

NO DOUBT ABOUT THE RESULT

Republicans Will Carry Every Northern State East of Missouri River.

BUSINESS, NOT POLITICS, IS THE ISSUE

W. S. Manning of Albany, New York, gives as results of his observations on the political situation.

W. S. Manning, a prominent politician and business man of Albany, N. Y., arrived in the city yesterday and will visit the rival of the Roosevelt train. Mr. Manning is a close friend of Governor Roosevelt and bears letters to the republican state committee from Perry S. Heath and H. C. Payne of the national committee.

His services have been secured by Chairman Rigg of the speaker's caucus in this city. In his commercial capacity Mr. Manning has stopped in every state between New York and Nebraska and finds everywhere that business will be the issue, and not politics.

"I don't pass through a state," said Mr. Manning, "where there was any doubt of the issue. There is very little talking being done, in marked contrast to 1896, when the sidewalks in business centers were almost impassable. Every northern state of the Missouri river and Kansas were republican by 25,000."

"I believe that before the end of the campaign the democratic campaign arguments will be looked upon as a farce by thinking people. The imperialistic bugaboo is even now losing its power to frighten. There is no convincing argument in the trust question which the republicans have so far put to little use. Congressman Sherman of New York pointed out to me the other day that the only effort made in congress to curb the trusts was defeated by the democrats. On June 1, 1899, the judiciary committee of the house presented a joint resolution to regulate trusts. Only five democrats voted for it, while nearly every republican gave it his support, securing a majority, but not the two-thirds necessary to a constitutional amendment."

"And yet even democrats admit that federal control is the only remedy for the trust evil. Bryan in his 1896 speech of acceptance said that 'congress has or should have the power to restrict even to the point of prohibition any corporation organized in one state which carries on business outside the state.' Mr. Bryan added that if congress has not the power there should be an amendment to the constitution."

"Any effort which individual states may make has been shown to be of no avail, as their influence is interfered with by the interstate commerce commission. Congress was the only hope and the democrats have killed the sole legitimate effort which has been made to control corporate monopoly."

IOWA REPUBLICAN CYCLONE

Colonel E. R. Hutchins in Omaha for a few hours on his way to Calloway.

Colonel E. R. Hutchins of Des Moines, Ia., was here for a few hours yesterday. He speaks at Calloway tomorrow night and will remain in this state until October 14. The colonel is one of the ablest speakers in the republican party. Nebraska heard him four years ago. For three national campaigns he has been under the republican national committee. He is one of the best known Grand Army of the Republic men in the northwest and since the civil war, in which he served four years, he has served in both the Spanish and the Philippine wars. He has been called in Illinois, where he has been speaking for more than a month. "I know what I speak of," said the republican cyclone. "When asked about politics yesterday Colonel Hutchins said: 'Illinois will give 80,000 and Iowa will give 65,000 majority for McKinley and Roosevelt. What these two states now want is for Nebraska to give at least 10,000.'"

"When asked about Bryan's position on the 'content of the government' in the Philippines he said: 'It is an impossibility, as much so as imperialism would be on American soil. I know what I speak of on this Philippine question and every soldier who has been there will bear me out. I don't care what his politics are. Bryan is a dreamer, a guesser. He knows nothing of the Philippines save what he learns through his and other friends. A through his and a guesser never should be president of the greatest nation on the globe. A wise man is needed for such a place. We have one in McKinley and we will keep him there.'"

JEFFERSON ON IMPERIALISM

Godfather of the Democratic Party and Its Patron Saint in the Role of 'Dictator.'

Judge B. S. Baker addressed the members of the Young Men's Republican club of the Sixth ward last night at Midwell hall. There was a meeting of democrats advertised for the room in the second story, but for some reason or other it failed to materialize and W. O. Gilbert, who was to make a speech, took an early car down town.

