AMERICAN AND RUSSIAN INTERESTS CLASH

Latest Advice Indicate That Boxers Continue Their Murderous Work, Four Missionaries Having Been Killed at Hankow.

LONDON, Aug. 6.—The American and British forces began the advance on Peking last Thursday, according to a dispatch dated August 2 from Tien Tsin to the Daily Express.

"The main body of the allies," continues the correspondent, "marched on July 26. General Chaffee was delayed by difficulties of disembarkation. General Doward, the British commander, had no such obstacles and his delay is inexplicable.

"The other foreign troops are now all the way to Lafa. The force includes 20,000 Japanese under General Yamaguchi and 10,000 Russians. The British force totals 5,000 and the other foreign troops number 7,000. We are weak in artillery.

"On August 1 a strong force of Chinese from the native city attacked Tien Tsin. By a series of brilliant charges our troops drove the enemy from their positions. The native city is still defiant and the allies are unwilling to march through its streets, as this would mean an immense slaughter. When the Chinese saw so large a body of troops marching westward they apparently believed they would have an easy victory over those who were left."

LI PING HENG PREVENTS PEACE

A message to the same paper from a correspondent in Peking dated July 22 says: "The women have borne all the horrors with marvelous fortitude, and even with cheerfulness. The Chinese wanted peace when the arsenal was captured and the negotiations made fair to be successful. Unfortunately Li Ping Heng and Kang Yu arrived here at the critical moment and overthrew the peace party.

"Food has been short, but not terribly so, though we have had to be very careful."

A Shanghai dispatch dated August 4 says: "The first overt attack on foreigners occurred this morning. Three Chinese, supposed to be soldiers in disguise, fired at a well known English resident while he was lying asleep on the veranda of his house. He had a narrow escape.

Safe Escorts for Ministers.

The Shanghai correspondent of the Daily Mail announces the receipt of an imperial edict dated August 2, ordering General Yung Lu to take his high military escort and to proceed with a sufficient number of picked troops, to escort the foreign ministers to Tien Tsin as soon as they decided to leave Peking.

By the terms of the edict General Yung Lu will be held personally responsible for their safety, and is given full authority to deal summarily with those opposing the peaceful passage of the escort.

"By such acts," concludes the edict, "do we show our good intentions to people from afar and open our bosoms to them."

Yokohama advices that General Terouchi has returned to the Japanese government that it is not advisable to send more troops to China, declaring that the United States force is now ample to relieve the foreigners in Peking.

Chinese newspapers assert that in addition to raising the execution of high functionaries of pro-foreign tendency Li Ping Heng has impeached Li Hung Chang, Liu Kan Yi, viceroy of Nankin, and others on a charge of maintaining relations with foreigners.

A Tien Tsin dispatch, dated August 1, to A. B. Ingham, gives a report of an imperial edict issued July 27 ordering the recapture of Taku and Tien Tsin by troops from Shan Tung and the south.

Detailed accounts of the reconnaissance of July 20 say that the enemy's guns that were attacked near Peking were only the advanced post and Peking, it is believed, can only be captured after a hard struggle. General Gaselee and his staff, accompanied by the reconnaissance, but no British troops were engaged.

Americans and Russians Clash.

A dispatch to the Morning Post from Che Foo, dated July 30, says: "The Russians at Tien Tsin refuse to allow the Americans to put up telephone wires on the railroad poles and they claim the railroad wires, which the engineers are ready to work.

"The situation is critical. The river is full of railroad sleepers. Hundreds of dead bodies of Chinese, some decapitated, are floating the stream."

Four more missionaries, according to Shanghai advices dated Saturday, have been murdered near Hankow.

The Tien Tsin correspondent of the Times, writing July 31, says: "The previous decision to move tomorrow has been reversed. It is reported that the American commander is unwilling to advance until he is reinforced. The Japanese reconnaissance yesterday apparently inclined them to favor waiting for further reinforcements. The Russians and French acquiesced.

"General Gaselee has an excuse to advance, but his command is so small, only 2,000, that he cannot take the lead. The date for the departure of the expedition is, therefore, uncertain."

Commenting upon this dispatch the Times says: "It is perhaps inevitable, although undoubtedly disappointing, that the advance should be delayed."

