

SOCIETY IS PLAYING GOLF

Applicants for Instruction So Numerous that Appointments Must Be Made.

CLUB HOUSE NEARING COMPLETION

Interior Decorations to Be Done by Miss Ashton, a Chicago Artist—Women Donate the Furnishings.

Society has gone daft on the subject of golf, and, all things considered, society is perfectly pardonable.

Never since the first season of the Athletic club has anything so completely monopolized the attention of the well set. The rush for instruction and golf clubs has been so great that Mr. Taylor, who has had in charge, has been unable to attend to all, unless some diversion occurs before the sweat goes away for the summer the club will have to provide him with another assistant.

Appointments have been made for instruction two weeks ahead, and this has to be given at 7 o'clock in the morning. From twenty-five to thirty couples practice at the grounds daily and remarkable proficiency has been attained by many of the beginners.

Miss Dewey, Miss Kountze, Miss Dickinson, Mrs. Charles Kountze, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Golan, Mr. and Mrs. Carter, Mr. and Mrs. John Cudahy, Mr. Hal McCord, Mrs. Wilson Lowe and the Misses Allen are among the frequent visitors at the grounds, and Little Miss Jean Cudahy plays a remarkably good game.

A cafe is soon to be opened at the club house, which will doubtless increase the already large numbers that go out during the day for practice.

Miss Ashton of Chicago has been engaged to do the interior decorating and furnishing. She was in town last early part of the week and was greatly pleased with the arrangement of the building. The women friends of the club have donated a number of pillows and cushions and Miss Dickinson presented a fine pair of suitcases.

An Omaha contemporary publishes an account of a recent wedding in which it recalls the fact that one of the parties was engaged to another short time back. If every man and woman who marry in Omaha to have his previous love affairs reviewed in the public prints the gossip mongers will be kept busy.

While the younger set played golf or danced at the pumping station last week the more staid members of society enjoyed some of the more elaborate dinners of the year.

Mrs. Summers' tea given in honor of Mrs. J. Cameron Anderson on Saturday afternoon was one of the largest of the season and caused not a few to regret that the season for that sort of thing is so nearly over.

Many of the new summer things women that have occupied so much of the time and attention of the fashionable woman of late were worn and admired.

A large number of prominent people left last week for summer vacations and a still larger number will go next week, but there is still the country club.

French Class Entertainment.

Owing to the illness of Mrs. Henderson, the French conversation department of the Woman's club was unable to carry out the program prepared for Thursday evening.

The French play, "La Visite Imprevue," was given up and a program of music and recitation was substituted.

The opening piano solo by Miss Hardy was followed by a short French play, "Stella," which illustrated the effect of the restrictions of a boarding school have upon the inmates.

Four girls, tired of hampering rules, plan a rebellion. Stella, one of the granddaughters to dissuade them from it, and, failing, leaves them. They are soon joined by a young Russian girl, who fully in sympathy with their grievance, proposes to blow up the school and plant the flag of liberty upon the ruins.

The girls are delighted, but when at sight of a bomb which she proposes. At this point the Russian removes her disguise and Stella stands before them. The bomb proves to be a box of these delicious goodies that school girls love.

The acting was so eloquent that the plot was readily understood, even by those who did not understand French.

Mrs. Howard Baldrige, as Stella, was especially good. The following numbers completed the program:

A lullaby.....Miss Carrie Purvis

Recitation—How Tom Sawyer White-washed the Fence.....Miss Alice Howell

Recitation—The Little White Bird.....Miss Alice Howell

Song—La Patience.....Miss Slim

Recitation—A Reverie.....Miss Alice Howell

Song.....Miss Carrie Purvis

Song.....Miss Jessie McCune

The exhibition of the substituted program entirely overcame the regret caused by the postponement of "La Visite Imprevue," which the department proposes to give some time in September.

Tea for Mrs. Anderson.

Mrs. J. E. Summers gave a large tea on Saturday afternoon from 3 to 6 in honor of Mrs. J. Cameron Anderson. The house, which was beautifully decorated, was filled with about 250 of Omaha's fashionable set.

In the drawing room, where Mrs. Summers and Mrs. Anderson received, motor roses were used in bewildering profusion, while in the reception hall, where Mrs. George A. Hezland and Mrs. Frederick Rustin assisted, palms and yellow and purple bouquets formed a most effective contrast.

In the dining room the color scheme of pink was carried out in every particular. Carnations were used, shading from the deep pink to the most delicate tint. The cakes also carried out this design, while the candies were rare novelties in the form of pink rosebuds and white lilies. Here Mrs. E. M. Morsman poured coffee and Mrs. Voss poured chocolate. Dr. Summers' table with the book-lined walls, was by means of palms and giant graceful bunches of red carnations converted for the time being into a most attractive room, where Miss Millard and Mrs. Guy C. Barton presided at the punch bowl. An Indian tea garden, which had been ingeniously arranged by canvassing the front veranda, was one of the most charming features. In this retreat, furnished with palms, rattan furniture and Indian rugs, Mrs. Henry Wyman and Mrs. Harold Gifford served iced tea.

Banquet-Charles Knapp.

