CONDITION OF OMAHA'S TRADE

Volume of Business in Practically All Lines Heavier Than Anticipated.

business during the month of July, but this year the majority of them have not experienced what might be called a luin trade. There is not, of course, the activity there was a couple of months ago. but at the same time there is a brisk trade for this time of year. Quite a number of merchants are beginning to call on the jobbers and it is expected that from now on house traite will be quite a feature. The merchants rates, whereby retailors can have their railroad fair paid, provided it does not exceed 2 per cent of the purchases, it is thought, will bring many dealers to the city who otherwise would not come. The efforts made during the last year or two to bring dealers to this city and get them acquainted with the business men has had a great influence and there are new many merchants buying their goods on this market who always thought they had to go cast. Jobbers say all that is needed is by get a man here once and he can be depended upon to patronize Organa in the future.

The markets have not shown much change during the last week with the exception of groceries and drugs, which are advancing. Dry goods, hardware and such lines are practically in the same notches they were in a week ago.

Grocery Market Firm. ber of merchants are beginning to call on

Grocery Market Firm.

Grocery Market Firm.

The last week brought about no slackening in the demand for groceries. Jobbers say they have about all the business they can handle and never experienced a better trade in the month of July. There have been no very sensational advances since last report, but at the same time the market as a whole is in a very strong position. Bugar remains unchanged so far as quotations go, but London cables show the market on raws very strong, which naturally strengthens the feeling on refined grades in New York. It is thought another advance will take place in the near future. Fackage coffee is also quoted the same as it was a week ago, but greens are higher, so an advance on roasted coffee would not be a surprise.

The cheese market is still going up, as it che demand continues exceedingly heavy. The advance since last report amounts to from its to be per pound. The rope market is gring off and the price is now lower than it has been in many months. This applies to both sisal and manila.

Evaporated raspberries are now on the market and prices have advanced from 2c to 25c since last report. It is claimed that the old stock is practically exhausted, which accounts for the fancy prices now being quoted. Evaporated apricots are also on the market, and, owing to the heavy foreign demand, fancy stock will be apt to command a premium in the near future. It is said nearly all the high grade stock is going to foreign markets, which is causing a shortage for home consumption.

There is little change to report in the canned goods situation. Practically all lines remain where they were a week ago with the exception of salmon, which is stendily firming up. This is particularly true of the cheaper grades, as stocks are being rapidly reduced and but little is left; of the desirable brands on the coast. It will be from six weeks to two months before the new goods will arrive on the market. market.

Good Demand for Hardware.

Good Demand for Hardware.

Hardware jobbers are still enjoying a very nice trade. Orders are not large, but for that reason retailers have to buy frequently, so that the aggregate of business is entirely satisfactory. There has been no special feature to the trade, as the demand is for all classes of seasonable goods. The market, too, has been rather uninteresting the last week. There is some weakness still observable, but quotations are not much different on the important lines. Some hardware men, who are in a position to know, express the opinion that prices are not going to decline much farther, as they are getting well down toward the cost of production, and that a much farther drop would wipe out the margin of profit entirely on a number of lines. Indications at least point to healthy markets in the near future.

Dry Goods Market Quiet.

Local jobbers report a very satisfactory trade for the last week. Immediate business, of course, is not exactly rushing but at the same time the number of merchants coming to the city is on the increase and a number of good sales were made last week to visiting retailers. The outlook for future business is very encouraging, as indications point to the fact that this is to be a much better dry goods market than it has ever been before and for that reasen many merchants will come here who never bought goods on this market before.

Regarding market conditions, there is no much in the way of news. Practically all lines remain where they have been for some little time, and in the cast but little is doing. Yarn, however, is developing some strength and that feature of the market is being watched with considerable interest.

Shipping Advance Orders.

Boet and shee jobbers are shipping advance orders as rapidly as possible. It is still rather early, but jobbers are anxious to get them filled and out of the way. Traveling men are sending in a few orders, but still they are not having any too good success. Merchants continue to show a marked tendency to hold off until near the time when they want the goods and then buy to suit the conditions. For that reason jobbers are all counting on doing a big business early in the fall.

The situation with rubber goods men is practically the same as it is with the boot and shoe dealers. The trade has been without special feature, but still jobbers seem to be well pleased with the outlook and think the fall and winter trade will be fully up to last season.

Drug Market Strong.

Drug Market Strong.

The demand for drugs is keeping up remarkably well for the middle of summer. The market is also in good shape and the general tendency of prices is upward. Morphine is 100 per pound higher than it was a week ago and present indications are that still higher prices will rule in the near future. Quinine is also higher, the advance of the still higher also higher. mounting to about 2c per cunce. Opium another line that has taken a jump upis another line that has taken a jump up-ward and is now quoted 50c per pound higher than it was a week ago. Bismuth preparations are also advancing rapidly and are held firm at the higher quotations. Sulphur, camphor and carbolic acid are all held at good, firm prices, with indica-tions for advances in the near future.

Fruits and Produce.

The fruit trade new centers around the California stock. Pears, prunes, plums, peathes, grapes and nectarines are all on the market and are meeting with good demand. The tendency of prices is lower as the supply becomes more abundant. The quotations will be found in another column. Berries are now getting rather carre, blackberries being about the only ones left on the market in any quantities. They are selling at $2.50 per twenty-four-quart case.

There is nothing particularly new in the vegetable line and prices are about the same as they were a week ago.

