The man who diagramed the official score book had never contemplated such liberality on the part of a base ball pitcher as that manifested toward the willow-wielders of the local team by Denver's hitherto promis-Ing amateur, "Sleepy" Simmons, at the Vinton street reservation. When an impresario in the guise of an enemy hands us no less than fifteen singles, three two-bacgers and four well-burnished three-baggers, he is a philanthropist of the first water, and the Omaha sprinters never neglected to take advantage of his bargain-day assortment in fattening up batting averages. As a tender-hearted philanthropist, Simmons is a veritable nugget from the sands of Cherry creek, but the results of this spasm of warmheartedness will doubtless breed consterns tion in the Tebeau hacienda at the mouth of Platte canyon. This young man has heretofore held a strong arm record with the average of them, and as Premier Hughes was to go against him, the local admirers of the game had gone down to the green expecting to see a tight finish. Hardly had the game opened, however, before runs beaverage of them, and as Premier Hughes gan to accumulate to the credit of the home team in showers and in a short time the fans were collectively down on their marrowbones praying tearfully that the carnage should cease. It was distressing to witness the aprinting exertions of the boys, and the utter bewilderment of the Rocky Mountaineers as the hot grounders shot past them and bumped against the sign boards on the outskirts, or as the sphere ruthlessly ruptured the empyrean only to fall just out-first time up Omaha was blanked single to left and trying to pilfer second. Lewee fumbled O'Connell's grounder, but he, too, was caught off the bag by Simmons. After these two hearties were out a scratch by Hoy, a three-bagger by Hughes and a brace of doubles by Baer and Toman netted four runs. It was just as tiny Toman stepped to the plate that a messenger appeared with a boquet of brilliant flowers as big as a bucket. The youth was visibly touched and as he waved the boquet heroically toward the beach everyone expected to see him ratire the side right there, but he lined it out for the two-bagger aforesaid.

In the third a single by Rebsamen, an eggregious error by Lewce in throwing wide to second, a triple by Lauzon and singles by Hoy, Hughes and Baer petted another four runs. In the fourth Omaha had ten men up and raked off five tallies on a single by Rebsamen, a three-bagger by Wilson, a double by O'Connell, a triple by Lauzon, a base on balls to Hoy and a single by Hughes. Wilson, O'Connell, Lauzon, Baer and Toman, which, with a luscious error by PHILADELPHIA, June 7.-After a long Tinker, piled five more runs upon the drawn out first inning, in which a wild

HARD LUCK PURSUES SIOUX CITY

St. Joseph Gets a Game that Should Have Been a Defeat.

SIOUX CITY, June 7.—(Special Telegram.)—Hard luck, pure and simple, accounts for Sloux City's defeat by St. Joseph today. It was a rattling good game, neither side making an error. Stoux City batted better than the Missouri men, however, getting eleven hits to St. Joseph's five. getting eleven hits to St. Joseph's five. The sixth was St. Joseph's lucky inning. Maupin singled and Strang walked Mc-Kibben bunted toward first. Both Glasscock and Ferguson went after the ball and the initial bag was left uncovered. A mixug followed in which the ball got out toward right field, Glasscock and Ferguson were McKibben kicked it, which Mc-Kibben denied. Maupin and Strang scored. McKibben got around the bases and came in on a wild pitch. Schrall walked and was brought in by Davis hit. In the eighth inning Sloux city nearly tied the score. Singles by Ferguson, Hallman and Hausen and a double by Niles netted three runs, but that was the limit. Jack Glasscock played his first game as captain of the Sloux City nine. He arrived this morning. Score:

Standing of the Teams. Played. Won. Lost. P. Sloux City CARD FROM PRESIDENT KEITH

He Explains His Connection with Jeffries Finsco and Apologizes. OMAHA, June 6.—To the Editor of The Bee: Feeling that some explanation is due the base ball public in relation to the exhineatly, but in the second Wilson opened bition game of Monday I hope our patrons will receive this in the spirit in which it is written.

