

THE OMAHA DAILY BEE.

E. ROSEWATER, Editor.

PUBLISHED EVERY MORNING.

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION: Daily Bee (without Sunday) One Year $3.00...

OFFICE: Omaha, The Bee Building, South Omaha, City Hall Building, Twenty-fifth and N streets.

COMMUNICATIONS: Communications relating to news and editorial matter should be addressed to Omaha Bee, Editorial Department.

BUSINESS LETTERS: Business letters and remittances should be addressed to The Bee Publishing Company, Omaha.

REMITTANCES: Remit by draft, express or postal order.

THE BEE PUBLISHING COMPANY: State of Nebraska, Douglas County, ss. George T. Schuch, Secretary of The Bee Publishing Company...

STOCKTON HETH, Notary Public.

A SURRENDER TO THE RAILROADS.

The fusion members of the State Board of Equalization have fixed the assessment of railroad property in Nebraska for the year 1900 at the same figures as last year...

THE CUBAN ELECTIONS.

Preparations for the Cuban municipal elections next month are progressing and some of the developments indicate that the politicians there are not un-familiar with the devices and expedients quite common in portions of this country.

WORSHIP AS YOU TRAVEL.

Prayers in the palace cars and sermons in the smoker are, to say the least of it, unusual. But is that any reason why they are not more generally practiced?

NOT A BACK NUMBER.

The display of nearly $2,000,000 worth of roadsters in the parade of the Road Drivers' association in New York on Saturday indicates that after all the bicycle and automobile craze...

INCREASING THE NAVY.

The debate in the senate on the naval appropriation bill disclosed no opposition to increasing the navy. Democrats and republicans were in full accord as to the necessity of enlarging our sea power.

ONE PRIVILEGE GRANTED.

It remains to be seen how the Irish will receive Lord Salisbury's formal notification that they are never to be free—except to fight England's battles for her.

HUNTING A DELINQUENT.

Bryan is giving the world an exhibition of a man who is not only willing to chase a presidential rainbow, but is unable to separate himself from the delusion that he will ultimately find it.

HEEDING THE CRY OF DISTRESS.

The sailing of a relief vessel with 200,000 bushels of corn for the starving East Indies is another pleasing reminder that the world of the present is not wholly given to greed, and that the ear of humanity is still open to the cry of human distress.

ANY OLD WAY WILL DO.

If the Turkish government wants to pay the indemnity to this country in a way that will "save its face" and not add to its embarrassments in other powers, it does not appear that there is any insuperable objection to such a course.

EMBARRASSED TURKEY.

Great Britain, France, Germany and Russia are increasing their navies with all possible vigor, while Japan is doing nearly as much in this way as the United States.

A WALL OF DESPAIR.

The returns made to the controller of the currency by the national banks, showing that the country is in a highly prosperous condition, make the calamity howl in the popular platform sound like a wail from a soul that refuses to be bound.

TOWNE MUST RETIRE.

Four years ago the Bryan campaign was embarrassed and to some extent injured by the folly of the political party which nominated Sewell, the democratic nominee for vice president, and placing Watson of Georgia in the field as a candidate for the same office.

WORSHIP AS YOU TRAVEL.

Prayers in the palace cars and sermons in the smoker are, to say the least of it, unusual. But is that any reason why they are not more generally practiced?

NOT A BACK NUMBER.

The display of nearly $2,000,000 worth of roadsters in the parade of the Road Drivers' association in New York on Saturday indicates that after all the bicycle and automobile craze...

INCREASING THE NAVY.

The debate in the senate on the naval appropriation bill disclosed no opposition to increasing the navy. Democrats and republicans were in full accord as to the necessity of enlarging our sea power.

ONE PRIVILEGE GRANTED.

It remains to be seen how the Irish will receive Lord Salisbury's formal notification that they are never to be free—except to fight England's battles for her.

HUNTING A DELINQUENT.

Bryan is giving the world an exhibition of a man who is not only willing to chase a presidential rainbow, but is unable to separate himself from the delusion that he will ultimately find it.

HEEDING THE CRY OF DISTRESS.

The sailing of a relief vessel with 200,000 bushels of corn for the starving East Indies is another pleasing reminder that the world of the present is not wholly given to greed, and that the ear of humanity is still open to the cry of human distress.