The eag market is hardly as firm as it was a week ago. The quality of the stock is still very poor and so much of that class of stock being on the market has naturally weakened prices. Spring chickers are coming in quite freely and quotations are lower than they were a week ago. Hers are also off a trifle. The butter market remains unchanged.

MOVEMENTS OF STOCKS AND BONDS.

Stock Market is Monopolized by Cor-terie of Professional Operators. NEW YORK, July 28.—There was almost nothing in the day's stock market to interest any one outside of the small circle of professional operators in stocks, who conducted all the business. Prices advanced in the first nour and declined after the appearance of an unexpectedly strong bank statement. Small net losses are the bank statement. Small net losses are the rule as a consequence.

The feature was a perpendicular drop of 3 points in Sugar, after an opening advance of %. The reason assigned was a rumor of a strike in one of the company's refineries. The rumor was denied without materially strengthening the stock. Selling orders to stop losses on the long side were uncovered at the decline and the raid on the stock was doubtless made with the purpose of dislodging thege orders. The bears were content to take their profits and the stock quieted down. Brooklyn Transit raid on the stock was doubtless made with the purpose of dislocing these orders. The bears were content to take their profits and the stock quieted down. Brooklyn Transit was bid up on continued rumors of a good annual report and Burlington was bought on the belief that the June report would show net earnings that would compare favorably with those of other roads. The solling after the bank statement seemed to be realizing and was based on the supposition that shorts would cover on the good bank statement. But there did not
good bank statement, But there did not seem to be any shorts and the market
sagged off to the low point of the morning.
The closing was heavy. As the additional deposits in the banks were largely cash the surplus reserves benefited to the substantial extent of $3.66.075. The field of the loan expansion is not very clear. Certainly new loans did not find their way into stock market operations. The increase of over $1.00.000 in the outstanding direculation of the banks is due to the completion of plates for printing notes in Washington, work on which has delayed the issuing of notes already applied for by the banks. A recovery in sterling exchange in Paris to the high point of the week and a sharp rise in Berlin discounts were the features of the day bearing on the question of gold exports next week.
The buil interest in the stock market demonstrated to their own satisfaction
early in the week that their campaign
while easily successful in advancing prices, was entirely abortive in inviting any outside demand for stocks. It was easy to bid up prices, as there were no large selling of stocks, but there was practically no demand outside of that from the professionals themselves. When they at tempted to sell to realize any profit, prices solonal buying had started them. The decline was even easier than the advance, for the buying by shorts who were forced to cover on the advance, was no longer an element.

The inertness of the market on any rally shows that the bears have put The inertness of the market on any rally shows that the bears have put out only scanty fresh short lines. With the short interest lessened and with the long interest which has been unable to secure profits increased, the technical condition of the market is distinctly weakened. The speculators who undertook to lead a bull movement could not have been blind to the elements of uncertainty in the outlook. But they argued that money on call was easy now, whatever the more distant prospect might be and that a period of quiet was sure to intervene in political affairs between the national conventions and the opening of the campaign. Since the professional altempt to advance prices has been abandoned, they have settled back to a lower level on a CATTLE—There were only a few bunches of cattle on sale today, and not enough to make a test of the market. Buyers were not anxious for supplies today, but took what were here without material change in price.

The cattle market for the week has been in good shape, the demand being fully equal to the supply, so that each day's receipts were disposed of without difficulty. The tendency of prices has been upward, and at the close of the week it is safe to call good cornfed steers fully a dime higher than they were a week ago. Steers of medium quality and even the commoner grades are also better than they were a week ago, though the tendency, of course, is to neglect that class of cattle. Light receipts, however, have helped out the sale of the poorer grades.

There has also been considerable improvement in the cow market. The demand is much better and good stock is fully a dime higher than it was a week ago. The medium cows are also selling higher. Canners are moving much more freely than they were a short time ago owing to the fact that more of the packers are buying them. The market, however, is very uneven, as the prices paid depend largely upon whether or not packers are looking for fact that more of the packers are buying them. The market, however, is very uneven, as the prices paid depend largely upon whether or not packers are looking for supplies. One day the market looks 25c higher, and the next day, perhaps, sales are made that show no improvement.

Stock cattle are still showing improvement, and the better grades are fully ley like higher than they were at the close of last week. The demand for the commoner grades is not so good, and prices on that class of stock are not much better. Stock cows and heifers are also advancing at about the same rate as the stock steers, and stock bulls and calves are also selling better than they were a week ago.

Western cattle have been coming on the market more freely this week and have sold better than at any time this season. The steers that are good enough for killers are probably a dime higher than they were a week ago, and the same may be said of practically all kinds of good cattle. The commoner grades, of course, do not move so freely, but even on those the feeling is better. Representative sales:

NO SIGNS OF YELLOW FEVER

Fears of Dread Disease Will Not Interfere with Embarkation of Troops from Cuba.

NEW YORK, July 28.-General Leonard Wood, military governor of Cuba, who has been in the United States for about a week, sailed on the Mexico today for Havana General Wood said of the military status in Cuba:

"The withdrawal of United States troops from Cuba will end with the embarkation of the remaining battalions of the First and Fifth infantry. That will leave only about 5,000 soldiers on the island, merely enough for garrison duty. "Fears that yellow fever would interfere with the transfer of the First infantry were removed this morning upon the receipt of a telegram which said that the surgeons reported that all signs of it had disappeared and that the embarkation would proceed with all possible dispatch."
