

PLEASES FANNING FACTION

One Wing of Local Democracy Likes the Plan for Settlement.

QUESTION WILL BE LEFT TO VOTERS

Joint Meeting of County Committees is to Refer the Matter to Be Settled at the Party Primaries.

"The proposed plan of an amicable adjustment of the democratic differences will be satisfactory to us," remarked a member of the House-Miller-Fanning faction. "That plan contemplates that both committees shall meet next Saturday and get together by conference committees from the two bodies. That conference committee, subject to the endorsement of both committees, shall decide upon the time and place of holding the primaries and county convention. The adherents of each committee will then prepare their lists of delegates to be voted on at the primaries and the lists of each will probably be filed with both committees. Then the whole difference will be fought out at those primaries, with the understanding that the convention that results therefrom shall select a county committee to hold for a term of two years."

"I think the only controversy to be settled next Saturday will be the date and location of the primaries and county convention and the representation allowed to South Omaha. The old committee has located the convention in South Omaha and fixed the date for September 15, the primaries in the respective wards being held two days earlier. The South Omaha members of both committees will contend for the holding of the convention at South Omaha."

South Omaha Will Insist. "It is also probable that the South Omaha representatives on both committees will insist on preserving the representation from that city at seven from each ward. The old committee's meeting recently held at Fanning's call, it is stated, that instead of four from each ward, the allowance at the convention at which the new committee was created. This concession to South Omaha had been made at a former meeting of the committee, but had been changed without authority or ignored in calling the subsequent convention at which the new committee was appointed. There is apt to be a sharp controversy next Saturday over these points."

Harry Miller says that there is no foundation for the published intimation that a compromise could be reached among democrats by making him chairman of the county committee, as he has no aspirations in that direction. "The chairman of the county committee," said he, "is but a figurehead and the work is done by the executive committee. I would like to see them pick out some old democrat who has standing in the party and no factional enemies for chairman, but W. H. Gumpston in as secretary and then create an executive committee out of the hustling leaders of the different factions."

Inquiry develops a feeling among many democrats that the result of the proposed getting together next Saturday will not be unvarying harmony. On the contrary, they seem to think that it simply means more fight.

"It will simply be the laying out of the lines of battle," said one of the Jacksonian crowd. "The fight will come in the primaries. The Jacksonians and County Democracy men are united against Moore, Fanning and Miller and there is no question that we will skin them good and plenty, but I do not imagine that they will ever abide by the result of the primaries."

CONTRACT FOR TENT IS LET

Omaha Firm Will Furnish the Auditorium for the Fall Festival Concerts.

Arrangements have been practically completed by the musical festival committee for the large tent in which the festival is to be held in September. An Omaha concern has agreed to furnish an entirely new tent 170 feet long and 90 feet wide, and the committee proposes to keep it standing during the month of October, after the festival is over, for the accommodation of large political gatherings. The placing of a tent of this size on the grounds at Fourteenth and Capitol avenue will leave a margin of suitable width for the location of concessions all around two sides of it. J. E. Knowles will be engaged as superintendent of the grounds and property.

A committee has been appointed to consider the advisability of providing an official button for sale to those wishing souvenirs. It has been decided that after August 1, when the work of soliciting shall have been completed by the committee, private solicitors will be employed to canvass the residence districts for the sale of tickets on commission, the compensation to be in tickets.

WANTS ANNEX PLANS CHANGED

Postmaster Crowe Would Like to Have More Doors on Seventeenth Street.

Before the first dirt is turned for the new postoffice annex there come suggestions of amendments to the plans. The first to suggest a change is the postmaster, who desires the number of doors in the Seventeenth street side increased by one.

On the Seventeenth street side of the building are to be the entrances to the postoffice work room. According to the present specifications there will be two doors, one for the receipt and dispatching of mail and the other for the use of the letter carriers. The postmaster desires another door, so that one may be used for the receiving of mail sacks and the other for their dispatch. The suggestion of the postmaster has been favorably received by the superintendent of the building, but the plan cannot be changed without authority from Washington. This authority cannot always be obtained at the most favorable opportunity.

The completion of the annex will make considerable change in the appearance of the first floor of the building. On the north side the present offices of the secretary of the city service and of the superintendent of the mails will be thrown into the corridor. On the south side the present registry office will also become part of the corridor and the registry department will be placed behind the screen. The north and south entrances to the building will be changed. Where the doors are now located will be windows and the doors will be about where the present west wall of the building is situated. The corridors on the first floor will run to the west wall and will be separated by the work room of the postoffice.