ANY OLD WAY WILL DO.

If the Turkish government wants to pay the indemnity to this country in a way that will "save its face" and not add to its embarrassments in other powers, it does not appear that there is any insuperable objection to such a course.

ECHOES OF OUR WAR.

An official report from Colonel E. B. Williston of the Sixth artillery, provost marshal of Manila, concerning the sale of liquor in that city, puts a better face on the subject than that heretofore given by correspondents and visitors to the capital of the Philippines.

PLEASUED WITH THE TICKET.

Tobias Gazette: The men nominated by the republicans at the state convention are a strong, safe, conservative lot of men. No excuse for any mud-slinging campaign this time.

PERSONAL POINTERS.

Speaking of the rain, there were millions in it. While St. Louis maintains a striking attitude the residents will foot it.

WINDOW GLASS TRUST.

It is reported from Pittsburgh that the American Window Glass company, having sold all of its stock to the National Jobbers' association, is in need of supplies, and has entered the Belgian market for 2,000 boxes of glass to supply its wants during the summer shutdown.

SILOX FALLS PLATFORM.

An incident of campaigning in the Philippines (related by James Douglas, a Philippine (Kala) soldier boy): "During my first watch I wanted a chew of tobacco. I had to loosen my belt to get it, and so I set my rifle down. I had just taken the act of reaching for my rifle when I heard the report of a rifle and felt a stinging sensation along my right side. I dropped to the ground, and as I did so I saw a rebel bullet hit me just at the nape of the neck and passed through my brain. My first shot took my 'first aid package' out of my right shirt pocket and I turned my side. I was scared, too, I can tell you."

INCULCATING DEMOCRACY WITH THE VIRUS OF POPULISM.

By means of the Sioux Falls platform the Bryan faction of the republican party extends to its allies in the struggle for financial and economic freedom assurances of its loyalty to the principles which animate the allied forces.

THE MAN WITH THE VAN.

Howed with a bedtick in his arms, he leans against the wheel-post and gazes round; dirt, hair and feathers on his face. And on his back a blouse that once was blue.

THE MAN WITH THE VAN.

Howed with a bedtick in his arms, he leans against the wheel-post and gazes round; dirt, hair and feathers on his face. And on his back a blouse that once was blue.

THE MAN WITH THE VAN.

Howed with a bedtick in his arms, he leans against the wheel-post and gazes round; dirt, hair and feathers on his face. And on his back a blouse that once was blue.

THE MAN WITH THE VAN.

Howed with a bedtick in his arms, he leans against the wheel-post and gazes round; dirt, hair and feathers on his face. And on his back a blouse that once was blue.

THE MAN WITH THE VAN.

Howed with a bedtick in his arms, he leans against the wheel-post and gazes round; dirt, hair and feathers on his face. And on his back a blouse that once was blue.

THE MAN WITH THE VAN.

Howed with a bedtick in his arms, he leans against the wheel-post and gazes round; dirt, hair and feathers on his face. And on his back a blouse that once was blue.

THE MAN WITH THE VAN.

Howed with a bedtick in his arms, he leans against the wheel-post and gazes round; dirt, hair and feathers on his face. And on his back a blouse that once was blue.

THE MAN WITH THE VAN.

Howed with a bedtick in his arms, he leans against the wheel-post and gazes round; dirt, hair and feathers on his face. And on his back a blouse that once was blue.

THE MAN WITH THE VAN.

Howed with a bedtick in his arms, he leans against the wheel-post and gazes round; dirt, hair and feathers on his face. And on his back a blouse that once was blue.

THE MAN WITH THE VAN.

Howed with a bedtick in his arms, he leans against the wheel-post and gazes round; dirt, hair and feathers on his face. And on his back a blouse that once was blue.

THE MAN WITH THE VAN.

Howed with a bedtick in his arms, he leans against the wheel-post and gazes round; dirt, hair and feathers on his face. And on his back a blouse that once was blue.

THE MAN WITH THE VAN.

Howed with a bedtick in his arms, he leans against the wheel-post and gazes round; dirt, hair and feathers on his face. And on his back a blouse that once was blue.

THE MAN WITH THE VAN.

Howed with a bedtick in his arms, he leans against the wheel-post and gazes round; dirt, hair and feathers on his face. And on his back a blouse that once was blue.

