the city primaries. These so-called republicans always seek aid and comfort from the popocratic paper. "They really have no ground whatever for fault-finding. The county committee has issued a call for a republican primary to be held in every ward and precinct in the pending, in which the attorney general county on Friday, March 30, at which every republican voter is invited to record himself for delegates to state and congressional conventions. The call contains new departures in only two particulars.

"The delegates elected at the primaries certificates furnished them by the county committee. This does away with the county convention, it is true, but as the convention would have nothing else to do than to certify the delegates to the state and congressional conventions, there being no nominations to be made, it simply takes away a piece of unnecessary machinery. Ordinarily the delegates elected to the county convention simply re-elect themselves as delegates to the state convention, so that so far us the personnel of the delegation is concerned it will make no difference.

May Vote for Whole Delegation. "The second change is with reference to for a single ward delegation every repubname filed as a candidate for delegate or any set of men not exceeding ninety-six can have their names filed in one delegation, providing only that their set of delegates is made up so as to represent the different wards and precincts according to the ratio set forth in the call. "It is true there is an apparent conflict between one of the rules adopted by our committee and the provision of the new primary law on the number of signatures to the petition. I take it that so far as the rule conflicts with the law the law will stand and supersede the rule. The law provides that a candidate running in an entire county shall have his petition signed by 250 registered republicans, while our rule, which is copied from the rules adopted by the want to be technical with reference to the petitions, but that it would be disposed to give every petition filed in a bona fide manner

vantage of such a delegation is readily conceded by every one familiar with the workings of state conventions in which the delegations from the several counties are called on to vote as a unit. Nothing New in the Rules.

"As to the rules which the county committee has adopted, they are almost identical interpretation of law." with the rules drafted and adopted by the republican city committee for the last republican city primaries. These rules were formulated by a committee consisting of A. W. Jefferis, Charles E. Morgan, John C Wharton and W. J. Connell. When put into practice at the last city primaries they seemed to meet the requirements of the situation as well as could be expected.

Some Strong Contrasts. "Contrast this with the Blackburn scheme, by which a committee, appointed by one man, representing three different counties,

TAILOR ROBBED BY FOOTPADS

Three Negro Highwaymen Take $60 from a Lake City, (In.) Man -One Arrest.

B. R. Leigh, a tailor from Lake City, Ia., was held up and ropbed of $60 Friday night by three colored highwaymen at Twelfth Men Can Now Cure Themselves at and Capitol avenue. One of the footpads, Lou Carter, has been arrested and identified by Leigh. As to the identity of the other two the police have no clue. About 7 o'clock in the evening Leigh vistted a saloon near Twelfth and Capitol avenue, and being intoxicated, he displayed a roll of bills. In the saloon were several negro loafers. As he went out they followed him, and, before he had walked a half block one of them seized him from behind and held him while two others searched his packets. No weapon was displayed, and the men wore no masks. To secure the original witch hazel salve, ask for DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve, well known as a certain cure for piles and skin diseases. Beware of worthless counterfelts. They are dangerous.

Inexpected Ending of Prosecution Against Alleged Forger of Railway Transportation-Other Charges Still Pending.

After thirty minutes' deliberation, a jury Holmes and this trial only covers one. He will be arraigned later on the other charges. The information is identical in each case. Holmes maintained the same calmness when the verdict was read that has characterized his action from the beginning. He appeared to look upon the result as a matter of course and exhibited no surprise. The case of Holmes is one of the most remarkable that has within recent years engaged the attention of railroad detectives. That somebody did an extensive manipulation in railroad tickets there is no doubt, but it appears to be a difficult matter to locate the responsibility. It appeared that Holmes was the guilty party, so the railto Natchez, Miss., and arrested there by Thomas R. Gorman, who was at that time in Notes of the Courts. S. C. Burlingin, an Omaha notary public, was arraigned in the district court on a charge of aiding John Jones of Crawford county, la., in forging the name of Peter Buller to two deeds. He pleaded not guilty. Jallus Lunno, in Judge Slabaugh's court, has just lost his third damage sult against the Omaha Street Railway company for an accident to his person in 1857.