It was stated that work would begin on the foundation of the annex this week, but since the mayor vetoed the action of the council granting the contractors the right to use parts of the streets it may be the early part of next month before the work of excavating will begin.

While it was announced that the postmaster had decided upon a plan for holding the mail during the excavation of the building, he is still trying to devise some more satisfactory way. The present entrance can only be used until excavating begins, and all of the plans suggested contemplate carrying the sacks half a block, across the building.

LAST SCHEDULES GO FORWARD

Population Census for Second District is Completed—Special Enumerators Make Rapid Progress.

Not until yesterday did the final schedule of the population census for the Second Nebraska district leave Omaha for Washington. As was to be expected, the average was maintained by the last report being sent in by a woman, Mrs. Myra A. Kelsey of Millard. Mrs. Kelsey's district is populous and the interests diversified. She had to make reports upon all schedules including manufacturers and farming, which accounts for the lateness of her final report.

The final reports from the special agents charged with the enumeration of manufacturers for the Second district in cities of 5,000 inhabitants and over must be in the hands of the chief on or before August 1, and it is probable that they will be returned in time, as all agents are making good showings on the daily record kept by Chief Special Agent Wheeler.

This record shows that on an average ten to fifteen men each day are being added with few exceptions the managers or proprietors are prepared for the visit. In one or two instances the agent is requested to call again, but so far no one has refused to supply the information required by the bureau.

NEIGHBORS DWELL IN STRIFE

Pierce Street Residents Make Charges and Counter Charges in Police Court.

Mrs. Angeline Clark, 2015 Pierce street, was arrested yesterday on a warrant sworn out by Antonio Scalzo, charging her with disturbing the peace. He has also complained to the insanity board that the woman is of unsound mind. The matter of her insanity has been investigated once by the board, which inquiry resulted in her being declared mentally sound.

Mrs. Clark was arrested at the police station, where she had gone to file a complaint against Scalzo, but he arrived first, so she is the defendant. She says she takes advantage of her defenseless position to frighten and humiliate her in various ways. One night, she says, she went down into the cellar, but scarcely had she reached the foot of the stairs when she saw an evil eye peering at her out of the darkness. She was paralyzed with fear. Then, becoming accustomed to the gloom, she saw a wicked face and heard a sound as of teeth grinding. She insists that the eye, teeth and face are those of the complaining witness. The case is set for hearing Friday afternoon.

IS ADMIRAL DEWEY'S BROTHER

Relative of the Hero of Manila Bay Stops in Omaha on His Way East.

William Henry Dewey, brother of the hero of Manila Bay, is in the city, stopping at a Farquhar street hotel. He resembles his illustrious brother somewhat, but is considerably older, being now in his 74th year. But for the full beard, which is heavy, and streaked with gray, he might easily be mistaken for George.

The senior Dewey is a railroad contractor of Nampa, Idaho, and is now on his way to New York in the interests of the Idaho Northern Railway company. He is something of a politician, being aligned with the fusion forces, and was a delegate to the Kansas City convention where he helped nominate Bryan. Like his brother, however, he is a very modest man. He doesn't care to talk about himself and when asked to say something about "George" replied that the latter had received newspaper notoriety enough for one generation of Deweys.

SIXTH WILL SHOW UP WELL

Judge Kincaid Says Conditions in His District Are Favorable for the Republican Ticket.

Judge Moses P. Kincaid of O'Neill, republican candidate for congress in the Sixth district, is in Omaha conferring with the chairman of the state committee on the work of the campaign.

"Active campaigning is not yet begun in our district," said Judge Kincaid. "Although I am in communication with republicans in all of the counties, who inform me that the prospect for making gains is encouraging. I think the experience I gained in my campaign last year will enable me to cover the district more effectively than I did then. I am confident, too, that my opponent, Congressman Neville, cannot look for the same support in his own party that he formerly had, because of their disappointment over the fusion manipulations. "As to the state and national tickets, I think the Sixth district will show up well in every way."

PANIC SEIZES HOTEL GUESTS

Women Flees from Their Beds and Swoon at Sight of Smoke.

CARELESS HEEL SETS A MATCH AFLAME

Gasoline Fumes in Cleaning Establishment Ignited by Match and Volcanoes of Smoke Pour into Corridors of Millard.

