

PLEASED WITH THE PROSPECT

Hon. Wharton Barker Discusses Outlook from Populist Standpoint.

EXPECTS GEORGIA'S ELECTORAL VOTE

Candidate of the Mid-Roaders Predicts that He Will Poll a Million and a Half Votes Next November.

Wharton Barker of Philadelphia, nominee of the middle-of-the-road populist party for president of the United States and running with Ignatius Donnelly, stopped in Omaha yesterday on his way to the populist state convention in Grand Island. He came all the way from Pennsylvania, he said, to meet the members of his party in Nebraska, and when the convention is over he will return, making no intermediate stops.

Wharton Barker is a kindly, low-spoken, gentle-mannered man, with a remarkable fund of information gathered in extensive travels. Easily approached, he at once commands respect and places the visitor at his ease. He talks entertainingly. There is evidence of no attempt to appear learned and he says what he has to say in simple language without gestures or trick of oratory.

In personal appearance Mr. Barker looks like Horace Greeley. He has the same lofty brow and firm jaw, though lacking the mutton-chop beard of the great journalist statesman. His hair, which is abundant and curly, is snow white and his face smooth-shaven. For a man of his years he is vigorous and active.

Asked to say something concerning the political outlook from his standpoint, he began:

Looks Georgia's Electoral Vote.

"I expect the electoral vote of the state of Georgia, Colonel Traylor, the populist gubernatorial nominee, will be elected governor of that state on the 6th of October, and if I'm not badly mistaken the entire populist ticket will be elected then. This coming thirty days before the national election, will have its effect upon the national campaign. I'll leave you to draw your own conclusion as to what that effect will be.

"I expect to get, moreover, a million and a half votes, scattered throughout the country—maybe more. I don't care to forecast the results of the national election, or to discuss the other candidates in the field.

"As to Pennsylvania, the republicans will not carry it by 300,000 majority, as they have done in past years; they will do well if their majority is 75,000 there. Many Pennsylvania republicans are dissatisfied with McKinley and his administration."

The Money Question.

On the subject of money Mr. Barker said: "Both McKinley and Bryan are bullionists. McKinley believes that the volume of money should rest upon the amount of gold dug out of the ground. Bryan believes that the volume of money should rest upon the amount of gold and silver dug out of the ground. Both believe in money, the volume of which shall depend upon accidental conditions, for the yield of gold and silver mines is not uniform from time to time. The populist party stands exactly where Thaddeus Stevens, Abraham Lincoln and the other great republican leaders stood; that is, we favor a paper money issued by the national government in volume sufficient to maintain stability of prices, with no booms and no depressions."

Situation in China.

Mr. Barker was especially at home on the Chinese question, having traveled extensively in the Celestial Kingdom.

"I think the American nation ought to be just," said he, "and sure that the overt act of war was made by the Chinese and not by the so-called allies, before America makes war upon China. I have been in China, and have a personal acquaintance with a number of the distinguished Chinese who now direct affairs at Peking and in the provinces, and I've found them to be capable and patriotic men. Of course, if the ambassadors and ministers of foreign nations were slaughtered at Peking by order of the imperial government, or by its connivance, the European nations and America must obtain reparation; but if the allied fleet committed the first act of war by firing on the forts at Taku, then China has been acting on the defensive, and the reparation would be due to China from the European nations and not the reverse. At present the world is in ignorance of the facts."

Mr. Barker closed his interview by talking entertainingly of domestic and political conditions as he found them in China five years ago. He says that country has today a vast modern army, equipped with modern munitions and strengthened by modern methods of drill. This, he says, is the result of a great awakening in the Flowery Kingdom following the reverses suffered at the hands of Japan three years ago.

A gentleman recently cured of dyspepsia gave the following appropriate rendering of Burns' famous blessing: "Some have meat and cannot eat, and some have none that we can't eat; but we have meat and we can eat. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure he thanked. This preparation will digest what you eat. It instantly relieves and radically cures indigestion and all stomach disorders."

WORKING FOR THE FESTIVAL

Business Men Giving Their Time and Money to Make the Affair a Success.

Arrangements have been perfected for the excursion to York July 26 to the firemen's tournament and other festivities that will be in progress in that city during that week. Members of the Commercial club, the Knights of Ak-Sar-Ben and the musical festival committees, with their families, will participate. The excursionists will leave Omaha at 8 a. m. and reach York at about 11. The special train on the return will leave York about 8:30 p. m., reaching Omaha about 11:30. A rate of $1.50 for the round trip has been secured, and it is expected that upward of 500 will attend.

The soliciting committee for increase of the membership of the Knights of Ak-Sar-Ben has perfected organization for active operations. Although not fully organized, reports of work done showed that fifty-four members had been secured during the first day's canvass of the committee, and that business men and progressive citizens everywhere were simply waiting to be called upon. The members of the committee were everywhere cordially received and assured of the appreciation in which the work of the order is held by business men.

