FIGHT STARTED BEFORE CONGRESSMEN

Witness Sinclair Gives Lie to Attorney Robertson for the Miners—Members of Committee in the Mix-Up.

WASHINGTON, April 24.—An exciting encounter occurred in the "Cour d'Alone" investigation this afternoon, when Bartlett Sinclair, who was on the stand, gave the lie to Attorney Robertson, representing the miners. Robertson sprang for Sinclair, aiming a blow at his face. Several congressmen intervened and held Robertson and Sinclair from coming together. An officer appeared on the scene, but his services were not required, as order had been restored.

The encounter occurred while Sinclair was testifying on his order forbidding a meeting at the miners' cemetery, July 11, last, commemorating the deaths resulting from the riots of 1892. He said his notice did not forbid women from assembling to put flowers on the graves. Attorney Robertson contradicted the witness, and asked if he did not specifically prohibit from assembling. "Do you ask as a question, or state it as a fact?" said Sinclair. "I state it as a fact," replied Robertson. "It is a lie," responded Sinclair. Robertson made a lunge at Sinclair, but the distance was too great to permit a blow. Representatives Sulzer, Hay, each and other members sprang forward to stop the fracas. In the few minutes that the melee was at its height, members were standing on and jumping over the large committee table, seeking to get at the contestants. The latter were in a confused tangle of chairs and witnesses on the further side of the table. After Robertson's first lunge he rushed on Sinclair, who was sitting in the witness seat, unprepared for the onslaught. The two went over in a crash on the floor and were then separated. No actual blows were struck. Sinclair resumed his seat in the witness chair and after vigorous cautionary remarks by the chairman against such disorders renewed his testimony. Sinclair completed his direct testimony during the afternoon. In view of the excitement it was deemed best not to open the cross-examination, which will be conducted by Robertson, and the committee adjourned until 10 a. m. Saturday, when the committee room joking over the occurrence.

REPORT AGRICULTURAL BILL

Senate Committee Makes Number of Changes in Measure Carrying Appropriations.

WASHINGTON, April 24.—The senate committee on agriculture has reported the agricultural appropriation bill to the senate. As reported the bill carries a total appropriation of $3,939,120, which is a net increase of only $22,320. The senate really added items amounting to $52,320, but by diminishing the house appropriation for the purchase of seed to the extent of $40,000 and that for agricultural department publications to the extent of $20,000, the net increase was reduced. The principal items of increase are $100,000 for forestry investigations and $15,000 for irrigation investigations. Among the amendments are the following: To continue the investigation of the soils of the United States. To investigate the tests applied to American food products in foreign countries. To increase the salary of the chief of the weather bureau to $5,000 per annum.

Attorney General on Cruz Case.

WASHINGTON, April 24.—Responding to a resolution of inquiry the attorney general today sent a communication to the senate in relation to the case of Jorge Cruz, a resident of Porto Rico brought to the United States under a contract with the government. The attorney general says that no action has been taken in the case except to provide for the defense of the commissioner of immigration in the suit brought to recover $50,000 damages for his detention. He adds that he is contemplating the commencement of a suit to recover a penalty of $1,000 against the party bringing Cruz to the United States.

INDEMNITY FOR FOREIGNERS

Committee Will Report Favorably on Bill Which Provides for Italian Lynchings.

WASHINGTON, April 24.—The judiciary committee of the house today directed a favorable report on the bill providing means of indemnifying foreigners injured in person or property through mob violence or otherwise in this country. The measure grows out of the lynching of Italians in Louisiana and representations made by Italy through Baron Pava, the Italian ambassador. As affairs of this kind were of frequent occurrence, each time threatening diplomatic complications, the president recommended a general measure of redress and the bill now reported seeks to carry out this recommendation. The text of the bill is finally adopted in the following: "That any subject or citizen of a foreign state claiming of the United States, under a treaty upon the principles of international law indemnity for injury to person or property, may bring suit upon such claim in the court of claims. Such sections and provisions of chapter 359 of the acts of 1887 are applicable to the court of claims and shall apply to and govern the initiation of such suits and all subsequent proceedings therein. "Provided, that the provisions of this act shall apply only to the citizens or subjects of those foreign states according to the rights and privileges to the citizens of the United States. And, provided further, that no suit shall be brought after the expiration of two years from the accruing of such claim or cause of action. "And provided further, that it shall be a defense to such suit that the plaintiff has made his domicile in the United States for more than a year continuously prior to the accruing of such alleged claim or cause of action. "In case the bill becomes a law it is understood that its provisions will cover cases arising one year prior to the enactment, which probably would include the last Italian affair in Louisiana.

Commissioner of Internal Revenue Wilson, who prepared the statement, says in his communication to Secretary Gage that it is impossible to furnish a more detailed statement showing the amount received from each source under the head of schedule A, with any degree of accuracy, as the 500,000,000 one-cent stamps and the 5,000,000,000 two-cent stamps may be used on documents requiring a higher tax than is required in the four specific purposes provided by law.

HANNA SOUNDS THE KEYNOTE

He Responds to Urgent Demands for Speech at Columbus.