In the first place the management was given to understand by Jeffries' press agent that the champion, in addition to umpiring the game, would spar three brief rounds and when he came here with his left arm locked up in a plaster cust and announced that he could not spar I told Ross O'Nell, his manager, that he must announce this fact and the causes therefor to the spectators before the game began. He failed to do this after promising to do so, a fact that I did not appreciate, until the contest was well under way. With reference to our failure not to announce that the game was an exhibition affair I will confess this was an unpardonable dereliction on our part, but we thought the fans were familiar with the schedule and it was not necessary. We now realize that it was a mistake, but in so far as any collusion on the part of the management to hoodwink the people with the idea of increasing the gate receipts is concerned we disclaim anything of the kind.

We are more than satisfied with the liberal patronage we have had and intend to demonstrate our appreciation by giving the public the very best base ball our limited means will permit of.

BUCK KEITH, President. given to understand by Jeffries' press agent

Train on the Milwaukee Meets Accident Near Persia.

SIVERAL PASSENGERS SERIOUSLY HURT

Dining Car and Two Pullmans Go Over the Bank as a Result of a Peculiar Condition of the Track.

Milwaukee train No. 2, which left here at 1 o'clock yesterday morning for Chicago. was derailed at Persia, Ia., thirty-five miles east of Omaha. Three cars were ditched hurt. J. B. Nipp, a Kansas City traveling man, who has been making his home with his son, R. A. Nipp of 1839 North Nineteenth street. Omaha, is dangerously hurt and may

Mr. Nipp left Omaha yesterday morning for Chicago. Early in the afternoon his son was notified of the accident and left for Persia. The injured man has a broken collarbone, several broken ribs and suffered internal injuries which are thought to be very serious. Mr. Nipp will be brought to

Omaha in case he can be moved. The persons who were most seriously in jured were in dining car H, which was next to the last car in the train, the last car being a Pullman. A colored porter named Wight, who was in the diner, had his arm broken and suffered internal injuries. The dining car conductor suffered a severe cut part of the train left the rail, but jumped back on the track. The Pullman car, which was at the end of the train of seven cars, jumped the track when it hit the sprung rail; the front trucks righted themselves, but the rear trucks failed to jump back into place and pulled the dining car and a chair car off the track. The three cars were detached from the rest of the train and the dining car broke the couplings that attached it to the other two cars and plunged over a high embankment, where it tood on end.

The Milwaukee officials were notified o he accident at once and a special train bearing Dr. Donald Macrae and several other Council Bluffs physicians was sent to the scene of the wreck at once. The injured persons were taken to Persia, where they were cared for.

A wrecking crew was at work in les than two hours and had the track cleared sufficiently by 4 o'clock in the afternoon to allow trains to pass. The three cars that were ditched were badly broken up The dining car is a complete wreck. The car shot down the embankment and lit on its end with such force that all the furnishings in the car were piled into one end. The windows were all broken and the unfortunate men who were in the car wer dug out of the mass of debris. Injured Men in Close Quarters.

Although several persons were hurt in the other two cars, those who were injured the most seriously were in the dining car Besides being buried under the mass of wreckage the men in the car were subjected to the steam that escaped from the range and were badly cut by the broken glass and dishes.

William N. Cordell of Chicago, the news agent on the train, saved himself from serious injury by his presence of mind. He felt the cars leaving the track and having been in several previous wrecks prepared himself for the worst by grabbing a hatrack and bracing himself. He was thrown heavily against the side of the car and bruised severely, but did not sustain such serious injuries as the men who were unprepared for the final crash.

The rail that caused the wreck was but a short distance from a switch in the yards at Persia. The switch was in perfect condition and was in no way responsible for the accident. There were no obstructions on the track and the first warning the engineer had of the condition of the track was when his engine hit the ties. Excessive heat is supposed to have warped the rail.

Another Empty Grave.

Chicago, March 3, 1900.

Warner's Safe Cure Co. Gentlemen:-I will be glad to bear testimony to the value of Warner's Safe Cure for dropsy. I want those afflicted as I have been to take this life giver and get well as I did.

I suffered agony for three years and my life was despaired of, when one day my doctor said: "I guess I will give you Warner's." Thank God for such a remedy. It brought me health and new life. I have used it pretty regularly for a year, but I am well today, and had it not been for Warner's Safe Cure I would have been in my grave.

Respectfully,

MRS. MELISSA WHITCOMB, 4824 Prairie Ave., Chicago.
