Forebodings entertained and mutterings of discontentment uitered by operating emplayes of the Union Pacific relative to the new watch regulations have been quieted by the issuance of explicit instructions explaining the new rules. For some time past it has been a matter of common knowledge that the executive a 6:45 am officials of the Union Pacific were perfecting plans for the inauguration of an improved system of watch and clock examination. The details were known to none but the officials having the matter in charge. In certain quarters, however, reports of the proposed innovation originated, the official action being anticipated in every case and

"The purpose of the introduction of this system of watch inspection," says General Manager Dickinson, "is to insure improved efficiency in train service and provide additional safeguards against accident, affording greater security of life and property. The hearty co-operation of our employes in making the operation of the system successful is earnestly enjoined. The desired results can only be obtained by observing carefully the rules as to inspection and comparison and by employes refraining from any attempt to set or regulate their watches themselves." The new system becomes effective August 1, 1900. After that time every conductor, engineer, train baggageman, brakeman, fireman, yardmaster, engine foreman, agent and Eastern Limited, Chicago and East.... a 4:55 pm a 4:65 pm