It will be noticed that the dispatch to the Daily Express announcing that the troops had started is dated two days later than the dispatch to the Times and two days later than any other dispatch published in London this morning. There is no way of verifying the statements of the Daily Express correspondent. They must be simply taken for what they are worth.

TROOPS AFTER CIRCUS GANG

Governor Lind of Minnesota Called Upon to Quell Disturbance at Cass Lake.

ST. PAUL, Aug. 5.—The Duluth militia companies are under orders to go to Cass Lake, Minn., where troops are reported to have taken possession of the town. A circus exhibited there Thursday. A sheriff and deputy from Hubbard county had warrants for the arrest of crooks who were following the show for alleged depredations at Park Rapids. While trying to serve the warrants one of the deputies was bested and papers and arms taken away from him. Later in the evening citizens tried to have the train held so as to get warrants for the arrest of the gang. While so doing the railroad office was invaded by the gang and Sheriff Alexander brutally beaten and left for dead. The crooks were followed to Grand Rapids yesterday, where one of them was captured, but this evening while court here was being held the court house was broken open and the prisoner released by force of arms. Governor Lind was asked for aid to quell the disturbance.

Governor Lind is at Mora and word was sent to him there of the trouble at Cass Lake. He was also notified that the circus men had started a train for West Superior, Wis., in order to escape from the Minnesota officers. The governor, therefore, sent word to the sheriff of St. Louis county at Duluth of the trouble, directing him to take the militia and make arrests before the men wanted left the state. Another telegram to the superintendent of the railway ordered that the train carrying the circus men be held at Cloquet, Minn., the last stop before getting across the line. The St. Louis county force is expected to reach that point in time to carry out the governor's orders.

PART OF ALASKA LOPPED OFF

Boulder, Glacier, Rock and Other Streams Are Conceded to Be Canadian Territory.

SEATTLE, Wash., Aug. 5.—O. H. Titman, United States commissioner in the matter of international boundary between Alaska and Canada, has arrived from the north. He and F. W. King, the British commissioner, have been setting monuments in accordance with the agreement reached in the modus vivendi. Titman states that Glacier, Boulder Rock and other creeks which the miners claim constitute a portion of the Porcupine district, are now in British territory. He said: "Porcupine river and all of its affluents are defined by modus vivendi. Glacier and Boulder Rock creeks are on the Canadian side and will be so long as the modus vivendi line is recognized.

"It is difficult to tell what constitutes the Porcupine district. The miners think it includes a great many creeks and rivers tributary to the Porcupine. I understand they claim that the Porcupine and other streams are included in the so-called Porcupine section. If that is a fact then much of the Porcupine claim lies on the British side. Certainly Glacier and Boulder Rock do. Glacier runs north and south and practically parallel with Porcupine. No matter where the line runs, all claims staked in the disputed Porcupine territory prior to the time the modus vivendi took effect, October 20, 1898, will remain intact in accordance with the terms of the modus vivendi."

The American secretary of state called an ultimatum August 1, demanding free communication with Minister Conger. The very next day a Chinese imperial edict was issued, ordering that the envoys have free communication with their governments.

The news of China's instant knuckling to the United States when matters came to a climax was received here in a special dispatch dated yesterday to Tampa, a newspaper of the highest reputation for conservatism and accuracy of information.

That dispatch, dated from Shanghai, announced that Sheng, the director general of the Chinese railways and telegraphs, had just communicated to the foreign consuls there "an imperial decree, dated August 2, authorizing the foreign ministers in Peking to communicate without restriction with their governments and ordering their departure for Tien Tsin under a government escort."

No message has been sent out since that date by Mr. Conger or any of the other envoys, but one may be expected at any hour.

The Shanghai correspondent of the Temps, telegraphing today, also says: "The number of allies leaving Tien Tsin is no better known here than are the facts as to the march itself, but it is rumored that the advance guard had been repulsed. 'Li Hung Cheng' (former governor of Shan Tung), who is intensely hostile to Europeans, has been named commander of the Chinese forces."

The French foreign ministry has received the following dispatch from the French consul at Che Foo, dated August 2: "The governor of Moukden in a proclamation has urged the people of Manchuria to massacre Christians. Nearly all the missions have been destroyed. The missionaries have organized a force of arms. Governor Lind was asked for aid to quell the disturbance.

