Aspirant with a Good Record is Eager to Do Business and Puts Up a Forfeit to Bind His Word.

> Frank Coleman of St. Louis, a wrestler of repute, is in the city and seeks a match with any heavyweight wreatler in the west, preferably Michael Crowe, the popular Hercules of this city, who recently made such a splendid showing in his match with Bech-Olsen, the champion wrestler of the world. Mr. Coleman has authorized the sporting editor of The Bee to issue a challenge to any heavyweight wrestler in Omaha or adjacent territory for a match for $25 a side and has deposited as a forfeit $5, to be covered within a week's time. The only stipulation made is that catch-as-catch-can rules prevail.

> "I have wrestled professionally for the past two years," said Mr. Coleman, "and during that time have met some of the bie men in the business. I believe that I can throw Mike Crowe in less time than it took Bech-Oisen to do the job and am particularly anxious to meet him I am ready however, to meet any middleweight wrestlein the world or any heavyweight in this section of the country."

In the most notable matches in which Coleman has participated since his professional career began he has scored a victory each time. Last November at Dayton he engaged in a handleap match with Farmer Burns. The latter agreed to throw Coleman and Jake Snyder twice each within an hour's time. Burns got the first fall over Coleman in twelve and a half minutes, threw Snyder in six and a quarter minutes. threw Coleman the second time in thirtyone minutes and fifty-two seconds and was then unable to throw Snyder within the hour's limit. The decision was awarded Coleman and Snyder.

SCHOOL DAYS.

We have come to the time of parting
And memories of our school days fall
Around a name which we leave behind us.
Which is the joy and pride of all,
We think of the happy school days.
Of our friends that are always true,
And we have sweet recollections
Of our dear kind teacher, too.

Our school life is not yet over.

Our school life is not yet over.

But as a class we must separate,
And one of the lessons that we have learned
is to win we must work and walt.

And the many trials experiences here
Will help in our litish webool its
For what we gained from honest toil
Came not through lide strife.

For us there is not one school day
That we wish to blot from our life.
For we feel a reward for each struggle
Which can only come through strife.
And yet there is a sterner path for some
In this world. And they fear to tread
Where great men that have gone before here great men that have gone before blad much to fear and dread.

For others there are many fancies

For others there are many fancies.
Which the happy school days brought.
But those that are mostly cherished.
Are folded in secret thought.
And with hearts that are full of repining.
For the days too bright to last.
We bid farewell to the red and the white.
And the dear school days that are past,
BLANCHE CHANNEL.