At the republican meeting the hall was comfortably filled when the club was called to order by the president. Rousing tone was suspended and the speaker of the evening was introduced. The judge said that he would pass over the questions of silver and of tariff for the time being and take up the matter of imperialism as outlined in the democratic platform. On this subject he said in part:

When the platform was first promulgated I looked up the law conferring the alleged imperialistic powers. I must confess, I was impressed with the idea that their democratic character was the reason for their existence. Congress did confer upon the president of the United States full legislative and executive powers over the islands of the Pacific acquired from Spain and over their inhabitants. This law was in terms identical with the power conferred on Thomas Jefferson at the time of the Louisiana purchase, upon President Monroe at the time of the acquisition of Florida and, in fact, upon every president who was in office at the time new lands were annexed to the United States. The question of the constitution following the flag came up at the convention of the Florida. President Monroe, acting under the authority conferred upon him by congress, appointed Andrew Jackson governor of the territory. While in that capacity he had occasion to secure certain papers in the possession of the former Spanish governor. The Standard refused to produce them and Jackson looked him in jail and seized the papers required. A judge of the United States court sent into the territory and ordered the Standard's release. Andrew Jackson, acting as governor, ordered the Standard to be arrested, cited the judge to appear before him and the judge fled. The judge fled to the secretary of state, who referred the matter to the president, who decided that the Standard should be arrested and sent to Florida except where it was specifically exempted by action of congress. This shows that the action of the republican congress is imperialistic in the action of the democratic party. If the action of the republican party was wrong the action of the democratic party was equally wrong. The actions were necessary and temporary.

Bryan and Allen and Aguinaldo. Now, when the treaty with Spain was being considered, both Mr. Allen and Mr. Aguinaldo were both favored by the adoption. Mr. Allen voted for it as a lawyer and statesman both of the former and latter. Mr. Aguinaldo adopted the United States became responsible to the nations of the world for the actions of the republican party. If the action of the republican party was wrong the action of the democratic party was equally wrong. The actions were necessary and temporary.

Local Political Gossip. Senator Doolittle of Iowa passed through the city Tuesday to join the republican train at Ashland in order to participate in the Lincoln and Omaha demonstrations.

German-American citizens in the city are requested to meet at Germania hall at 6:30 p. m. tonight.

All old soldiers who favor the election of McKinley and Roosevelt are requested to meet at Germania hall at 6:30 p. m. tonight.

The Roosevelt train followed its time schedule through Nebraska with a promptness that has never been equaled in the special. Only half an hour was lost in two days and part of this deficiency was due to a heavy stretch of track and part to necessity of turning the train around at Wilbur.

Fisherick of Denver called at the state republican headquarters yesterday to renew the acquaintance of several former acquaintances in the office of the commissioner of public lands and buildings at Lincoln. When the republican in Denver was obliged to hide his colors under a bushel, Mr. Fisherick says, now he is able to show his face openly without reproach and even with commendation.

Mr. Marshall I. G. Bright of the Roosevelt parade went to Lincoln Tuesday to gather pointers for the reception on Thursday. He was met by the mayor and a large number of the citizens. He was accompanied by the mayor and a large number of the citizens. He was accompanied by the mayor and a large number of the citizens.

One of the campaign posters most in demand at the state republican headquarters is an illustration of the late Andrew Jackson, when he sought and secured re-election to the presidency. 'Imperialism' is alluded to in the old cartoon and Jackson is scoffed at as a 'king who, possessing the power of the state, made a worse use of it than the king of the Indies in the fashion of latter day imperialism.' 'Shall the people rule or shall King Andrew I have dominion over us?'

REPUBLICANS SURE OF NEW YORK. J. B. Cessna of Hastings Says Empire State is Safe.

After a month's study of conditions in New York J. B. Cessna, a prominent attorney of Hastings, Neb., called yesterday on the republican state committee. 'New York is going to be one of the big surprises of the campaign,' remarked Mr. Cessna. 'During my visit in the city I took pains to talk with policemen, all supposedly democrats, street gangs, elevator men and

HORRORS OF PEKIN'S SIEGE

Gertrude Wyckoff Writes of Experience of Missionaries During That Ordeal.

WERE EXPOSED TO CONSTANT DANGER

Chinese Troops Kept Up Steady Fire During and About the Siege. Night Hideouts with Yells.