For instance, they will appoint judges, officials in the educational department and officers of municipalities, which the commission will administer.

General MacArthur will be the executive head to enforce the law of the commission and he will conduct the government in accordance with the same until the commission recommends to President McKinley the appointment of a civil governor.

There has been an increase of insurgent activity during the last three weeks, especially in the way of ambushes and attacks upon small parties. First Lieutenant Alexander of the regular army, who was in command of the insurgents, returned the command with a letter promising to treat the prisoners well. Lieutenant Boston Hulseberg was ambushed and killed near Santa Cruz, province of Laguna.

Five men of the twenty-fourth infantry were captured in Nueva Ecija, but Sergeant Schmidt of the Twelfth infantry, with seven men, trailed the captors and killed five.

Captain Lara of the Manila native police was dangerously shot by unknown assailants yesterday while on the street. He had been effectively enforcing regulations and had made enemies among the Filipinos, some of whom have long threatened vengeance. Lara has been generally accused of corruption in the past, but this is not surprising, because there are so many of them. Along the main street of the camp I counted fifty-six saloons and some of them had bars and fixtures which were magnificent.

"In some there are thousands of prospectors who get there with just enough money to see them landed. Unless some unexpected freak of fate turns up in their favor they will have to be transported out of the region at the expense of the government in time to evade the hardships of winter. The reports of the prevalence of all sorts of epidemics have been overdone. There has been a great deal of pneumonia and typhoid fever, but not much smallpox. Until we left only eighteen cases of smallpox had been reported and of these but three were fatal.

BACK FROM FROZEN NORTH

Omaha Man Returns With Body of Captain Charles B. Rustin.

CAPE NOME NO PLACE FOR A POOR MAN

Ground for Miles Staked Out and Claims Involved in Suit of Littering White Owners Are Broke.

Three young men who left Omaha for the gold fields of Alaska last May, lured by the hope of a successful prospecting of their search for the yellow metal, reached home Sunday afternoon with spirits downcast. They returned as an escort for the remains of one who had served them during their short stay in the Alaska gold fields as friend and adviser—Captain Charles B. Rustin, whose death in Nome City July 18 came as a shock to his host of friends and acquaintances in this city. The escort consisted of Mark Cook, Ned French and A. K. Lipe, and it was the sad mission which prompted their return voyage that made them downhearted, rather than disappointed over the admittedly discouraging conditions existing at Cape Nome.

The arrival of Captain Rustin's remains was greeted at the depot by a large number of his old friends, who embraced the first opportunity presented to pay their respects to the memory of one of Omaha's pioneers. The body was received in excellent condition, having been embalmed and shipped in one of the only two metallic caskets available in Nome City at the time of the death. The remains were taken to the family residence, 205 South Thirty-seventh street, from whence the funeral will be held this afternoon at 3 o'clock. Rev. Hubert C. Herring, pastor of the First Congregational church, will conduct the obsequies.

Captain Rustin's Alaska Experience. "Captain Rustin arrived in Nome City," said Mr. French, "June 25, a few days after Mr. Cook, Mark Lipe and myself had landed. He was delayed by reason of the vessel on which he took passage being quarantined at Egg Island, 150 miles out of Nome, for ten days because of a smallpox case. After arriving at Nome he devoted himself to looking over the situation and making quest for promising mining claims. On Friday, July 13, the captain complained of a slight indisposition and the next day was confined to his bed in his tent. Sunday we called in a doctor, but the captain stoutly insisted that he was only temporarily under the weather and it was much against his will that he was removed to a hospital. It shortly developed that he had pneumonia and the following Wednesday he died."

Unprejudiced opinions formed by the returned members of the Omaha contingent in Cape Nome indicate that the newest Alaskan gold fields should be shunned by the poor man and the prospector without ample funds at his command. Messrs. Cook, French, Lipe and Mayor D. C. Giffert of West Point arrived in Nome City about the middle of June. They found a city that had sprung up like mushrooms in the night with a varying population from 30,000 to 50,000 people. The majority of this population had arrived during the spring and summer months and had found that the gold land had been staked out by the men who had been on the ground at the time and immediately subsequent to the first discovery.