THE MAN WITH THE VAN.

Howed with a bedtick in his arms, he leans against the wheel-post and gazes round; dirt, hair and feathers on his face. And on his back a blouse that once was blue.

THE MAN WITH THE VAN.

Howed with a bedtick in his arms, he leans against the wheel-post and gazes round; dirt, hair and feathers on his face. And on his back a blouse that once was blue.

THE MAN WITH THE VAN.

Howed with a bedtick in his arms, he leans against the wheel-post and gazes round; dirt, hair and feathers on his face. And on his back a blouse that once was blue.

THE MAN WITH THE VAN.

Howed with a bedtick in his arms, he leans against the wheel-post and gazes round; dirt, hair and feathers on his face. And on his back a blouse that once was blue.

THE MAN WITH THE VAN.

Howed with a bedtick in his arms, he leans against the wheel-post and gazes round; dirt, hair and feathers on his face. And on his back a blouse that once was blue.

PLEASUED WITH THE TICKET.

Tobias Gazette: The men nominated by the republicans at the state convention are a strong, safe, conservative lot of men. No excuse for any mud-slinging campaign this time.

PERSONAL POINTERS.

Speaking of the rain, there were millions in it. While St. Louis maintains a striking attitude the residents will foot it.

WINDOW GLASS TRUST.

It is reported from Pittsburgh that the American Window Glass company, having sold all of its stock to the National Jobbers' association, is in need of supplies, and has entered the Belgian market for 2,000 boxes of glass to supply its wants during the summer shutdown.

SILOX FALLS PLATFORM.

An incident of campaigning in the Philippines (related by James Douglas, a Philippine (Kala) soldier boy): "During my first watch I wanted a chew of tobacco. I had to loosen my belt to get it, and so I set my rifle down. I had just taken the act of reaching for my rifle when I heard the report of a rifle and felt a stinging sensation along my right side. I dropped to the ground, and as I did so I saw a rebel bullet hit me just at the nape of the neck and passed through my brain. My first shot took my 'first aid package' out of my right shirt pocket and I turned my side. I was scared, too, I can tell you."

INCULCATING DEMOCRACY WITH THE VIRUS OF POPULISM.

By means of the Sioux Falls platform the Bryan faction of the republican party extends to its allies in the struggle for financial and economic freedom assurances of its loyalty to the principles which animate the allied forces.

THE MAN WITH THE VAN.

Howed with a bedtick in his arms, he leans against the wheel-post and gazes round; dirt, hair and feathers on his face. And on his back a blouse that once was blue.

THE MAN WITH THE VAN.

Howed with a bedtick in his arms, he leans against the wheel-post and gazes round; dirt, hair and feathers on his face. And on his back a blouse that once was blue.

THE MAN WITH THE VAN.

Howed with a bedtick in his arms, he leans against the wheel-post and gazes round; dirt, hair and feathers on his face. And on his back a blouse that once was blue.

THE MAN WITH THE VAN.

Howed with a bedtick in his arms, he leans against the wheel-post and gazes round; dirt, hair and feathers on his face. And on his back a blouse that once was blue.

THE MAN WITH THE VAN.

Howed with a bedtick in his arms, he leans against the wheel-post and gazes round; dirt, hair and feathers on his face. And on his back a blouse that once was blue.

THE MAN WITH THE VAN.

Howed with a bedtick in his arms, he leans against the wheel-post and gazes round; dirt, hair and feathers on his face. And on his back a blouse that once was blue.

THE MAN WITH THE VAN.

Howed with a bedtick in his arms, he leans against the wheel-post and gazes round; dirt, hair and feathers on his face. And on his back a blouse that once was blue.

THE MAN WITH THE VAN.

Howed with a bedtick in his arms, he leans against the wheel-post and gazes round; dirt, hair and feathers on his face. And on his back a blouse that once was blue.

THE MAN WITH THE VAN.

Howed with a bedtick in his arms, he leans against the wheel-post and gazes round; dirt, hair and feathers on his face. And on his back a blouse that once was blue.

THE MAN WITH THE VAN.

Howed with a bedtick in his arms, he leans against the wheel-post and gazes round; dirt, hair and feathers on his face. And on his back a blouse that once was blue.

THE MAN WITH THE VAN.