The wedding of Miss George I. Babcock and Miss Cora Chaffee occurred at 5 o'clock Thursday evening at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Chaffee. There were but a few relatives and friends present. The strains of the "Columbia" girls' wedding march the bridal party entered the back parlor, the bride with her sister, Mrs. E. L. Chaffee, and the groom with Mr. E. L. Chaffee. The impressive marriage ceremony of the Methodist Episcopal church was performed under a canopy of smilax and white flowers by Rev. C. S. Sargent. The bride's gown was a beautiful creation of white silk mull over white satin. She wore a pearl and diamond pendant—the groom's gift—and faced lilies of the valley. Mrs. E. L. Chaffee wore her wedding gown, a handsome white satin. A large reception followed from 8 to 10 p. m., the house filling with friends. In the back parlor, which was in green and white, Mr. and Mrs. L. Chaffee, Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Babcock and Mr. and Mrs. George I. Babcock received. Mrs. Chaffee was gowned in blue silk, with white trimmings. Mrs. H. A. Babcock in gray silk. Red and green was the color scheme in the dining room and was carried out in the flowers and candle shades. From the chandelier were looped strings of smilax, which were caught with bows of white ribbon to the corners of the table. The centerpiece was a bunch of red and white carnations. Misses Josephine Thatcher, Louella and Bertha Allen assisted there. Behind a bank of palms in the library an orchestra furnished the music of the evening. Among the guests were Mrs. E. M. Morsman and Mrs. H. A. Babcock, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Babcock, Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Hunt, Captain and Mrs. Reynolds, President Woodbury, J. M. Woolworth, Stockton Beth and Mr. Fairfield composed the receiving party. Dancing was the order of the evening.

Mrs. Lina Chaffee entertained informally on Monday afternoon in honor of Miss Chaffee, one of the prettiest features of the occasion being a "toilet show," each woman bringing a towel, upon which she wrote and during the afternoon worked her name. The towels were presented to Miss Chaffee as souvenirs. Light refreshments were served. Those present were: Mesdames Uhl, Willis Wentworth, Williamson, Misses Jones, Sheswood, Harford, Thatcher, Hertzler, Pierson, Chaffee and Mrs. Chaffee.

Mrs. George H. Day of the Hayes-Knox company entertained the employees of the company Thursday afternoon on evening at his beautiful new cottage in Bemis park. After an hour spent among the trees and gardens of this truly delightful residence, "the boys" did the justice for two hours to an elegant dinner, most of which was prepared from the Bemis park home grown products. Covers were laid for twelve. Music, story telling and cigars rounded the evening, which was a close all too soon for the participants.

The Omaha chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution held its last meeting of the year at the home of Mrs. W. H. Alexander. A number of the men friends were present, who added impromptu speeches to the concluding of a delightful program consisted of a paper on "William Penn and Pennsylvania," by Miss Mary Dyle, a poem by Mrs. H. S. Janyne, and the concluding of the supper addressed by Miss Elizabeth Allen and a piano solo by Miss Lila Alexander.

John Grant entertained handsomely at a stag party and supper sixty of the prominent men of Omaha at his home, 1915 Park avenue, Friday night of last week. The affair in every respect, no detail contributing to its success having been overlooked, and was an occasion that will long be remembered by the guests who were fortunate enough to participate in the enjoyable affair. Among the concluding of a delightful program consisted of a paper on "William Penn and Pennsylvania," by Miss Mary Dyle, a poem by Mrs. H. S. Janyne, and the concluding of the supper addressed by Miss Elizabeth Allen and a piano solo by Miss Lila Alexander.

The hospitable home of Mr. and Mrs. O. J. King on Georgia avenue was thrown open on Tuesday evening to the members and friends of the Epworth League of Hanson Park Methodist Episcopal church. The rooms were decorated with palms, snow-balls and spring flowers and filled with a merry party of young and old. The evening was a most enjoyable one. "Miss Allen's orchestra" played several well selected numbers. Mr. A. E. Barry sang and later Mrs. George W. Johnson, who has recently returned from studying in the east, sang several songs, charming everyone with her beautiful voice. Refreshments were served during the evening.

To celebrate Mrs. Barker's birthday on Saturday and Mrs. Patrick's on Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. Patrick, Mrs. Barker and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Barker spent the week's end at Mr. Algerine Patrick's farm. Mr. Robert Patrick stayed in town and arranged a surprise that was really a surprise, unlike most things of the kind. Senator and Mrs. Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. Yates, Judge and Mrs. Joseph Barker, Mr. and Mrs. Greig and Miss Black were asked to meet him at the Webster street station at 6:30, where Mr. Hughes' private car waited, and shortly after the train pulled out a delicious breakfast was served, and the day, which was the most perfect of the season, was spent at the farm until 2:30, when the guests returned to town as they went.

Correct Scofield's Shirt Waists

Monday we will show a most interesting assortment of NEW SHIRT WAISTS—equal in custom made at about half the cost. WHITE WAISTS in finest washable fabrics, daintily tucked, embroidered and hand-stitched—quite none so pretty have been shown before this season—the prices will range at $1.50, $1.95, $2.25, $2.75 and $3.00. Also exquisite White Lace and Embroidery Waists at $2.50 and $3.75.

Speaking of the congress Mrs. Jaynes declares it was in full keeping with all anticipations, and that in all of her experience in a benevolent work she never had occasion for more thankfulness. "The meeting was held in the Auditorium in Des Moines and the building," Mrs. Jaynes says, "was crowded at each session. I went as a delegate from the Omaha Woman's club. Special credit belongs to Mrs. Belle M. Stott-emborough of Plattsmouth, who stood prominently as a representative of Nebraska. Mrs. Theodosia W. Harney of Washington, city, who presided, was one of the original organizers of the work."

Mrs. Jaynes returned yesterday and is now busily engaged in making up a report which she will submit to the club.