"We sailed from Seattle May 21," said Mr. French, "and after being blockaded by the ice in Behring sea for four days, cast anchor off Nome City June 18. I will never forget the sight that met my eyes when the famous capital of the new gold fields came into view. It was snowing heavily, a thick mist had formed and when I peered through the atmospheric obstruction and saw nothing but myriads of white tents I could not help but wonder who the fellows who were sleeping there for the meagre protection. We landed the following day and everything was hustle and bustle, as was usual on the arrival of every steamer.

"After we got our baggage off the vessel and hoisted our tent on the third day, we set out to look the situation over. The principal gold fields are along Anvil creek for five miles north of Nome City. Through a mutual friend we were introduced to Mr. Linderberg, one of the original discoverers of the Nome region. It was through his acquaintance that we discovered the reports of the wonderful richness of the Nome region to be unexaggerated. The day we visited his claim a clean-up of the sluice boxes after a thirty-hour run netted $10,000. The Finney Mining company, of which Linderberg is one of the principal owners, has already made two shipments this season, each over $100,000. The reports of the fabulous wealth of these placer diggings are consequently not overdrawn, but the disappointed prospectors, who are gold-seekers upon their arrival in Cape Nome to discover that the entire district for 200 miles in every direction from Cape Nome, Cape York and Port Clarence had already been staked out and located by men who were either on the ground at the time of the first discovery or in the winter of 1898 or shortly thereafter. The only show of the most of the new arrivals had been in washing out the sand along the beach, which the government reserved from individual location. While the beach was a free-for-all prospecting, it was naturally a dead loss, because it had been worked to a frazzle long before the last comers got in.

TEXAS DEMOCRATS TO MEET

State Convention Will Nominate and-Drive Ticket at Washington Wednesday.

HOUSTON, Tex., Aug. 5.—The ticket which will be nominated at the democratic state convention at Waco next Wednesday has been decided on with one exception, the contest for the chairmanship of the state executive committee is quite likely to bring on a fight, which will make the convention anything but a cut and dried affair. The fight over the gubernatorial nomination two years hence begins with the selection of the state chairman, which makes the choice an important matter.

There are also matters of particularly political policy to be decided. The issue of a permanent re-organization of the waters of the oil company to do business in Texas after the old company had been expelled from the state under the anti-trust law, has stirred up much feeling and ex-Governor James H. Hogg will make a speech thereon, which will no doubt lead to considerable discussion.

The only office in doubt is the railroad commissioner, the candidates being L. J. Storey, present incumbent, who has a lead in the number of instructed delegates, and E. P. Curtis, who has a strategic advantage in the congressional districts, which puts him on an equal footing with Storey. The other officials to be nominated are:

Governor—Joseph D. Sayers. Lieutenant Governor—J. N. Browning. Attorney General—T. S. Smith. Treasurer—J. F. Robbins. Comptroller—S. M. Love. Land Commissioner—Charles Regan. Superintendent of Public Education—J. N. Kendall. Chief Justice Supreme Court—R. R. Gains. Associate Justice Supreme Court—A. F. Williams. Associate Justice Criminal Appeals—J. N. Henderson.

BRYAN LEAVES FOR CHICAGO

Democratic Presidential Candidate Goes to Hear of His Nomination.

LINCOLN, Aug. 5.—Colonel John I. Martin, secretary-at-arm of the national democratic committee, arrived here today for the purpose of escorting W. J. Bryan to Indianapolis, where he will next Wednesday receive the official notification of his nomination for the presidency. The party will leave Lincoln at 6 o'clock Monday evening for the train of the Burlington road. No arrangement has been made for speeches on the way, but it is considered not improbable that Mr. Bryan may be called out at different points.

The party will consist of Mr. and Mrs. Bryan and their son, Colonel Martin, Governor and Mrs. Thomas of Colorado, Mr. Bryan's secretary and a few newspaper men. They will reach Chicago about 9:30 Tuesday morning and will remain in that city until 1:30 in the afternoon, when they will order otherwise. They will arrive in Indianapolis at 10 o'clock Monday evening.

At Chicago Mr. Bryan will be taken in charge by a local committee and the party will travel by special train from Chicago to Indianapolis.

Colonel Martin says the arrangements are complete for a monster open air meeting in the Indiana capital and that there will probably be 50,000 democratic witnesses of the notification ceremonies. The event is intended to be the opening of the campaign in that state.