Someone stepped on a match in the Nebraska Dress Circle tailoring establishment, 1218 Douglas street, at 8:10 a. m. yesterday, and in an inconceivably short time a fire was developed in flames. The room being full of the fumes of gasoline, used in the cleaning of clothes, there was an explosion which blew out the large plate glass window in front and shattered the glass in the doors.

A rear door of the tailor shop opens into the office of the Millard hotel. Through this door a great volume of smoke burst into the lobby and rolled up the stairs and elevator shaft, penetrating to the sleeping apartments above. As the hour was comparatively early, many of the guests had not arisen, and believing the hotel was on fire, were thrown into a state of mild panic.

Two women in their night garments rushed to the elevator shaft on the third floor, but as the car was not in sight, undisturbed by the smoke, they returned. Everything went well until rounding the curve on the second floor landing, when they suddenly came in sight of flames and smoke pouring from the tailor shop. Then both screamed and fainted. Miss May Walsh, the cashier, was in the room when the explosion occurred. She sauntered leisurely into the lobby, not realizing the imminence of the danger, saw the fire and fell in a swoon. Miss Fitzpatrick, who presides over the cigar and news stand, kept her nerve admirably. From her vantage behind the counter she saw the fire from the start, but stood by her post, determining to escape by the west door, however, should there be signs of the flames gaining headway.

William Jefferson, the elevator boy, operated his car throughout all the excitement, carrying many frightened persons down to places of safety.

Lieutenant William Burmester of Engine Company No. 2, was severely injured by the falling of broken glass. One piece struck him on the back of his right hand, severing three tendons. Firemen John Norton and William White were slightly cut by coming in contact with broken glass.

The building, the property of Jacob Markel, is damaged to the extent of about $100, while the contents, consisting almost exclusively of men's clothing, belonging to customers—can be restored for perhaps $350.

The fire department did some excellent work in confining the blaze to the tailor shop. The hotel property suffered no injury.

PROSPERITY IS POTENT PLEA

City Attorney Finds People of Michigan, Illinois and South Content with Present Conditions.

"While I was out of Omaha I did not meet a single Bryan man. I met a number of old-line democrats, but they were all supporters of McKinley and the present administration and will vote the republican ticket this fall," said City Attorney Connell, who has just returned from a vacation of ten days spent at South Haven, Mich. "At South Haven there are summer visitors from all parts of the United States and I took particular pains to discover what the political sentiment is among the people of the United States. All the men I met agreed that present prosperity is good enough for them and that they do not care to venture a change. Michigan will give McKinley an overwhelming majority this fall," said City Attorney Connell, who has many St. Louis democrats in South Haven for the summer and these men are all McKinley supporters, a fact that indicates that the Bryanites will find a break in the solid south.

I found a good many democrats and republicans who do not agree with the present expansion policy of the administration, but they all admitted that disagreement on one point could not influence them to vote against a party that stands for their views on other questions. Prosperity is not confined to Nebraska, but is a fact and no argument can be made against it. It is a fact that the Bryanites will find a break in the solid south.

Iowa Husband Hunts Elopings Wife.

W. H. Carver of Waucoma, Ia., called on Chief Mitchell yesterday to assist in apprehending W. C. Anderson and his wife, Alice E. Carver, who eloped from Waucoma July 7. Mr. Carver gave the chief a good description of Anderson and his wife and the entire police force is now on the lookout for the couple. Anderson is described as about 32 years old, about five feet seven inches in height and weighing 150 pounds. He is smooth shaven and is a good dresser.

On leaving home, Mrs. Carver deserted six children, ranging in age from 18 months old to 12 years. Mr. Carver traced the fleeing couple to Omaha, but diligent search yesterday afternoon failed to locate them here.

panies, which may not be completed for a month. They involve a very large sum of money and such transactions are not effected in a day. These negotiations have been in progress practically ever since I became interested in the Suburban line, but the existing connection between the two companies is that the old company has a written agreement whereby it is entitled to use a portion of the new company's tracks in Council Bluffs, or what is known as the Manawa line. I am not at all inclined to close the objects sought to be obtained by the negotiations pending, and in fact no one knows yet just what they may bring forth."

SIMPSON MAKES SHREWD MOVE

Pleads Guilty to Assault and is Let Off with a Small Fine.

Thomas A. Lynch, 26 years old, formerly employed at the Union Pacific depot, told a story at the police court yesterday which would indicate that the fates have shined out to him rather more than has mere out of hard luck. First, he had the misfortune to incur the enmity of Henry M. Simpson, night station master, and thenceforth the fickle dame refused to smile upon him.