Edward Wyckoff has received a letter from his sister Gertrude, a missionary to China, who was at the siege of Pekin. She writes a graphic description of the scenes incidental to that long ordeal and may be accepted as one of the most faithful histories on the subject yet published. The letter was commenced on August 2 and was continued from time to time until August 15, when it was closed. Following are some of the striking passages.

"PEKIN, China, Aug. 2.—If you ever receive this letter you may like to keep it not so much because it is on the date of your birthday, but because it begins the seventh week in our experience in the siege of Pekin. The Chinese are singing loud and long, and I am sitting in front of our dwelling place—the English chapel. All around is the hum of voices, and just beyond me a bulletin board, each and every one gazing to read the latest news. Who would have thought when, a few months ago, we were reading about Ladysmith and Mafeking being so sore pressed, that we here in China would soon be waiting for troops to come to our relief? I cannot begin to tell you all that we have passed through during these days and weeks.

"Perhaps our greatest danger has been from fire. While in the Methodist compound, nearly every day and night there were burning buildings seen in every direction, and I can only say that explosive being so sore pressed, that we here in China would soon be waiting for troops to come to our relief? I cannot begin to tell you all that we have passed through during these days and weeks.

GUESTS COME BY THOUSANDS

Many Visitors from Illinois Inspect the Prairies of Nebraska.

HOMESEEKERS SHOWN GLOWING PROSPECT

Two Mammoth Excursions Expected to Bring Permanent Settlers to the State—Trains Travel in Double Sections.

If the census of Nebraska had been taken yesterday it would have shown 3,000 more people in the state than there were Tuesday, that number having come in from Illinois on the special Illinois-Nebraska excursion run by the Burlington. But few of these excursionists stopped in Omaha, the most of them going to points in the interior of the state. By reason of the blanket rate put into effect by the Burlington, the round-trip fares between the remote points in Illinois and Nebraska, located on the lines of the Burlington, was the same as between the closest points, the rate in all cases being $12 for the round trip.

In order to accommodate the crowds extra equipment was added to all Burlington trains from the east and every train entering Nebraska was run in two sections. The faster trains which the Burlington runs west from Chicago crossed the Missouri river yesterday loaded as heavily as they have been in a long time. No. 1 went through Pacific Junction in two sections, with nineteen cars. No. 5, due in Omaha at 7:45, was delayed owing to the heavy business and came in with two sections, every available inch of space being occupied.

More Yet to Follow. "We are more than satisfied with the result of this somewhat dangerous venture," said General Passenger Agent Francis yesterday. "The crowds were fully up to our expectations and we anticipate that on the second and last of these excursions we will bring even more people into Nebraska than we have today. It is particularly gratifying to the officials of our road that this kind of an excursion has been so liberally patronized. It means a good financial return to our company and more important of all is the fact that the state will be profited, I believe, by reason of this visit from the people of Illinois."

"The state could not present a more inviting appearance than it does now. We have had a prosperous year and the opportunity presented on every hand for money-making in almost any line of business that might appeal to one is likely to attract some of these visitors into the state as permanent residents. It was primarily this purpose that prompted the Burlington to make such an excursion. The low fares and we will now await returns to see whether or not we were mistaken in our expectations."

AGREEMENT IS REACHED

Reported That Trans-Continental Passenger Association Has Been Formed at Chicago.

CHICAGO, Oct. 3.—General passenger agents on transmissory roads, it was said on high authority today, have succeeded in forming a trans-continental passenger association to control traffic on road running west of the Missouri, but including the Northern Pacific.

The agreement is said to have been accepted by all the roads save the Rio Grande & Western. None of the passenger agents attending the meeting, which has been on here for a week, would talk today. The agreement, however, was reported to have been reached. The Western Passenger association entered a denial when asked to confirm the report that the association had been practically formed.

The agreement under which the roads will act is reported to be almost identical with that governing the Western Passenger association and contains a severe penalty for failure to live up to the covenant. The meeting was still in session today, presumably for the purpose of electing officers and deciding details of the organization.

ARE AWAY BEHIND THE TIMES

European Fire Departments Are Not in Same Class with Those of America.

