It is evident from Kearns' conversation that he did not tell all he knows in connection with the pardon. It is quite evident that the murder of the old man is not the only crime that concerns him That he committed other crimes for which he has never atoned or been apprehended is quite certain. Nevertheless, he dresses well, looks as trim as a successful stock broker and outside of his family, Chief Sherwood and Detective Foster nobody here in Ottawa knows any of his dark history. He weighs about 180 pounds and is a perfect picture of the ideal athlete.

Kearns incidentally spoke of affairs connected with the management of the penitentiary and said that officials and attaches smuggled in opium, whisky and morphine to certain inmates and sold it to them. It is a common thing, he said, to take money away from prisoners and

A Point in Dispute. OMAHA, Oct. 16.—To the Editor of The Bee: In your issue of the 8th inst. you quoted from a sermon by Rev. A. C. Hirst of Chicago, delivered in the First Methodist church of this city.

This was a very helpful sermon in its teaching that we should recognize the "spiritual presence of an all-powerful being in this age, which is fascinated with materialism and attempts to gild it with culture and substitute it for the religion of Jesus Christ."

Famous Tariff Bill Dies Suddenly.

He had been failing ever since his return from Arizona. His son, Dr. Arthur Wilson of Lynchburg, visited him in this age, which is fascinated with materialism and attempts to gild it with culture and substitute it for the religion of Jesus Christ."

Christian Scientists, however, regretted to read the following, which betrays that Rev. Mr. Hirst is not correctly informed upon the doctrine of their belief:

"Today we are confronted by the argument of materialists. Christian Scientists try to bury God in a sarcophagus of natural law and the sickly sentimentality of the church embrages this belief."

The writer believes that if the Christian character of Rev. Mr. Hirst or the religion of Jesus Christ, as he sees it, were misrepresented he would desire to make an explanation that the truth might be known. In her book, "Rudimental Divine Science," the discoverer and founder of Christian Science, Mary Baker G. Eddy, thus defines Christian Science: "The law of God, the law of good, interpreting and demonstrating the principle and rule of universal harmony." The law of God surely saves from sin and sickness, and Christian Scientists are not materialists.

Christian Science in the truth, as taught in Christian Scientists hold that God's laws are divinely natural and that healing the sick through the understanding of them should not be considered miraculous.

Many who believe in the truth, as taught in Christian Scientists bother denominations, and the term "sickly sentimentality." used by Rev. Mr. Hirst to explain the change of thought on their part, is unjust to the individuals concerned and to the practical teachings of Christian Science. Christian Scientists agree, in the main, with, the statement that "the human mind is unable to fully understand the gospel of Jesus Christ." We claim and demonstrate that the human mind can understand sufficiently this gospel to escape from the bondage of sin and sickness, but we daily watch that the human mind can understand sufficiently this gospel to escape from the bondage of sin and sickness, but we daily watch and pray that we may obey Paul's lajunction. "The republicans go on the belief that society is built on top. They say take care of the well-to-do and they will take care of the others, and when you tell them of the story of Lazarus and Dives, they say what a lucky man Lazarus was to have Dives near. The republicans in 1896 said the prosperity of the laboring man and the farmer depended on the pros perity of the banker and the business man. They got it just reversed. The prosperity of the business man depends on the prosperity of the farmer and the laboring man, for unless wealth is produced there is no wealth to exchange, and yet the republicans, if they built a house as they built society, would build the roof first and then hang the house to the roof. They go on the theory that the man who has a place to work ought to be under some obligation to his employer. No man employs another unless the man employed can make enough to pay his wages and a margin to the employer. And yet when election day comes the employer sometimes thinks that the man who works for him sells his citizenship when he sells his labor. And often the employer tries to coerce the laboring man. If it is right for an employer to