On the night of July 10 Simpson insisted that Lynch should beg his pardon for something. He refused, whereupon the foreman of the court, who was sitting in the police court Tuesday afternoon at 4 o'clock, and Lynch was on hand with an imposing array of witnesses, but, unbeknown to them, Simpson appeared before the judge at 2 o'clock started Lynch, was fined $1 and costs, and the case was dropped from the docket. Lynch and his witnesses sat in the court room all the afternoon waiting for the case to come up.

Now the young man, sole support of a wife and child, has lost his job at the Union Pacific depot.

CITY SWINGS ITS OWN SCYTHE

Property Owners Who Allow Noxious Growth on Their Premises Must Pay Official Weed Cutter.

The rank weeds growing along the streets and walks in all parts of the city are doomed to destruction within thirty days. All property holders who do not dispose of the weeds by that time will be permitted to pay the city weed cutting gangs for doing the work. Publication of the notice to cut weeds began July 24 and on August 24 the Board of Public Works will put to work an army of men who will sweep away with those that have not been cut.

Authority is vested in the city to assess the expense of this work to the property holders and City Attorney Connell says there is no question but that such taxes while the ordinance is in effect will go to seed within the next few weeks unless cut at once and their immediate destruction will lessen the crop for next year. A few city prisoners are kept busy every day cutting weeds, but the force is so small that little headway is made.

CRAUM'S FALL PROVES FATAL

Lineman Dies from Injuries Received Last Sunday Evening.

Jo A. Craum, the lineman who fell from the top of an electric light pole near Nineteenth and Dodge streets Sunday evening, died yesterday in the Clark sanitarium. His body is now in the coroner's morgue. Craum's only known relative is a brother-in-law living at Eagle Station, Mich., who has been notified and arrangements will be made in the matter of funeral or inquest until a reply is received.

Craum was an employee of the New Omaha Thomson-Houston Electric Light company. He fell from the top of a pole near Nineteenth and Dodge streets Sunday evening, and was injured internally. He did not regain consciousness sufficiently to explain exactly how the accident happened.

South Omaha News.

Local business men have banded themselves together and formed a home protection society for the purpose of self-protection and the pushing of South Omaha products. The organization is known as the Merchants' Mutual Protective association and these are the officers: W. B. Olin, president; Henry Nichols, vice president; L. E. Kells, secretary; A. A. Wright, treasurer. Aside from boosting the home market for goods of various kinds, the association will have a paid secretary to look after delinquent customers and will also take a hand in legislation as far as it pertains to the selling of goods on the streets by those who are not residents and those who pay no rent. It is asserted that nearly every business man in the city is a member of the new organization.

In connection with this work the organization has employed an attorney to draft an ordinance, which is to be submitted to the city council, regulating hucksters and peddlers. This ordinance will be given to the council probably at its next meeting and the members will be urged to give it due consideration.

What this association wants is an ordinance regulating the licenses of hucksters and peddlers. For a two-hour wagon with one man in charge $100 a year is to be charged; $60 for six months and for less time at the rate of $5 a day. A one-horse wagon will pay $75 a year, $40 for six months or $4 a day. Push carts are assessed at the rate of $30 a year, $20 for six months, or $2.50 a day. Foot peddlers must pay $25 a year, $15 for six months, or $2.50 a day. Extra persons on wagon or push carts to be charged at the rate of one-half the amount of regular charges.

This ordinance to be introduced and supported by the association further provides that all persons desiring a license of the kind mentioned shall file an application with the city clerk. It is to be carried on the weights and measures to be used and the sources from which articles offered for sale are to be obtained.

The ordinance then provides that if all is right the sanitary inspector is to recommend the granting of the license, and if he finds against the applicant he shall file his reasons in writing with the city clerk. A majority of the merchants appear to be in favor of this proposed ordinance and great pressure will be brought to bear on the members of the city council to pass it when it is introduced. Home patronage seems to be the motive adopted by the new association, the object being to build up the industries of the Magic City.

Improvement in Quality of Milk. The grade of milk being served to customers in South Omaha is improving and this is due principally to the constant watch kept by the municipal authorities on the sale of lactated fluid. Milk Inspector Jones makes an average test of eight samples of milk a day and yesterday tests showed that all samples showed over 4 per cent butter fat. As 3 per cent butter fat is the minimum allowed by ordinance the showing is considered a gratifying one. The recent rains have freshened up the pastures and Inspector Jones reports that all dairies are now in first-class condition. During the dry spell the milk was in some instances below standard, but now the conditions are changed for the better.
