Why "Bob" Burdette is Not Chaplain Robert J. Burdette, fatter and more joy ous than ever, came east from his California home the other day, delivering lectures along the way and ending with a visit to his son, who is attending one of the eastern colleges and who has some of his father's gifts in literature, says the Saturday Evening Post Mr. Burdette is thoroughly attached to Pasaiena and speaks of it in glowing terms. He s pastor of a church there and says he greatly enjoys his work. While in Philadel phia he received a letter from the governor of California saying that he had his commission ready as chaptain in one of the regiments and was very anxious to know whether he would accept the place.

"Of course you will take it?" a friend sked "Well. I don't know." was his response 'It all depends. Just now I am waiting for the war to close.' Just Strong Enough. Not long ago Sandow was going from Kanas City to Omaha—at least that is a ne paper story.

"Excuse me, sir." said a fellow-passenger 'but are you not Mr. Sandow?' "Yes," said the strong man. "You can lift three tons in harness?"

'Yes, sir, that is my record," the Hercules eturned. "You can hold two hundredweight at arm" ength?

"And put up 300 pounds with one arm?" "Yes.

"And 600 with two?" "Yes." "Well, then, would you kindly raise this vindow for me?"

President Ents Next Day. Gossip in one of the cloak rooms at th national capital the other day brought our good story about old Davy Crockett of nnessee. Davy had been to Washington and was again with his constituents at olg country barbecue. After the repast they were seated on some logs, chewing the juicy wist, when one of the party spoke up and asked Crockett about Washington.

"What time do those folks eat up there?" "Oh," said Davy, "they eat at different imes. The congressmen eat dinner from 6 to 8 at night, and the legationers dine from "And what time, then, does the president
