WHEAT RALLIES UNDER INFLUENCE OF CORN

Onts Steady at One Time, but Finish Weak in Sympathy with Wind-Up of Corn and Wheat.

CHICAGO. April 26.—Corn was the leading deal on the Hoard of Trade today. Helped by higher cables and a large general demand the market was broad and buoyant carly, but lost it later, closing weak 147% under yesterday. Wheat closed weak, 147% to 25 down. Oats closed 146 down. The corn market opened erratically because many had expected a rush of selling forders in place of which some of the influential people were buyers. The influences were the strength of Laverpool, particularly for spot, and the reports of delay in seeding, due to the rains. A broad general demand developed at the start and the price went up on the jump, longs, shorts and traders buying as if there was nothing in the world worth having save corn. At the top the demand slackened and in proportion the offerings increased. The cash business was poor and New York reported only ten loads taken for export—a poor showing in loads taken for export—a poor showing in loads taken for export business. Under these conditions the market proceeded to reliminable its early gains and the result was a weak close. May ranged from $45.50 in the basis of $45.5

narked.

In the wheat pit at the opening disap-sointment was felt at the cables, which lid not reflect the advance here yesterday, in addition this the weather was reported In addition this the weather was reported perfect and the crop prospects excellent. With these facts in mind the beginning of trade saw the market casy and depressed. The corn strength, however, was felt almost immediately and under that influence wheat rallied, shorts covering freely. The cash business was very slack and the trade in futures most of the time quiet. With the talent bearish the break in corn was readily followed, early buyers selling out. The in futures most of the time quiet. With the talent bearish the break in corn was readily followed, early buyers selling out. The close was weak. May ranged from 60% to 65% and closed 1/20% down at 50% 65% and closed 1/20% down at 50% 65% for to 65% and declined to 65% closing at that figure. So under yesterday. New York reported 10 leads taken for export and 26,000 bushels were sold here to go to the other side. Atlantic port clearances in wheat and flour were equal to 33,000 bushels. Primary receipts were 41,000 bushels, compared with 435,000 bushels last year. Minneapolis and Duluth reported 250 cars, against 257 last week and 214 a year ago. Local receipts were 37 cars, none of contract grade.

Outs were steady at one time, but finished weak in sympathy with the wind-up in corn and wheat. Even at the periods of the greatest strength in corn and wheat this market responded very heavily. The cash demand was reported poor and the good weather had a depressing effect generally. Local receipts were 132 cars. May ranged from 23% of 23% 23% c and closed 1/20% under yesterday at 23% 623% c. July sold from 25% of 25% for 25%

There were ten cars of cheap cattle bought on the Kansas City market and consigned direct to packing house here, not being offered for sale. The market here, not being offered for sale. The market sa a whole, was not much different from what is was yesterday.

The market on cornfed cattle was a little slow about opening and sellers reported in some cases the first bids were lower. There was, however, a pretty fair demand and the market soon became reasonably active at just about steady prices. Sellers in some cases reported the market as a little stronger on desirable kinds than yesterday. The most of the cattle sold in good season, but as was the case yesterday it was the handy weights that sold first and the heavy cattle that hung fire to the last. Cows and heifers sold early at just about trendy prices and the track was a fairly of the last few days as if they intended to try and break the sheep there were the terms was the case yesterday it was the handy weights that sold first and the heavy cattle that hung fire to the last. Cows and heifers sold early at just about trendy prices and the track was fairly.

the heavy cattle that hung fire to the last. Cows and helfers sold early at just about steady prices and the trade was fairly active so that the most of the receipts changed hands in good season. Toward the close the market was not quite so brisk and the feeling was easier on the late sales. Bulls, stags, etc., did not show any material change as compared with yesterday. Fat bulls are not selling any too well at the best. Stockers and feeders were in fair de mand and as there were not many on sale the supply was soon exhausted. Represent-ative sales:

Buyers at all the market points have been active during the last few days as if they intended to try and break the sheep market. All market points have been reporting a lower tendency to prices and values have been gradually easing off. The market today was very slow and lower, and it was late in the morning before buyers and sellers could get together on a trading basis.
