People Have Money and They Are Spending Their Surplus in Looking Over the Country East

If there is any man in Omaha who disputes the existence of prosperity in this city and the country west of here at the present time that one ought to have been down at the depots any night or morning for the last few days," said E. Haney, station superintendent at the Union station. Travel incident to the low rates to Chicago on account of the Grand Army encampment continues without abatement and all eastbound trains are taxed to accommodate the crowds. Passenger men assert that there has been no movement through Omaha in any way comparable with the enormous traffic of the last three days since the Transmississippi exposition year. All of the roads operating between Omaha and Chicago have come in for a generous share of the businers, and the Rock Island, Burlington and added to the passenger traffic originating here, has made more railroad activity in