The working committees of the musical festival submitted estimates of the expenses to be incurred. The amount will be about $7,200 and other necessary expenses will run the total cost of the season of concerts up to about $12,000. There will probably be quite a revenue from the sale of concessions, which will materially help out the revenues from the sale of tickets.

HEADQUARTERS TO STAY HERE

Woodmen of the World Decide to Remain in Omaha.

COMMITTEE NOW INSPECTING SITES

As Soon as Suitable Location is Found Work Will Be Started on a Sixty-Thousand-Dollar Building.

Headquarters of the Woodmen of the World will remain in Omaha. The building committee of the order is in session and before it adjourns will have purchased a lot in the central portion of the city, upon which the erection of a building to cost at least $60,000 will be begun immediately.

Before the arrival of Mr. Falkenberg from Denver the other members of the committee had discussed the situation and upon his arrival yesterday it took but a short time to decide that the headquarters should remain in Omaha and that no offer of a donation of real estate or other valuable consideration should be received from any city or community desiring the headquarters. The reason for this was stated by a member of the committee, who said that should a sovereign camp accept such a donation it would feel bound to maintain the headquarters in the city making the donation, even though the best interests of the order would require its removal.

The reception committee has been received from several property owners for the sale of lots in the central part of town and at noon the committee started out to inspect the sites offered. As there are a dozen or more of these it may be a day or two before the lot is purchased.

Funds Already Available.

At the last meeting of the supreme camp $60,000 of the general funds of the order was appropriated for the purpose of erecting a building for the headquarters of the order. Of this sum $10,000 is now available and the remaining $50,000 will become available in varying sums each month, as the amount of the receipts from the general fund exceeds the expenditures. The general fund of the order is created by a per capita tax of 15 cents per month, payable by each member of the society. Under the laws of the order $10,000 must always be kept on hand for extraordinary expenses. That amount is now on deposit and hereafter all excess money will be turned into the building fund.

The decision of the building committee was good news to the members of the order in this city, who have feared that the supreme offices would be removed to another city. One of the officers, speaking of the matter, said:

"The Woodmen of the World will continue as a Nebraska corporation. It will fight its battles on the present lines, demonstrating that its policy is one which will afford permanent protection to its policyholders. I am glad to feel that we are no longer in the apparent position of asking something for nothing and that the annual scare of a removal of the sovereign camp is over for several years at least."

SARGENT GIVEN PROMOTION

Well Known Local Railroad Man is Entrusted with Greater Responsibilities by Great Northern.

John A. Sargent, who has a wide acquaintance with Omaha railroad men, has been appointed assistant general freight agent of the Great Northern railway, with headquarters in St. Paul. Mr. Sargent is one of the best known railroad men in the west and his promotion is a matter of gratification to his Omaha friends.

Mr. Sargent virtually grew up in the railroad service. His father was for many years general freight agent of the Kansas City, Fort Scott & Memphis, and the son, after serving a several years' apprenticeship in the general freight office, was appointed assistant general freight agent. He was afterward made general freight agent of the Kansas City, Pittsburg & Gulf, now the Kansas City Southern. About a year ago he left St. Louis and shortly after went to St. Paul to accept a responsible position in the traffic department of the Great Northern. His advancement to the assistant general freight agency comes after less than a year's service with the Great Northern. He succeeds W. H. Hill, who has been assigned to other duties.

Mr. Sargent's wife is the daughter of Mrs. Agnes McShane of this city, and both Mr. and Mrs. Sargent have a wide social acquaintance in Omaha.

Was it a Miracle?

"The marvelous cure of Mrs. Rena J. Stout of consumption has created intense excitement in Cammack, Ind., writes Marion Stuart, a leading druggist of Muncie, Ind. She only weighed 90 pounds when her doctor in Yorktown said she must soon die. Then she began to use Dr. King's New Discovery and gained 37 pounds in weight and was completely cured." It has cured thousands of hopeless cases and is positively guaranteed to cure all throat, chest and lung disease. 50c and $1.00. Trial bottles free at Kuhn & Co.'s drug store.

In order to increase its accommodations the Reestrom Hygiene Bath company has added another cabinet and has just secured Miss Augusta Turk, a graduate masseuse. Miss Turk is both skillful and experienced. This addition will insure its old patrons of not only prompt, but efficient service.

This is the season where the question is of grave importance. Intense heat disturbs the gastric functions and debilitates the entire system. The majority of all so-called cooling drinks bring no lasting relief, but rather unduly stimulate a craving for more, until the stomach is wholly demoralized.

"What to Drink"

HE'S SORRY FOR IT

The man who says he never did anything that he was sorry for, is too tough for any use. Our cloak buyer likes pretty things, and he buys 'em. He was offered some real handsome

Foulard Silk Dresses early in the season at a special price, and he says, "here's a chance to give Nebraska customers a good thing in foulards at little outlay." The sale was made, but they were sent to The Nebraska Cloak Co. No owner. They were returned to the shipper. After a research they were sent to us, but late in the season, too late for the going-away-to-the-sea-shore people. We accepted them at a less price than was
