HAYDEN BROTHERS.IOWA SMILES ON DOLLIVER

Appointment of the New Senator Finds Favor Throughout the State.

CLAIM OF CUMMINS FACTION TURNED DOWN

Governor Shaw Feels Surprised that Any Demand Should Be Made by that Clique After Its Attitude in the Past.

"Governor Shaw's appointment of Congressman Dolliver to take the seat in the United States senate left vacant by the death of Senator John H. Gear was a wise one and meets with the approval of a large majority of the republicans of Iowa. When the legislature convenes to name a senator I have no doubt that Mr. Dolliver will be continued in the office in spite of the threats the A. B. Cummins forces are making," said Lieutenant Governor J. C. Millman. "Great pressure was brought to bear upon the governor to secure the appointment of Mr. Cummins, but under the circumstances I do not understand how he could have done so."

"The friends of Mr. Cummins have always fought Governor Shaw. Last winter during the legislature they did all in their power to humiliate him. Mr. Cummins claims that he was not instrumental in bringing about any of this opposition to the governor, but he is the avowed leader of the faction that made the trouble and the governor's friends believe that it was within Mr. Cummins' power to direct the efforts of his supporters in any manner he pleased."

"Cummins men have been claiming lately that they were instrumental in nominating Governor Shaw and demanded favors on that score. Any one who is at all familiar

POPULISTS CALL CONVENTION

County Ticket to Be Placed in Nomination September 15.

DEMOCRATS ASSEMBLE ON THE SAME DAY

Trouble Between the Allies Not Yet Settled and an Open Rupture is Due to Occur at Any Time.

Peter Kiewitz, as chairman pro tem, and L. J. Quinby, as secretary of the fusion populist county central committee, have issued a call for a county convention to be held Saturday afternoon, September 15, at Trades and Labor Council hall, over the Packers' National bank, in South Omaha, to place in nomination a county ticket. Primaries will be held in the same places in which populist primaries are usually held, except in the Second ward of Omaha, in which the primary will be at 806 South Sixteenth street, and the Fifth ward at 2616 Sherman avenue, between the hours of 7 and 9 p. m., Thursday, September 13.

This call was issued in accordance with an agreement with the democratic county committee officials, who have decided to hold the democratic county convention on the same day. The democrats originally set their convention for September 29 at South Omaha, but the committee was empowered to change it, which it would seem has been done.

There is reason to believe that the troubles of Chairman Howell did not come when he effected an arrangement with the kicking democrats whereby the differences of the two contending committees are to be fought out at the primaries, for he now has confronting him the old casual bell between the demo-pops and the pops over the appointment of the nominations.

"A good deal of friction exists between the democrats and populists right now on that question," said one of the most prominent and ardent fusion populists in discussing the call for this convention. "There is a disposition among democrats to deny to the populists the proportion of offices which they are determined to claim as their due. We are going to insist on at least two representatives and one state senator, leaving the county commissioner, county attorneyship and nine places on the legislative ticket to be disposed of by the democrats. There is a strong disposition among some of the populists to insist on having three representatives, and also a disposition on the part of some of the democrats to deny the populists even two."

Populists Becoming Vindictive.

"Democrats are augmenting the irritation every day by disparaging the claims of the populists, and I want to tell you that the populists are getting a little vindictive over it. Quite a respectable proportion of them were opposed to holding our county convention in South Omaha or consulting with the democrats about the date. They wanted to hold our convention here in Omaha first, nominate what we might deem our proportion of the ticket, present the names to the democrats and allow them to turn them down if they dared. I know that the secretary of the committee was threatened with the serious disfavor of some of the leading and most ardent fusion populists if he called the convention for South Omaha, but he managed to win over some of those who opposed it."

"I tell you the democrats, or many of them, have never appreciated the sacrifices made by the populists in swallowing

OMAHA'S FACE TO THE FRONT

Other Signs Are More Full of Meaning Than Population Figures.

COMMERCE MORE FLOURISHING THAN EVER

Never in History of City Has Its Business and Financial Health Been More Vigorous Than at the Present Time.

While regrets are quite general that the reports from Washington as to the showing of the census returns for Omaha were not more favorable, no one seems to apprehend any damaging effects upon the commercial interests of the city from the showing. Whatever may be the population figures, Omaha people are decidedly well satisfied with existing local conditions and the growing tendency toward improvement in every particular that marks a busy, growing and progressive city.

