David Higgins' great southern play, "At Piney Ridge," which is now in its fourth season of uninterrupted success, will be the attraction at the Dohany theater tonight. It is a drama of far more than ordinary power. Its story is strong in heart interest, and it is told with a simple, direct force that gives to it a convincing air of realism. There is a generous comedy vein and the play is beautifully mounted, an entirely different setting being provided for such of the four acts. tirely different acts.

Scarlet Fever Cases.

The health authorities are becoming some what alarmed over the number of cases of scarlet fever reported among children attending the public schools. The mother of one of the children reported sick with the fever Friday has complained that the child was exposed to the disease in the Washington Avenue school, and the authorities are now investigating. The Board of Health has received information that there are several cases of searlet fever which have never been reported, as the parents of the afflicted children object to having their houses quarantined. If such cases are found to exist quarantine will be promptly established and the persons responsible for the failure to report them will be called to task. The law requires that all cases of infectious disease must be reported to the Board of Health by the attending physician and that neglect to do so is punishable by a fine.

City Physician Jennings, who has given the matter his attention, is not inclined to believe that any of the cases reported within the last few days are caused by exposure at the Washington Avenue school, but has the matter still under investigation.

The cases reported show that the disease is not confined to any particular section of the city. The city marshal and his deputies have been instructed to see that the quarantine regulations are strictly enforced in every instance, as the authorities are determined to use every effort to prevent any epidemic of the scarlet fever as far as it lies in their power to do so.

Rule, assistant inspector general, had put Company L through a hard drill and inspection. Colonel Olmstead also complimented Captain Mat Tinley on the splendid manner in which he handled the company and the showing made by his men. This praise by the in-spector general is the more appreciated by the members of Company L. since during Colonel Olmstead's tour of inspection he has recommended that Companies H of Des Moines and G of Creston be mustered out of the service for inefficiency. The marking of Company L gave it 94.4 per Colonel Olmstead and Major Rule spent the entire day in the city, the morning and afternoon being spent in examining the equipment of the company belonging to the state and the armory. The equipment was found in the best of condition and Colonel Olmstead was pleased to find the boys had such a good armory, although he expressed the opinion that the hall was a little small for drill purposes.

The inspection of the company at night opened with guard mount, followed by drill and the manual exercise. At the close of the inspection Colonel Olmstead and Major Rule held a short school of instruction for the non-commissioned

In commenting on the drill put up by the company, Colonel Olmstead said: "The whole drill showed snap and precision, which shows that the men take an interest in the company and reflects great credit on Captain Tinley. No Report Yet.

Receivers Beresheim and Murphy have not yet filed their report of the condition of the Officer & Pusey bank, much to the disappointment of the firm's creditors. The doors of the bank were kept closed all day. It was intimated that the receivers desired to submit the report to Judge Macy of the district court before filing it, and for that reason, owing to the latter's absence from the city, are holding until he returns tomorrow afternoon.

Only a few claims against the bank were filed with the clerk of the district court the total amount aggregating about $1,100. Claims in about the same amount were filed against the Officer estate.

Men Acquire Knowledge of the of Explosive in Working on Chicago Canal and Go on Road as Safe Crackers.

DES MOINES, Oct. 20 .- (Special Telegram.)-The Bankers' Mutual Casualty company of this city has recently made an investigation of the causes of so many bank robberies in the last few months. At previous year. The results of the investigation by the Bankers' Casualty company here reveal some peculiar facts. Most of Mr. and Mrs. S. F. Wallace and daughter, Miss Jessica, of Biuff street are home from a three months visit with friends and relatives along the Pacific coast.

The assembly given last Thursday night at Odd Fellows' hall by the Elite Dancing club brought out a large crowd and a most enjoyable dance was the result.

Mrs. Kate Gray, who has been visiting and other towns of less size, are almost invariably found to have nitro-glycerine on their persons in considerable quantities. It has been found that most of these worked on the Chicago drainage canal, where large quantities of nitro-glycerine were used. Practically all of the employes became familiar with its use and since that work is completed many of them have taken to the road and used the knowledge they have acquired in cracking safes in small villages, where old-fashioned safes were used. Additional proof is established by the fact that of nineteen convictious for bank robbery secured by the Bankers' Casualty company seventeen have been ordinary bums.

In the case of the estate of Frank S Law against Frank Starzinger the supreme court affirmed the decision, dismissing the action, which was for $5,000 damages. It was alleged by A. F. Bissell, administrator of the estate, that Law drank himself to death. The action was brought on the theory that the liquor seller was responsible for the death. It was proved that death did not result from liquor, but the courts hold that Law must have consented to taking the liquor.

Art Garland

BASE BURNERS

Are just what you want to keep peace in the family. Do not annoy your wife by using inferior goods. We guarantee the nickel not to tarnish. It is the most economical, durable and finest in design. READ THIS TESTIMONIAL:

Used a 300 Art Garland for six years, heating four rooms, using but two tons of hard coal each winter. It is the most cheerful and economical and gives a more even heat than any other base burner I ever used. I cannot speak too highly of the Art Garland. J. N. COCHRAN. 325 North Seventh Street.