Howed with a bedtick in his arms, he leans against the wheel-post and gazes round; dirt, hair and feathers on his face. And on his back a blouse that once was blue.

THE MAN WITH THE VAN.

Howed with a bedtick in his arms, he leans against the wheel-post and gazes round; dirt, hair and feathers on his face. And on his back a blouse that once was blue.

THE MAN WITH THE VAN.

Howed with a bedtick in his arms, he leans against the wheel-post and gazes round; dirt, hair and feathers on his face. And on his back a blouse that once was blue.

THE MAN WITH THE VAN.

Howed with a bedtick in his arms, he leans against the wheel-post and gazes round; dirt, hair and feathers on his face. And on his back a blouse that once was blue.

THE MAN WITH THE VAN.

Howed with a bedtick in his arms, he leans against the wheel-post and gazes round; dirt, hair and feathers on his face. And on his back a blouse that once was blue.

THE MAN WITH THE VAN.

Howed with a bedtick in his arms, he leans against the wheel-post and gazes round; dirt, hair and feathers on his face. And on his back a blouse that once was blue.

THE MAN WITH THE VAN.

Howed with a bedtick in his arms, he leans against the wheel-post and gazes round; dirt, hair and feathers on his face. And on his back a blouse that once was blue.

THE MAN WITH THE VAN.

Howed with a bedtick in his arms, he leans against the wheel-post and gazes round; dirt, hair and feathers on his face. And on his back a blouse that once was blue.

THE MAN WITH THE VAN.

Howed with a bedtick in his arms, he leans against the wheel-post and gazes round; dirt, hair and feathers on his face. And on his back a blouse that once was blue.

PLEASUED WITH THE TICKET.

Tobias Gazette: The men nominated by the republicans at the state convention are a strong, safe, conservative lot of men. No excuse for any mud-slinging campaign this time.

PERSONAL POINTERS.

Speaking of the rain, there were millions in it. While St. Louis maintains a striking attitude the residents will foot it.

WINDOW GLASS TRUST.

It is reported from Pittsburgh that the American Window Glass company, having sold all of its stock to the National Jobbers' association, is in need of supplies, and has entered the Belgian market for 2,000 boxes of glass to supply its wants during the summer shutdown.

SILOX FALLS PLATFORM.

An incident of campaigning in the Philippines (related by James Douglas, a Philippine (Kala) soldier boy): "During my first watch I wanted a chew of tobacco. I had to loosen my belt to get it, and so I set my rifle down. I had just taken the act of reaching for my rifle when I heard the report of a rifle and felt a stinging sensation along my right side. I dropped to the ground, and as I did so I saw a rebel bullet hit me just at the nape of the neck and passed through my brain. My first shot took my 'first aid package' out of my right shirt pocket and I turned my side. I was scared, too, I can tell you."

INCULCATING DEMOCRACY WITH THE VIRUS OF POPULISM.

By means of the Sioux Falls platform the Bryan faction of the republican party extends to its allies in the struggle for financial and economic freedom assurances of its loyalty to the principles which animate the allied forces.

THE MAN WITH THE VAN.

Howed with a bedtick in his arms, he leans against the wheel-post and gazes round; dirt, hair and feathers on his face. And on his back a blouse that once was blue.

THE MAN WITH THE VAN.

Howed with a bedtick in his arms, he leans against the wheel-post and gazes round; dirt, hair and feathers on his face. And on his back a blouse that once was blue.

THE MAN WITH THE VAN.

Howed with a bedtick in his arms, he leans against the wheel-post and gazes round; dirt, hair and feathers on his face. And on his back a blouse that once was blue.

THE MAN WITH THE VAN.

Howed with a bedtick in his arms, he leans against the wheel-post and gazes round; dirt, hair and feathers on his face. And on his back a blouse that once was blue.

THE MAN WITH THE VAN.

Howed with a bedtick in his arms, he leans against the wheel-post and gazes round; dirt, hair and feathers on his face. And on his back a blouse that once was blue.

THE MAN WITH THE VAN.

Howed with a bedtick in his arms, he leans against the wheel-post and gazes round; dirt, hair and feathers on his face. And on his back a blouse that once was blue.

THE MAN WITH THE VAN.

Howed with a bedtick in his arms, he leans against the wheel-post and gazes round; dirt, hair and feathers on his face. And on his back a blouse that once was blue.