"The effect of the census showing upon the banking interests of Omaha," said Luther Drake of the Commercial National bank, "will be for the future to determine. The truth is that there are more people in Omaha today than ever in the city's history; the people are in better circumstances as a whole than ever and the city is healthier financially and commercially than ever before. There are more people in employment at good wages than ever. There never was greater business activity and the jobbing trade was never as large as at present."

"The returns of the census will have no effect whatever upon the commercial interests of the city," said John E. Utt, secretary of the Commercial club. "It is simply a matter of sentiment. Sentimentalists may mourn about it, but the business man will pay no attention to it. He hasn't the time to think about it. He is doing too much business to devote any time to sentimentalism. I don't just want to say off-hand that there are more people in Omaha now than ever before, but it is a fact that there are no vacant houses in Omaha."

Railroads Will Keep Busy.
"I do not think that the showing of the last census relative to Omaha's population will have any material effect upon our railroad interests," said General Western Agent Fred A. Nash of the Milwaukee. "We who are familiar with the situation know that the census ten years ago was grossly incorrect and we are now suffering the consequences of that palpably wrong showing. Omaha today has more people than at any previous time in its history. The city is progressing more rapidly, its people are more prosperous, its railroads are doing a far better business. But with outside capital we will have to combat the showing of the census, for it looks a trifle bad for us. That this will be speedily accomplished I think there is no doubt, and meantime I believe Omaha's railroads will continue in the even tenor of their way, pursuing the same expansive policy which has been characteristic of all the lines during the last two years or more."

The slump in the population of Omaha will have no effect upon the representation in the legislature or in congress, at least not until after those bodies meet."

A prominent attorney. "There is talk in the east of raising the basis of representation and if this is carried through the falling off in population may have some effect."

The news of the decrease in population was discounted by previous statements made by Supervisor Wheeler and the effect on business and securities has been minimized.

BLACK HILLS ARE BOOMING

Population is Increasing Rapidly and Deadwood and Lead Are Becoming Metropolitan Cities.

General Passenger Agent J. R. Buchanan of the Elkhorn has returned from an extended trip over the Wyoming and South Dakota branches of the system. "Conditions in that part of the west," said Major Buchanan, "were never so flourishing as at the present time. I went through to Casper, Wyo., the terminus of the Northwest system, and found business affairs in a particularly gratifying state there. This year's shipment of wool will be the largest in the history of Wyoming. There is a good deal of excitement in and about Casper at this time in prospective oil development and the sale of oil property to an English-American syndicate. This deal, if consummated, will result in the building of a large refinery and factories in Casper."

"From Casper I went to Deadwood and Lead. Deadwood, the recognized commercial center of the Black Hills, is healthy and Lead is booming. The population is much increased and there is a great deal of substantial building in progress as well as means and men can push it. The recent large area in the heart of Lead which was razed to the ground by a disastrous fire is being built up with fine brick buildings, including a magnificent hotel, the foundation of which has already been laid, and the superstructure will be finished by the middle of winter."

ALMOST READY FOR OPERATION.

Burlington's New Line Practically Opens Transcontinental Route.
The opening of the Burlington's line from Alamosa, N. M., to Brush, Colo., will practically open up another transcontinental railroad between Colorado and the Pacific coast, making it available for connection at Denver with all lines from the east. The new line will be ready for operation about September 15.

"Our new line," said a Burlington official, "will materially increase the convenience of getting to and from Denver and the Black Hills. Both are mining districts, with interests largely identical, and we expect that the closer railroad connection afforded by our new route will promote and increase travel between these sections. According to the train schedule we intend to inaugurate it will be possible for one to leave Denver in the evening and arrive in Deadwood the next afternoon. Southbound the passenger can leave Deadwood in the morning and arrive in Denver the same evening. This close connection will in all probability be of inestimable benefit to the whole northwest."

Relations Are Cordial.
At Union Pacific headquarters it is stated that the cancellation of the through-car arrangements between the Union and the Union Pacific at Kansas City for the benefit of Chicago-Denver traffic has in it no unusual or hidden meaning. The relations between the two roads, it is maintained, are as cordial as they could possibly be, and the change in the through-car arrangements is the outcome of a conference between officials of the two roads. "Convenient arrangements for transfer at Kansas City will be afforded passengers bound through that city either east or west over the Union Pacific and Alton."