REPUBLICAN SPIRIT OF FEARLESSNESS

Party Glad of the Opportunity to Show What It Could Do—Faces the Future with Confidence.

COLUMBUS, O., April 24.—Republicans at the state convention made a great administrative demonstration here today. Usually there is only one nominating meeting in temporary chairman, but there were two today and the one that caused more comment than any other convention speech in the history of the Ohio republicans was by Senator Hanna.

It was very much of a Hanna day without dissenting or discordant notes. The senator arrived early in the morning and was engaged all forenoon in receiving visitors. Several delegations called on him in a body and he responded in speeches. At the district meeting in the afternoon his friends were selected on the new state committee and on other committees. There were sharp contests in the committees, but they were mostly between so-called preferences.

When Senator Hanna entered the convention hall there was a great demonstration and he was forced to bow his acknowledgments from the platform.

Robert M. Nevin was introduced as the temporary chairman and he made a decisive hit in his forcible delivery and especially in the peculiar emphasis he put on the words "an admiral," in referring to Dewey.

In response to the repeated calls Senator Hanna kept shaking his head. During the day he was worn out by visitors and had to keep his seat, while shaking hands at the hotel and those who kept passing by to greet him.

Determined to Hear Hanna. The delegates would not listen to the call for business until he responded, and the galleries joined loudly in the calls for him till Senator Hanna rose and spoke. He said:

"I am sorry that I have not the strength nor the voice to continue my speech, and therefore I rise only to express my feelings of gratification at this kind reception and to express my appreciation of your chairman, that this convention is a subject of great importance, both as a representative body and in carrying out the spirit of the expression of good cheer and good sentiment on every side. It augurs well for the republican party when we have gathered here such a personnel filled with the kind of spirit that is manifest on all sides in Columbus today."

As your chairman has said, the republican party has been in a position of being confronted today with many new propositions and issues thrown around us like hot shot, and that is the way by the democratic party in attempting to raise new issues upon which they would like to build a new party. It is a question of the policy of the republican party.

Republican Spirit of Fearlessness. I say the spirit of the hour is one of absolute fearlessness on the part of the republicans. We are conscious of our chairman said of having fulfilled every promise we made in this connection, and under our care it has passed through four years of the greatest vicissitudes which we have ever known in history.

The best evidence of the success of that policy is the fact that we have achieved and achieved as affecting the material interests of this country. Your chairman made some statements with regard to the growth of our export trade. Why, he said, we have had a 50 per cent increase in favor of the United States during the last century preceding this administration.

Accomplished in Three Years. It is $1,100,000,000 more accomplished in that three years than was accomplished in 107 years preceding (more cheering). And then, looking into the face of such results, I do not wonder that you say, "Do we want to change?" Do we want any different policy for the American people more than building up and making us the greatest nation on earth?

Country's Destiny Written. I do not care whether you call it imperialism or expansion. The destiny of this country is written in the combination of men that attempt by any means or makeshift in politics to stop the progress of this country. It is written under us just as the democratic party has gone down (renewed cheering).

Now that we are entering this new policy and now that this government is confronted with the responsibility of the future, we are open to us we ask the republican party in Ohio, as we did four years ago, to sound the keynote to the nation. Let us express its confidence in its great leader, our president (more cheering), to show by the interest they take in this campaign their confidence in that leadership and their confidence in the stand taken by him and his policy (renewed cheering). His courage during all the dark days of that war and many complications which succeeded it has never failed for one moment and I want to improve this opportunity to say in his presence that there has never been an hour, not a moment, that he has not been in touch with his party in Washington (renewed cheering).

The consciousness that he is prepared for and meeting every difficulty, determined to do what is right and right for the people, to maintain the dignity and prestige of our own country, to stand for the labor and our industries—that feeling that he is doing right has enabled him to call to his support the people of this country, to stand by him and his policy (renewed cheering). I know that the people of the United States feel comfortable and confident with the leadership of William McKinley in at the wheel (renewed cheering).

As soon as order was restored Chairman Nevin read a telegram from Senator Foraker saying it was impossible for him to leave Washington.

After announcing that all the committees would be expected to complete their work tonight the convention adjourned to 10 a. m. tomorrow.

CONVENTION TO BE LARGE

Republican Gathering at Indianapolis Attracts Great Crowds of Visitors.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., April 24.—The 1,424 delegates to the republican national convention will all be here by this evening. Indications also point to an attendance of visitors that will be one of the largest that ever attended a political convention.

The contest for the nomination for governor continues to mystify the politicians. It looks today as if John L. Griffiths would lead on the first ballot and his friends are predicting that he will hold the lead in the convention ball nominating. The majority of W. T. Durbin are certain that he will have more votes than any other candidate on the first ballot. Hogate, Posey, Dodge and Haggard are content with the outlook.

The first session of the convention will be held at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. As a result of the republican state platform conference it is proposed to endorse the Porto Rican bill in a manner to be understood by every one, though the bill be not mentioned by name.

Another plank will be the hearty endorsement of the monetary law. This will point out the benefits that have already accrued under the law, and will recommend that the law be continued in its present form. It will take up a great deal of the platform. H. H. Hanna and Congressman Overstreet will have much to do with drafting of the platform.