THE MAN WITH THE VAN.

Howed with a bedtick in his arms, he leans against the wheel-post and gazes round; dirt, hair and feathers on his face. And on his back a blouse that once was blue.

THE MAN WITH THE VAN.

Howed with a bedtick in his arms, he leans against the wheel-post and gazes round; dirt, hair and feathers on his face. And on his back a blouse that once was blue.

THE MAN WITH THE VAN.

Howed with a bedtick in his arms, he leans against the wheel-post and gazes round; dirt, hair and feathers on his face. And on his back a blouse that once was blue.

THE MAN WITH THE VAN.

Howed with a bedtick in his arms, he leans against the wheel-post and gazes round; dirt, hair and feathers on his face. And on his back a blouse that once was blue.

THE MAN WITH THE VAN.

Howed with a bedtick in his arms, he leans against the wheel-post and gazes round; dirt, hair and feathers on his face. And on his back a blouse that once was blue.

THE MAN WITH THE VAN.

Howed with a bedtick in his arms, he leans against the wheel-post and gazes round; dirt, hair and feathers on his face. And on his back a blouse that once was blue.

THE MAN WITH THE VAN.

Howed with a bedtick in his arms, he leans against the wheel-post and gazes round; dirt, hair and feathers on his face. And on his back a blouse that once was blue.

THE MAN WITH THE VAN.

Howed with a bedtick in his arms, he leans against the wheel-post and gazes round; dirt, hair and feathers on his face. And on his back a blouse that once was blue.

THE MAN WITH THE VAN.

Howed with a bedtick in his arms, he leans against the wheel-post and gazes round; dirt, hair and feathers on his face. And on his back a blouse that once was blue.

THE MAN WITH THE VAN.

Howed with a bedtick in his arms, he leans against the wheel-post and gazes round; dirt, hair and feathers on his face. And on his back a blouse that once was blue.

THE MAN WITH THE VAN.

Howed with a bedtick in his arms, he leans against the wheel-post and gazes round; dirt, hair and feathers on his face. And on his back a blouse that once was blue.

THE MAN WITH THE VAN.

Howed with a bedtick in his arms, he leans against the wheel-post and gazes round; dirt, hair and feathers on his face. And on his back a blouse that once was blue.

PLEASUED WITH THE TICKET.

Tobias Gazette: The men nominated by the republicans at the state convention are a strong, safe, conservative lot of men. No excuse for any mud-slinging campaign this time.

PERSONAL POINTERS.

Speaking of the rain, there were millions in it. While St. Louis maintains a striking attitude the residents will foot it.

WINDOW GLASS TRUST.

It is reported from Pittsburgh that the American Window Glass company, having sold all of its stock to the National Jobbers' association, is in need of supplies, and has entered the Belgian market for 2,000 boxes of glass to supply its wants during the summer shutdown.

SILOX FALLS PLATFORM.

An incident of campaigning in the Philippines (related by James Douglas, a Philippine (Kala) soldier boy): "During my first watch I wanted a chew of tobacco. I had to loosen my belt to get it, and so I set my rifle down. I had just taken the act of reaching for my rifle when I heard the report of a rifle and felt a stinging sensation along my right side. I dropped to the ground, and as I did so I saw a rebel bullet hit me just at the nape of the neck and passed through my brain. My first shot took my 'first aid package' out of my right shirt pocket and I turned my side. I was scared, too, I can tell you."

INCULCATING DEMOCRACY WITH THE VIRUS OF POPULISM.

By means of the Sioux Falls platform the Bryan faction of the republican party extends to its allies in the struggle for financial and economic freedom assurances of its loyalty to the principles which animate the allied forces.

THE MAN WITH THE VAN.

Howed with a bedtick in his arms, he leans against the wheel-post and gazes round; dirt, hair and feathers on his face. And on his back a blouse that once was blue.

THE MAN WITH THE VAN.

Howed with a bedtick in his arms, he leans against the wheel-post and gazes round; dirt, hair and feathers on his face. And on his back a blouse that once was blue.

THE MAN WITH THE VAN.

Howed with a bedtick in his arms, he leans against the wheel-post and gazes round; dirt, hair and feathers on his face. And on his back a blouse that once was blue.