WEATHER STILL TOO HOT FOR TRADING

Corn Market Affected by More Favorable Crop News-Oats Rule Comparatively Steady-Provisions at Standstill.

CHICAGO, Aug. 8.-The weather was again too oppressively hot for traders on change today and all markets dropped from the lack of interest. Wheat closed at a decline of the, corn closed harbe lower, bats Walke lower and provisions a shade wheat traders were not looking for lower cables today, following the sharp advance yesterday in this market, and when Liverpool reported a decline of 14d the effect was marked. Opening prices in September showed a decline of 14d the effect was marked. Opening prices in September showed a decline of 14d the effect was marked. Opening prices in September showed a decline of 14d the decline the price before the session had progressed very far. Liverpool reported the decline there was due to improved weather conditions in England. As there were no especially builish features to the domestic conditions, and as the weather was too hot for traders to take much interest, the market after the first half-hour degenerated into a skirmish between scaipers, with a perceptible undercurrent in favor of the selling side. What little support the market did receive was chiefly from local traders, outside interest being apparently entirely absent and the market ruled heavy until the last hour's trading, when it became really weak. Selling pressure by those who were on the buying side yesterday became heavier, while there was no increase in the demand. Following the opening decline to 754 mills there was no increase in the demand. Following the opening decline to 754 mills there was no increase in the demand. Following the opening decline to 754 mills there was no increase in the demand. Following the opening decline to 754 mills there was no increase in the demand. Following the opening decline to 754 mills there was no increase in the demand. Following the opening decline to 754 mills there was no increase in the season of the market touched 554c. The close was heavy at 754c. Northwest receipts were 200 cars, of of contract grade, Aggregate receipts at primary points were 1,242,60s but, compared with 55,000 but, a year ago. This heavy increase had some effect. Atiantic port clearances of wheat and flour amounted to 130,000 but. Foreigners were declared good buyers at the seaboard, but figures on engagements were not given.

Corn Wheat traders were not looking for lower 130,000 bu. Foreigners were declared good buyers at the seaboard, but figures on engagements were not given.

Corn was dull and heavy for most of the session. The market was affected by the favorable weekly crop reports, which belied the recent damage complaints, and by reported rains in some sections of the corn belt. The late weakness in wheat also had its effect. The bulk of the light trading was largely in the way of liquidation and largely by local holders. Country acceptances were light. Receipts were 187 cars. September ranged from 37%c to 38%c and closed %@%c lower at 37%c.

Oats were dull, but comparatively steady, in view of the weakness in other grain markets. A slight decline took place in sympathy, but selling pressure was not heavy. Elevator interests were the best sellers. The outside demand improved late in the day, though not much business was done. Receipts were 322 cars. September ranged 21% to 21%@22c, and closed %@%c lower, at 21%c.

Provisions were almost at a standstill. The grain weakness had some effect early, causing enough local selling to depress prices a little all around. Packers were fair buyers against cash sales, all reporting a good cash demand for meats. At the close September pork was 10c lower, at $11.77%; Septamber lard 2½c lower, at $11.77%; Septamber lard 2½c lower, at $11.77%; Septamber ribs a shade lower, at $11.77%; Septamber ribs a shade lower, at $11.77%; Septamber ribs a shade lower, at $11.77%.

$6.82\frac{1}{2}; and September ribs a 1.5.15.

Estimated receipts Thursday: Wheat, 190 cars; corn, 233 cars; oats, 400 cars; hogs, 230 head.

24,000 head.

American Subscriptions to British Bonds Continues to Be a Feature.

NEW YORK, Aug. 8.—The stock market today was duller than yesterday and the movement of prices was trivial and insignificant without an important exception. The room traders sold stocks in the morning, impelled, apparently, by the reports of the heavy volume of gold to be exported, Estimates were put out that the amount of shipments today and tomorrow would mount up to over $1.000,000. When it was seen that the total would not exceed $5.300.000 the room shorts covered. The market closed practically lifeless near to last night's level. Yesterday's advancing teadency in United States Rubber was contested and that stock was quite active and feverish, ranging over 1% and closing at a net gain of %c. There was the usual professional dealing in Sugar and Brooklyn Transit, the latter suffering from the delay in the publication of the annual report, which had been promised at various times.

hardly as well as they were a few days ago.

The feeder market was in good shape this morning so far as the choice heavy kinds were concerned and changed hands at just about steady prices. Anything not answering to that description was dull and lower, and the common light stuff was almost unsalable. Buyers do not want that kind of stuff, as there is no demand from the country for it, and for that reason commission men are advising shippers to hold that class of stock back until later in the season.