The Omaha Volunteer Firemen's association met last night in Chief Riddell's office. John Baumer, president of the association, presided over the meeting. After the initiation of new members, the transaction of routine business was completed. H. Koester, secretary of the association, who returned recently from a visit to Germany, England and France and was in Paris at the time of the international firemen's tournament, gave an informal talk on European fire departments.

There was an attempt on the part of the officers of the tournament to snub Chief Hale and his fire fighters, but the crowds went wild over the wonderful exhibitions of the Kansas City firemen. The pomper team was barred on the ground that the men were professionals, but the crowds deserted all other teams to watch Hale's team. The police neglected to keep the crowds away from the exhibitions and did not seem to care whether the crack company had a chance to do good work. In spite of all attempts to down him Chief Hale was the champion of the hour. After he left Paris he saw him and his men in London, where they were much admired. The work of the American firemen was a revelation to the Europeans and they declared that the men were circus performers and not regular firemen.

"All European departments are far behind the times. In Paris I saw a ladder company making a run and it had the appearance of an American company on its way back from a fire. The extension ladder used by the company was a crude affair on two wheels and was extended so far into the air that it would have been impossible to have hauled it through the meshes of wires which overhang our streets. In London artists of the description are stationed at street corners.

"Although the equipment of the European fire companies is poor the men are even worse. In the tournament the German, French and English firemen made records which will make you laugh in this country. Their exhibitions of life-saving were comical and it is difficult to imagine how people can be saved by such bungling methods."

Garland Stoves and Ranges were awarded highest prize at Paris Exposition, 1900.

"Apollo" Piano Attachment

This is the greatest, the latest and the best self-playing piano attachment now on the market. It is cheaper in price than any other. It is more compactly and therefore more strongly built. It is easier to play, as it requires less expenditure of physical force. The performer can transcribe the music to any key desired, a device that no other attachment possesses. Call at our piano salerooms and give it a thorough investigation.

COAL

Does not warm except through combustion. Pool does not nourish except through digestion. You may as well hug a coal pile to get warm as expect to get nourishment out of food which you cannot digest. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures diseases of the stomach and organs of digestion and nutrition. It enables the body to assimilate food and so put on sound flesh and develop strong muscle.

"The flesh I would like to give your 'Golden Medical Discovery' I cannot enter in words or with pen," writes James B. Ambrose, Esq., of 1205 N. Millin street, Huntington, Pa. "I was taken down with what our physicians said was indigestion. I doctored with the best around here and found no relief. I wrote you and sent you advised me to use Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. I took three bottles and you see that it stopped—being as I think, cured. I have no symptoms of gastro-intestinal indigestion now."

BUY AMERICAN MACHINERY

Russians Prefer to Purchase of the United States Rather Than from England.

Peter Jansen of Jansen, Neb., who was a national commissioner to the Paris exposition, returned from the French capital on the St. Louis September 8 and since then has been making a tour of the state to ascertain its political status. He stopped in Omaha Wednesday on his way to Idaho, where he will buy 20,000 head of sheep for the winter feeding.

"During the last two weeks I have circulated about a good deal among the countrymen in the southern part of the state," said he, "and can safely say that the alleged defection of the German-Russian vote from the republican party is a mistake. Eighty per cent of them will vote for McKinley. The cry of imperialism doesn't scare them in the least and they regard the setting up of such a bugaboo in America as ridiculous. As to militarism they know that the standing army of the United States isn't large enough to furnish thirteen soldiers to a county."

Americans took nearly 2,500 prizes of different kinds at the Paris exposition and we excelled there not only in agricultural implements, machinery, engines and the like, but took prizes in such branches as manufactured clothing, educational appliances, etc. Our manufacturers at there now taking orders for American made goods, all due to the advertising received during the exposition.

"I visited Russia and saw American machinery in use there. On the banks of the Ural river, near Orenburg, on the Asiatic boundary, I saw seventeen McCormick and Deering mowers, each drawn by a team of camels. On the Siberian railway I saw Baldwin locomotives and Westinghouse air brakes. Americans are well liked in Russia and are much more popular than Englishmen."

Cook's Imperial Extra Dry Champagne should be in every household. It is perfectly pure and naturally fermented.