EVANGEL FOR ALL PEOPLES

Increase in Attendance Noticed at the Ecumenical Conferences.

MEETINGS AT FOUR DIFFERENT PLACES

Problem of How Best to Present Christianity to the Non-Christian Peoples Under Discussion.

NEW YORK, April 24.—There was a notable increase in attendance when the ecumenical conference began its session today at the Madison Avenue Methodist church. The conference was held at four different places.

The devotional service at Carnegie hall was opened by Rev. Dr. A. B. Leonard, the corresponding secretary of the Missionary Society of the Methodist Episcopal church. Dr. Leonard was followed by Rev. J. W. Butler of Mexico, who offered a short prayer, as did Bishop E. R. Hendrix of the Methodist Episcopal church, South. The prayers were interspersed with hymns and remarks from the delegates.

At 10 o'clock the regular morning service of the conference at Carnegie hall was begun by Bishop E. G. Andrews of New York, who made a brief address. Bishop J. M. Thoburn of India then delivered an address on the subject of "The Church of Native Christians." There followed a symposium on evangelistic work, in which Rev. Dr. W. F. Oldham of Malaya spoke on "The Manner and Form of Presenting the Gospel to Non-Christian Peoples so Far as to Persuade and Win."

Following these addresses there was a discussion of different topics by the delegates. The morning session at Calvary Baptist church was devoted to a woman's meeting, the general topic under discussion being evangelistic work. The subjects were "How to Present the Christian Truth to Women and Children of Native Christians," "General Evangelistic Work on Behalf of Women." The speakers were Miss Jennie Duncan of India; Miss Alice E. DeLeon of Japan and Miss E. Baskerville of India.

The Central Presbyterian church another meeting of women in the interest of educational work was held, the topics discussed were "Kindergartens," "Common and Village Schools," "Higher Education for Women," "Training of Native Christians." Among the speakers were Mrs. Irene Barnes of London, Miss Isabella Thoburn of India, Miss F. L. Baldwin of China, Mrs. T. M. McNeil of Japan and Mrs. W. Francis of India.

At the Madison Avenue Reformed church a meeting was held at which the general topic under discussion was "Giving." The topic was divided under these heads: "Giving in the Christian Home," "The Christian's Missionary Work," "The Doctrine of Giving," "The Relation of Money to Salvation," "Facts and Figures," "Hearts and Influence," "Time and Talents," "Missions and the Christian's Viewpoint," "The Christian's Missionary Work," "Systematic and Proportionate Giving," "Prayer and Gift."

Among those who spoke were Mrs. J. H. Knowles of New York, Mrs. F. C. Hayes of Missouri, Mrs. J. J. Reed of Chicago, Mrs. Anna Schaefer of Toledo, Mrs. E. M. Sprong of Cleveland, M. A. Huntington Moller of Evanston, Ill., Mrs. W. F. Windgate of Chicago, Mrs. E. C. Armstrong of New York, Mrs. J. H. Randall of St. Paul, Minn.

At the women's meeting at the Central Presbyterian church the discussion on the "Systematic Study of Missions Among the Peoples of the World" was opened by Miss A. B. Child, secretary of the Woman's Board of Missions, Congregational, Boston. She said that the subcommittee on the topic wished to ask the consideration of the feasibility of a scheme of study of missions in which societies of all denominations could unite, modeled somewhat on the method of the International Sunday School Lessons. An animated discussion followed, which resulted in a recommendation made through the world's committee of women's missionary societies at all denominations to be presented to their careful consideration for their careful consideration in the hope that it may be arranged and adopted by a large number of societies, beginning September, 1901.

The uniform scheme for all women's organizations was presented by Miss E. Harriet Stanwood of the Women's Board of Missions, Congregational, Boston, recommending the publication of a volume containing concise historical sketches of all woman's societies from their foundation to the year 1900, this volume to be compiled from the sketches presented by the different boards at the time of the conference; the appointment of a committee composed of representatives of all denominations, who should recommend and arrange for the publication of books and commissary interests by responsible publishing houses, such publication to include a hymnal adapted to all missionary Christian congregations, a book which should be sent to every woman's organization, and a series of tracts and leaflets offering opportunities to women in mission lands, a map giving the countries and mission stations of the different denominations printed in colors at a moderate price, and a series of brief biographies of eminent missionary women, at a price not to exceed 25 cents.

Attempt to Blow Up Welland Canal

Locks Probably a Political Offense.

BUFFALO, N. Y., April 24.—A special to the News from Ottawa reports an interview with Hon. David Mills, minister of justice on the recent attempt to blow up the Welland canal locks, in which he said it was possible from the declaration of the men that they were United States citizens; that they proposed to plead that their offense was a political one. "If," he continued, "they were part of a bona fide organization then they were guilty of treason to the sovereign power of the United States for having conspired against organized government and on the other hand they would be guilty of making an unwarrantable war upon Canada, a friendly nation. Then, under the political offense would deal with them summarily. However, in general, if the culprits plead political offense then the question would become a matter of diplomatic correspondence from the United States and would be directed to the federal government."
